1. The FAIS Act as a Regulatory Framework

1.1 The FAIS Act and Subordinate Legislation

1.1.1 Purpose

The FAIS Act (Financial Advisory and Intermediary Services Act) is described as a `market conduct regulation’. This means that it sets minimum standards around the manner in which authorised financial services providers are required to conduct their business Activities with clients. The FAIS Act has two very clear purposes:

- The professionalisation of the financial services sector; and
- The protection of consumers.

It regulates the business of all financial services providers who give advice or provide intermediary services to clients, in respect of a wide range of financial products. It became effective in 2002 with the main objective to protect consumers in relation to financial services specifically to the regulated products. The FAIS Act of 2002 was amended through the Financial Services Law General Amendment Act 45 of 2013.

1.1.2 The Purpose of the FAIS Act

The FAIS Act introduced market conduct legislation into South Africa.

It regulates the financial services market and became effective in 2002 with the main objective to protect consumers in relation to financial services with regard to the regulated products.

1.1.3 Overview of the FAIS Act

The FAIS Act regulates the business of all financial service providers and intermediaries who give advice or provide intermediary services to clients.

The Act aims to professionalise the financial services industry and to provide adequate consumer protection.

The FAIS Act follows a functional approach and not an institutional approach. This means that the Act regulates certain functions across institutions (insurance companies, brokerages and banks).

An institutional approach focuses on specific institutions, like the Banks Act for example, which regulates banks only. Therefore, the “function” of providing financial services, across the various institutions, is governed by the FAIS Act.
Other examples of legislation that are applied across the whole financial services industry are:

- The Financial Intelligence Centre Act, 38 of 2001;
- The Financial Intelligence Centre Amendment Act, 11 of 2008; and
- The Companies Act, 71 of 2008.

The commencement date of the FAIS Act is 15 November 2002, except for the following sections:

- Sections 20 to 31 became operational on 8 March 2003;
- Section 13(1) became operational on 30 September 2004; and
- Section 7 became effective on 30 September 2004.

1.1.4 The Role-players in the FAIS Act

The FAIS Act has a number of role-players.

- The FSCA (FSB) is an independent institution established by law to oversee the South African non-banking financial services industry in the public interest;
- Financial Services Providers (FSPs) are the financial institutions, insurance companies or other entities that need to be authorised or licensed by the FSCA (FSB) to provide financial services covered by the FAIS Act;
- Key individuals are employed by the FSPs and are responsible for the management and oversight of the FAIS-related business;
- Representatives are employed or mandated by FSPs to provide financial services to clients;
- Compliance officers are employed by or contracted by FSPs to assist in ensuring that the FSP complies with all the requirements of the Act; and
- The Ombud for Financial Services Providers (FAIS Ombud) resolves disputes between consumers (clients) and financial service providers and their representatives with regard to financial services.

1.1.7 Authorisation of Financial Services Providers

FAIS ACT Section 7

1. With effect from a date determined by the Minister by notice in the Gazette, a person may not act or offer to act as a
   a) financial services provider, unless such person has been issued with a license under Section 8; or
   b) a representative, unless such person has been appointed as a representative of an authorised financial services provider under Section 13.

2. Subject to Section 40, a transaction concluded on or after the date contemplated in Subsection (1) between a product supplier and any client by virtue of any financial service rendered to the client by a person not authorised as a financial services provider, or by any other person acting on behalf of such unauthorised person, is not unenforceable between the product supplier and the client merely by reason of such lack of authorisation.

3. An authorised financial services provider or representative may only conduct financial services related business with a person rendering financial services if that person has, where lawfully required, been issued with a license for the rendering of such financial services and the conditions and restrictions of that license authorises the rendering of those financial services, or is a representative as contemplated in this Act.

This means that an individual may ONLY act or offer to act as a financial services provider if they have been issued with a license under Section 8 of the Act or as a representative if they have been appointed as a representative of an authorised financial services provider under Section 13 of the Act.

If an unauthorised individual (FSP or representative) concludes a transaction between a product supplier and any client, the transaction is not unenforceable between the product supplier and the client simply because of the lack of authorisation.

An authorised FSP or representative can only conduct financial services related business with a person who has been issued with a license for the rendering of financial services limited to the conditions and restrictions of that specific license.

1.1.8 Duties of Authorised Financial Services Providers

FAIS ACT Section 17.1

- Any authorised financial services provider with more than one key individual or one or more representatives must, subject to Section 35(1) (c) and subsections (1) (b) and (2)(a)(i), appoint one or more compliance officers to oversee the financial services provider’s compliance function and to monitor compliance with this Act by the provider and such representative or representatives, particularly in accordance with the procedures contemplated in Subsection (3), and to take responsibility for liaison with the registrar.
• Such person must comply with the fit and proper requirements.

(bA) The provisions of Section 8A apply with the necessary changes to a compliance officer.

• The provisions of Section 19(4), (5) and (6), relating to an auditor of an authorised financial services provider, apply with the necessary changes to a compliance officer.

An authorised financial services provider who has more than one key individual or representative must appoint one or more compliance officers to:

• Oversee the compliance function
• Monitor compliance with this Act, particularly Subsection (3)
• Take responsibility for communicating with the registrar.
• The compliance officer must comply with the fit and proper requirements.

1.1.9 Maintenance of Records

An authorised FSP must maintain records for a minimum of five years (except to the extent exempted by the registrar) and these include: 4

• Premature cancellations of transactions or financial products by clients;
• Complaints received indicating whether the complaint was resolved;
• The continued compliance with the requirements;
• Cases of non-compliance with this Act, with the reasons for such non-compliance; and
• The continued compliance by representatives.

The key individual must ensure that the FSP has procedures that, if the provider does any financial services-related business with any other FSP, that such other provider is properly authorised.

Any contravention of or failure to comply with Section 7(3) of the FAIS Act, is an offence and subject to penalties. 1.4 Departments of the Registrar’s Office Dealing with FSP Matters

1.4.1 FAIS Division of the FSCA (FSB) - Departments

During the course of the lifespan of an FSP license, communication with various divisions of the FAIS Regulator and the FSP will occur. This chapter gives you an understanding of the various FAIS departments and their responsibilities. It also explains the impact and effect of an “undesirable business practice”. You need to understand your responsibilities as a key individual with regard to these requirements.

Licensing requirements are reflected in both the FSR Act and the FAIS Act. It is important to understand the distinction between these two pieces of statute. The FSR Act provides the broad principles of licensing requirements that financial services providers will need to adhere to in the context of the market in which they operate and the product and services that they provide.

Therefore, the FSR Act will provide the general principles of licensing. Each financial services sector will provide the specifics of licensing. For example, in the case of financial services providers selling Category I products the specific licensing conditions will be set by the FAIS Act and the FSCA (FSB). In the context of the medical schemes Act for those financial services providers selling health service benefits.

1.7 Processes to Remain Updated with regards to Requirements Affecting the FSP

1.7.1 Awareness of the Regulatory Environment

The FAIS Act is functional and exists together with other legislation in relation to its purpose.

Financial services are impacted by many laws relating to financial products, security-related legislation, insurance-specific legislation as well as consumer protection legislation, to name a few. Business needs to constantly align its practices and compliance with applicable legislation.

The key individual must ensure that there are procedures and systems in place to identify and flag changes in legislation.
An example of such a process is subscription to a service provider that specialises in updating business with changes, alerts and updates. Industry associations offer valuable platforms for sharing and gaining information and knowledge. It is also important to take note of any changes and information emanating from the FSCA (FSB) and other regulators.

Once identified, the required action must be taken to ensure compliance. It is also important that the key individual stays up to date with changes and updates in the FAIS legislation, including the subordinate legislation.

1.7.2 Reporting Obligations

Key reporting obligations include:

- Profile changes;
- Debarment;
- Compliance reports; and
- Financial statements.

The key individual must ensure that there are adequate processes across the business to ensure that the information needed in these reports can be captured and submitted to the FAIS departments and the Registrar.

Section 12 of the General Code of clearly states that all financial and other information used or provided by the provider must be reliable and that all applicable laws must be complied with.

1.8 Compliance Officers and Compliance Arrangements – Sections 17(2) + 17(4)

(a) (i) A compliance officer must be approved by the registrar in accordance with the criteria and guidelines determined by the registrar.

(ii) The registrar may amend such criteria and guidelines, and an approved compliance officer must comply with the amended criteria and guidelines within such period as may be determined by the registrar.

(b) The registrar may at any time withdraw the approval if satisfied on the basis of available facts and information that the compliance officer -

(i) has contravened or failed to comply with any provision of this Act;

(ii) does not meet or no longer meets the fit and proper requirements; or

(iii) does not comply or no longer complies with the criteria and guidelines contemplated in paragraph (a).

(c) The provisions of Section 9(2) and (6) regarding a decision to withdraw an authorisation (excluding such provisions relating to periods and terms) apply with the necessary changes to a withdrawal of an approval contemplated in paragraph (b).

(d) The registrar may make known any withdrawal of approval under this Subsection and the reasons therefor by notice on the official web site or by means of any other appropriate public media.

(a) A compliance officer or, in the absence of such officer, the authorised financial services provider concerned, must submit reports to the registrar in the manner and regarding the matters, as from time to time determined by the registrar by notice on the official web site for different categories of compliance officers.

(b) An authorised financial services provider must ensure that the reports referred to in paragraph (a) are submitted in accordance with the provisions of that paragraph.

The registrar is responsible for approving a compliance officer. This approval is based on set criteria and guidelines determined by the registrar and the registrar has the power to amend the criteria and guidelines. In this instance the compliance office is required to comply with the amended criteria and guidelines.

Based on facts and information made available to the registrar, she may also withdraw approval if she is satisfied that the compliance officer has contravened the Act, does not meet the fit and proper requirements or does not comply with the set criteria and guidelines.

The registrar may post a withdrawal of approval on the official website or in any other approved public media.

The registrar may ask for specific reports by posting a notice on the official website. A compliance officer (or authorised FSP) is required to submit these reports to the registrar in the required manner and timeframes. It is the responsibility of the authorised FSP to ensure that this is done.

1.9 Describe the Compliance Arrangements required by the FSP

1.9.1 The Compliance Function

An FSP must ensure that a compliance function exists or is established as part of the risk management framework of the business. This function must be overseen by an approved compliance officer as required by the Act, or managed and controlled by the FSP alone (where the FSP has one key individual and no representative).

Compliance officers are responsible for the compliance functions in relation to the particular categories and subcategories in terms of the FSP license, for which they are approved by the Registrar.

The FSP/key individual is responsible for ensuring that the appointed FAIS compliance officer has adequate resources available to meet all the compliance requirements of the FAIS Act.

7 Section 5(1) of FAIS Regulations
The legislation also requires that the “compliance function must be exercised with such diligence care and degree of competency as may reasonably be expected from a person responsible for such function”.

The General Code requires specific control measures, which we discussed under "Risk Management". The internal control procedures include the establishment of a compliance function as part of the risk management framework of the business.

The compliance officer must provide the FSP with written reports on the compliance-monitoring duties and must also make recommendations to the FSP as and when required in relation to the compliance or monitoring functions.

It is possible for the FSP to outsource the compliance function; in other words, the FSP does not have to appoint a full-time employee to act as compliance officer. Care must be taken to ensure that the outsourced compliance practice has adequate staff, resources, skills, etc. and that the approval requirements are met.

Remember the establishment of the compliance function is the responsibility of the FSP/key individual and it includes the appointment of a compliance practice.

1.9.2 The Duties of a Compliance Officer

The Compliance Officer must:

- oversee the provider’s compliance function and monitor compliance with the Act;
- and take responsibility for liaison with the Registrar;
- supervise the compliance function;
- make recommendations to the provider as regards any aspect of the required compliance or monitoring functions (Regulations Ch IV paragraph 5);
- submit reports to the Registrar in the manner and regarding matters, as from time to time determined by the Registrar by notice on the official website.

The authorised financial services provider must ensure that the reports referred to are submitted in accordance with the provisions of Act.

8 Part IV, Section 5(2) of the FAIS Regulations 2003, GG 25092
9 Section 17(1)(a) of the FAIS Act
10 Section 17(1)(a) of the FAIS Act (Regulations Ch IV paragraph 5)
11 IBID
12 Section 17(4) of the FAIS Act
13 BN 127 OF 2010
One of the main functions of a compliance officer is to monitor compliance by all the role-players, with the FAIS Act. What does "monitor" mean? In compliance terms, monitoring is to:

- identify and improve weak/vulnerable areas in business.
- ensure that the compliance controls in business are effective and implemented.
- constantly test/review the integrity of the compliance controls.

As discussed above, an internal compliance officer approved by the Registrar may not delegate the compliance monitoring function, unless certain prescribed conditions are met. 14

The monitoring duties of the compliance officer must be performed within the scope and application of the product categories and subcategories for which the FSP is licensed.

The Act also requires compliance officers to "oversee"

In essence this means that the FSP is responsible for the establishment of the compliance function, including all the control requirements and the compliance officer is responsible for all the related compliance functions. The compliance officer must in effect only ensure that the requirements of the Act are met

- through the procedures, which the FSP (key individual) must establish, hence the requirement for the compliance officer to "oversee".
- There must be adequate measures in place to ensure that non-compliance issues identified by the compliance officer are rectified.

Written Reports to FSP

The compliance officer also has to submit written reports to the FSP on compliance issues relating to the business and make recommendations as required. This should enable both FSP (key individual) and compliance officer to assess compliance with the FAIS Act and to identify and implement remedial steps where required.

Annual report to Registrar

The compliance officer’s report of the FSP must also include reporting any irregularity or suspected irregularity in the conduct of the FSP business of which the compliance officer is aware and that the compliance officer regards as material, to the Registrar. This must also be done if the services of the compliance officer have been terminated by the FSP. 15 It is important to note that the compliance officer must notify the registrar of their own termination of services as a compliance officer.

The reporting duties of a compliance officer in terms of the FAIS Act go wider than just compliance with the FAIS Act and include reporting on the FICA as well.

In addition to these "formal" reports, compliance officers must at any time report any material breach by the FSP to the FAIS Registrar.

14 Section 17(3) of the FAIS Act
15 Section 17(3) read with S19(4) of the Act.

(bA) The provisions of Section 8A apply with the necessary changes to a compliance officer;

(c) The provisions of Section 19(4), (5) and (6), relating to an auditor of an authorised financial services provider, apply with the necessary changes to a compliance officer.

(2) (a) (i) A compliance officer must be approved by the registrar in accordance with the criteria and guidelines determined by the registrar.;

   (i) The registrar may amend such criteria and guidelines, and an approved compliance officer must comply with the amended criteria and guidelines within such period as may be determined by the registrar;

   (ii) does not comply or no longer complies with the criteria and guidelines contemplated in paragraph (a).

   (b) The registrar may at any time withdraw the approval if satisfied on the basis of available facts and information that the compliance officer –

   (i) has contravened or failed to comply with any provision of this Act;

   (ii) does not meet or no longer meets the fit and proper requirements; or

   (iii) does not comply or no longer complies with the criteria and guidelines contemplated in paragraph (a).

(3) An authorised financial services provider must establish and maintain procedures to be followed by the provider and any representative concerned, in order to ensure compliance with this Act.
1.10 Compliance Function

1.10.1 Approval of Compliance Officers

One of the role-players in the FAIS Act is the compliance officer. An FSP must appoint a compliance officer to fulfil the functions required by the FAIS Act.16

Key individuals must oversee and manage the compliance functions although the compliance officer must be objective and must act independently from the management of an FSP.

The FAIS Act 17 requires the following in respect of compliance officers and compliance arrangements:

- An FSP with more than one key individual or one or more representatives must appoint a compliance officer to oversee and monitor compliance with the Act (subject to any FAIS Regulations): 18
- Compliance officers must be approved by the Registrar; 19
- The FSP must establish and maintain procedures for compliance with the Act; and 20
- Compliance officers or FSPs must take responsibility for liaison and submit compliance reports to the Registrar. 21

As with key individuals, the FSP appoints compliance officers and the Registrar approves the appointments. One of the functions of the key individual is to ensure that a compliance officer is approved by the Registrar in terms of the specific FSP license/s.

The compliance officer must comply with fit and proper requirements for appointment and continue to comply with the relevant requirements after approval.

A compliance officer must be approved by the Registrar in accordance with the criteria and guidelines determined by the Registrar. The Registrar may however amend such criteria and guidelines, and an approved compliance officer must comply with the amended criteria and guidelines within such period as may be determined by the Registrar.

1.10.2 Requirements for the Approval of Compliance Officers

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:
• 127 of 2010 – Sections 4(a) & 4(4)

One of the functions of the key individual is to ensure that a compliance officer is approved by the Registrar in terms of the specific FSP license/s.

On 9 September 2010, the FSCA (FSB) published various amendments to regulations pertaining to compliance officers.

Some of the material changes relate to the approval of compliance officers.

Compliance officers are now approved in two phases.

Board Notice 127 of 2010 sets out the qualifications, experience and criteria for approval of compliance officers.

• “Phase I approval” pertains to approval by the Registrar of an applicant’s qualifications, experience and personal character qualities of honesty, integrity and good standing;
• “Phase II approval” pertains to the approval granted by the Registrar to an applicant to render compliance services to a specific FSP.

Important definitions in Board Notice 127:

“applicant” means the natural person applying to the Registrar for approval as a compliance officer, including the natural person appointed by the compliance practice to render compliance services in respect of a particular provider.

“compliance officer” means –
• a natural person appointed to render compliance services, including a natural person appointed by a compliance practice; or
• a compliance practice appointed to render compliance services, and approved, on application, by the Registrar for such purpose.

“compliance practice” means a company, close corporation or partnership that appoints one or more natural persons to render compliance services in respect of a particular provider and such natural persons are approved by the Registrar for that purpose as compliance officers.

“compliance services” means the performance by a compliance officer of functions contemplated in Section 17 of the Act;

“external compliance officer” means a compliance officer other than an internal compliance officer and includes a compliance practice.

“generic recognised compliance qualification” means a qualification recognised by the Registrar that addresses knowledge, skills and competence that are broadly applicable to the rendering of compliance services;

“internal compliance officer” means a compliance officer that is a natural person in the permanent employ of a financial services provider and that renders compliance services in respect of that particular provider or another financial services provider that is a subsidiary holding company or subsidiary of the holding company of the first-mentioned provider.

1.10.3 The Application Process

In line with BN127 of 2010 (approval process for compliance officers), no person may render compliance services without having obtained Phase I and Phase II approval (except persons to whom an internal compliance officer has delegated. See discussion on delegation below).

1.10.3.1 Phase I Approval

An Applicant must:

- have a qualification on the list of recognised compliance qualifications.
- have passed the regulatory examination;
- have at least three years’ experience in performing a compliance or risk management function;
- meet the requirement in respect of honesty, integrity and good standing;
- have at least one year’s experience in performing a compliance or risk management function in respect of the specific category of providers the applicant wants to render services to;
- not be an unrehabilitated insolvent;
- have adequate communication facilities.

Additional requirements for Phase I approval for External Compliance Officers:

- Fixed business address;
- Operational ability.

1.10.3.2 Phase II Approval

For this phase, the Applicant must:

- have Phase I approval;
- have adequate resources to ensure efficient rendering of compliance services;
- have direct access to and demonstrable support from senior management of the FSP;
- have the ability to render services independently and objectively;
- have the ability to avoid conflict of interest;
• have the ability to keep records and assist provider in compiling compliance risk management strategy;
• be able to liaise directly with Registrar;
• have the ability to conduct regular reviews.

The following additional requirements must be met in order for Phase II approval to be obtained. You will note that these requirements relate to the ability of the compliance officer/compliance practice to conduct site visits and differ for external and internal compliance officers.

External Compliance Officer:
• Where the compliance service will be rendered in respect of Category I and IV FSPs, the applicant must show the ability to conduct regular visits as follows: not less than quarterly visits to the business premises, units or branches of the FSP. In respect of visits to representatives of FSP, not less than twice a year;
• Where the compliance service will be rendered in respect of Category II, IIA and/or III FSPs the applicant must have the ability to conduct monthly visits to business premises, business units and branches of FSP and any representatives.

Internal Compliance Officer:
• Where the compliance service will be rendered in respect of Category I and IV FSPs, the applicant must have the ability to conduct annual visits to business premises, units and branches of FSP and any representatives;
• Where the compliance service will be rendered in respect of Category II, IIA and/or III FSPs the applicant must have the ability to conduct quarterly visits to business premises, units and branches of the FSP and any representatives.

1.10.4 Delegation of the Rendering of a Compliance Service

No person or compliance practice may render compliance services without having obtained Phase I and II approval. This is subject to one exception: an internal compliance officer may delegate the rendering of compliance services but only on the following conditions:
• such other person must be a natural person in the employ of the FSP; AND
• must comply with the Phase I requirements unless the person will do compliance monitoring in terms of documented procedure and will exercise no judgement; OR
• be an approved compliance practice.

The internal compliance officer must still oversee such person and remains accountable for the service rendered. The internal compliance officer must also maintain a register of the names of persons to whom the rendering of the compliance service has been delegated.

As with representatives and key individuals, there are transitional arrangements that apply to compliance officers already approved prior to the implementation of the new amendments. In this regard, existing compliance officers do NOT have to meet the qualification requirement and will have to complete the Regulatory Exam within three years of publication of the Board Notice.

1.10.5 Rendering of Compliance Services under Supervision

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:
- 126 of 2010

BN 126 of 2010, also published in September 2010, has introduced the option for compliance services to be rendered under supervision. The requirement is, though, that the supervisee must already have the relevant qualification, but the experience and Regulatory Exam requirements may be gained under supervision.

The supervisor must be an approved compliance officer and Board Notice 126 also makes provision for direct and ongoing supervision. The timeframes are the same as those applicable to representatives, and are as follows:

- "direct supervision" occurs on a daily to weekly basis;
- "ongoing supervision" occurs on a fortnightly to monthly basis.

A compliance officer or practice that allows for services to be rendered under supervision must have the operational ability to monitor such services and meet the requirements in respect of the supervisor as above. The supervisor must ensure that the supervisee is monitored on both a direct and ongoing basis.

Supervision Period

A person cannot render compliance services under supervision for more than three years from the date that the person is approved as a supervisee.

Supervision in respect of different categories on FSPs

Categories I and IV FSPs:
- The supervisee may not conduct unaccompanied monitoring during the first year under supervision.
- During the second and third year, the supervisee may not sign off compliance reports and may not complete the annual compliance report on behalf of an FSP.

Categories II, IIA and III FSPs:
- The supervisee may not conduct unaccompanied monitoring during the first two years under supervision.
- During the third year the supervisee may not sign off compliance reports and may not complete the annual compliance report on behalf of an FSP.
1.11 Ensure that the Compliance Officer is approved by the Registrar

Compliance officers must be approved by the Registrar and it is the responsibility of the key individual to ensure that the Compliance Officer is approved by the Registrar in terms of the specific FSP license/s.

1.12 Compliance Function/Compliance Practice Resources

External Compliance Officer:

- Where the compliance service will be rendered in respect of Category I and IV FSPs, the applicant must show the ability to conduct regular visits as follows: not less than quarterly visits to the business premises, units or branches of the FSP. In respect of visits to representatives of FSP, not less than twice a year;

- Where the compliance service will be rendered in respect of Category II, IIA and/or III FSPs the applicant must have the ability to conduct monthly visits to business premises, business units and branches of FSP and any representatives.

1.13 Compliance Officer avoiding Conflicts of Interest

1.13.1 Avoid Conflict of Interest

One of the Phase I requirements for approval of a compliance officer by the Registrar, is the avoidance of conflict of interest between the duties of compliance officer with the duties of other employees, internal audit and control and functions of representatives.

Why is this required?

The functions and role of a compliance officer require that such person must be able to monitor, supervise and report on the functions of the FSP and representatives. If there are conflicts of interests across the functions, the Compliance Officer will not be able to perform the function objectively, nor to identify and report on instances of non-compliance or irregularities.

Another requirement is that the compliance officer must have direct access to senior management and must have the "demonstrable" support of senior management.

The functions of internal audit and compliance should also be separated as the scope of the functions is quite different.

Internal auditors do not „monitor“ or „supervise“ FAIS-related functions; compliance officers do that.

Internal auditors normally audit compliance findings and related processes and report accordingly. If the two (2) functions are conflicted or the lines are blurred, then neither of the functions will be able to operate independently and objectively.

The primary goal of internal audit is to evaluate the company’s risk management, internal control and corporate governance processes and ensure that they are adequate and are functioning correctly.
The internal audit function is normally responsible to and report to the Board of Directors.

Key individuals are responsible for ensuring that there is no conflict of interest between the role and functions of compliance officers and other employees.

1.14 Sign off of Compliance Reports

The FSP is responsible to sign off the compliance report, which has to be submitted to the Registrar on an annual basis. There are different compliance reports for the different license categories and the reports also differ between FSPs with and those without compliance officers.

Compliance report for Category I Provider, with a Compliance Officer

Key individuals must be familiar with the content of the report so that they will have an understanding of what they sign off.

In this section we discuss the above compliance report, which is in the format of questions to be answered, so that a key individual can have a high level overview of the content and requirements.

Some of the information required in the report is acquired through monitoring for the period under review. The monitoring should be done by the compliance officer/compliance function and reliance should not be placed on other monitoring conducted by other areas, such as internal audit or other risk management functions.

22 Act 131 of 1998
23 Financial Intelligence Centre Act No 38 of 200
Compliance report for Category I Provider, without a Compliance Officer

The compliance report is very similar to the one to be completed by an FSP with a compliance officer but the submission date is different. The main differences are as follows:

- The report requires information about the group structure of the FSP as well as any SLAs with other FSPs;
- The report requires information about the staff complement of the FSP and, in particular, the names and roles of staff who assist the FSP in providing financial service.

1.15 Replacing the Compliance Officer if he/she does not have the required Approval of the Registrar

1.15.1 Withdrawal of a Compliance Officer’s Approval

Regulations pertaining to withdrawal of the Approval of a compliance officer are addressed both in Section 17 of the Act as well as in Board Notice 127 of 2010.

Section 17 of the Act provides that the Registrar may at any time withdraw the approval if satisfied that the compliance officer:

- has contravened or failed to comply with any provision of this Act;
- does not meet or no longer meets the fit and proper requirements; or
- no longer complies with the criteria and guidelines.

The Registrar may publish the withdrawal of approval and the reasons therefore by notice on the official website or by means of any other appropriate public media.

Key individuals must ensure that there are adequate provisions in the appointment or other contractual arrangements with compliance officers to state that approval by the FAIS Registrar is a prerequisite for employment as the FAIS compliance officer within the business.

2. Contribute Towards Maintaining an FSCA (FSB) License

2.1 Requirements for Licensing of the FSP

2.1.1 Licensing Conditions and Restrictions

2.1.1.1 The Impact of Licensing Conditions on an FSP

An FSP FAIS license carries conditions.

There are standard conditions and there are conditions specifically applicable to the FSP license. Specific conditions include reference to the categories for which the FSP is authorised, as well as any other applicable conditions about the fit and proper status of the key individuals who need to obtain certain qualifications within a certain period of time from the date of licensing the FSP. The licensing conditions may also include exemptions applicable to the FSP.

FSPs must adhere to the conditions and must also ensure that there are adequate systems and processes in the business to ensure compliance with the conditions. Where representatives (and key individuals) work across various (sub) products and license categories, there must be internal controls to ensure that the financial service (or management and oversight) they provide correspond with the specific license conditions and restrictions.

An FSP may request additional product categories to be added to its license and it may also have more than one license because the structure of the business may be such that products are grouped together, which makes it logical to have a specific license for that part of the business. The FAIS Act requires that a certified copy of the FSP license must be displayed in a prominent and durable manner within every business premises of the FSP.

In practice one may find that product suppliers may act as FSPs. These product suppliers may be exempt by the Registrar from having to submit all the information required for authorisation in terms of FAIS. Authorisation will be granted in addition to, but separate from, the product supplier's authorisation to act as a financial institution.

2.2 Apply for an FSP license

Before a juristic entity can provide financial services, it has to be authorised as an FSP. No person may perform any act which indicates that the person renders or is authorised to render financial services or is appointed as a representative to render financial services, unless the person is so authorised or appointed.

Section 8 of the FAIS Act prescribes what has to be done in order to compile and submit an application, as well as the steps to be taken when an application is considered. By going through this part of the chapter, you will get an understanding of the processes involved.

Section 13 of the FAIS Act looks at the duties of the FSP in relation to its representatives. You will gain an understanding of some of the responsibilities of FSPs, which include the maintenance of the representative register.
2.2.1 Introduction to Sections 8 And 13 of the FAIS Act

2.2.1.1 Section 8 of the FAIS Act

Section 8 of the FAIS Act stipulates the requirements relating to an application to become an FSP. It prescribes the process and procedures as well as the steps to take if an application is turned down by the Registrar.

Section 8A makes it clear that an authorised financial services provider, key individual, representative of the provider and key individual of the representative must continue to comply with the fit and proper requirements.

2.2.1.2 Section 13 of the FAIS Act

Section 13 of the FAIS Act stipulates the requirements for representatives to act for and on behalf of FSPs. It also prescribes the format and input required in respect of the representative register.

2.2.2 Section 8

2.2.2.1 The Application Process

</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Submit application</td>
<td>The applicant lodges an application with the Registrar to become an authorised financial services provider. The relevant forms must be completed and submitted. The required supporting documents must be submitted.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| 2. Registrar considers application | The Registrar will consider the application and may require additional information.
The Registrar may consider additional information regarding the applicant or proposed key individual of the applicant obtained from external sources, including the Ombud or any other regulatory or supervisory authority, provided the applicant was given opportunity to comment on the information. |
| 3. Registrar grants application | Once the Registrar has all the required information, a decision is made to either grant the application or refuse it. The Registrar must grant the license if the Registrar is satisfied that the applicant and its key individual(s) comply with the requirements of the Act, and if the Registrar approve the key individuals. |
| 3A. Registrar imposes conditions on license | The Registrar may impose conditions and/or restrictions on the FSP license with regard to:
all facts and information available to the Registrar pertaining to the applicant and any key individual of the applicant.
the category of financial services which the applicant could appropriately render or wishes to render.
the category of financial services providers in which the applicant will be classified for the purposes of the FAIS Act.
the category or subcategory of financial products in respect of which the applicant could appropriately render or wishes to render financial services.
If after date of granting the license:
a key individual is replaced by a new key individual or a new key individual is appointed or takes up office there is a change in the personal circumstances of a key individual which affects his fitness and propriety negatively he is prohibited from managing and overseeing the licensee’s business in relation to the rendering of financial services, unless the Registrar has approved an application by the key individual and published it by notice. |
Display license

An FSP must display certified copies of the license in a prominent and durable manner in every business premises and must ensure that all business documentation, advertisements and other promotional material refers to the license and that the license is at all times immediately or within a reasonable time available to any person who has a legal right to request it or who wants to enter into a business relationship with the FSP.

Section 8(9) now also contains prohibitions to prohibit persons from making use of their licenses where they no longer have such authorisations or from publishing documentation that is misleading or contrary to the public interest of contains an incorrect statement of fact.

3B. Registrar considers application

The Registrar may withdraw a license on application by licensee or own initiative. The Registrar may also withdraw or amend conditions and the licensee may respond. The Registrar may, pursuant to an evaluation of a new key individual, impose new conditions (with reasons), after giving the licensee time to respond. Amended licenses must be issued in accordance with the actions of the Registrar.

4. Registrar issues license

If the Registrar approves the application, a license is issued to the applicant. Certain requirements apply to persons who are accredited under the Medical Schemes Act. These are described in Section 8(7) – it means that they must apply for a FAIS license as well and the same fit and proper requirements apply. If the FAIS license is refused, suspended or withdrawn, the accreditation in terms of the Medical Schemes Act will be deemed to have lapsed, suspended or been withdrawn and if the accreditation in terms of the Medical Schemes Act is withdrawn, the FAIS license will be considered suspended or withdrawn.

5. Registrar refuses application

In the event that the application is refused, the Registrar must advise the applicant and provide reasons for the refusal.

Once issued with a license, the FSP must at all times be satisfied that every director, member, trustee or partner of the FSP, who is not a key individual in the provider’s business, complies with the requirements in respect of personal character qualities of honesty, integrity and good standing.

Where a new director, member, trustee or partner is appointed, the FSP must within 15 days of the appointment inform the Registrar of the appointment and furnish the Registrar with such information necessary.

24 Medical Schemes Act, 1998 (Act No. 131 of 1998)
25 Section 8(7)(d)(iv) of the Act on the matter as the Registrar may reasonably require. If the Registrar is satisfied that a director, member, trustee or partner does not comply, the Registrar may suspend or withdraw the license of the FSP.

2.2.3 Section 13

As mentioned above, Section 13 of the FAIS Act imposes certain duties and responsibilities on FSPs (and by implication on key individuals).

The FSP must at all times:
- ensure that representatives and key individuals of representatives are competent and fit and proper to provide financial services;

</tbody>
</table>

The Registrar may require information from FSPs to enable the Registrar to maintain and continuously update a central register of all representatives and key individuals.

2.3 Requirements for Changing an Aspect of an FSP License

In terms of Condition 1 of the licensing conditions imposed on FSPs, an FSP is required to inform the Registrar within 15 days of any change to its licensing conditions. F. Directors, members, trustees and partners must complete the indemnity form in Section G.
2.4.1.3 Form 4 – Key individuals / Sole Proprietor

Instructions - This form must be completed by an applicant that is a sole proprietor and any key individual of an applicant.

A sole proprietor means an FSP that is a natural person. The expression ‘key individual’ is defined in Section 1(1) of the Act as follows:

‘Key individual’, in relation to an authorised financial services provider, or a representative, carrying on business as –

- a corporate or unincorporated body, a trust or a partnership, means any natural person responsible for managing or overseeing, either alone or together with other so responsible persons, the activities of the body, trust or partnership relating to the rendering of any financial service; or
- a corporate body or trust consisting of only one natural person as a member, director, shareholder or trustee, means any such natural person.

If an applicant intends to render various financial services, the key individual (see also guidance note for further explanation) or individuals responsible for managing or overseeing the various financial services must be listed.

The key individual is responsible for managing or overseeing the activities of the FSP and such individual must comply with the requirements in the Determination of Fit and Proper Requirements for Financial Services Providers, 2008.

GUIDANCE NOTE:

Subparagraph (b) of the definition requires little or no explanation, in that it deals with entities (persons), which are managed, owned or governed by one natural person only. In this scenario it is clear that this natural person is the key individual as defined.

Subparagraph (a) of the definition will be broken down into the two functions mentioned in this subparagraph, that are the function of managing and the function of overseeing.

Reference is made to the Concise Oxford Dictionary for definitions of the terminology. Managing is defined as ‘having executive control or authority (Managing Director.’. Overseeing or oversee is defined as ‘officially supervise (workers, work, etc.)’.

It is therefore clear from these definitions that a key individual mentioned in subparagraph (a) would include persons in executive control such as directors and other persons performing a managerial function over activities relating to the rendering of a financial service.

In a life insurance company, for example, key individuals may therefore include, directors, provincial managers, and depending on the structure of a particular entity, any other individual whom in the opinion of the controlling body is also engaged in overseeing the activities of a representative, in rendering a financial service regulated by the Act. However, it is not the intention to include every person in a supervisory capacity, or indeed, every director.
2.4.1.4 Form 5 - Representatives

Personal information of representative including details of natural and legal person and subcategories appointed to render.

2.5 Manage the licensing conditions

a. Condition 1 – Reporting Changes

If there are certain changes, the FSP must have procedures in place to ensure that the Registrar can be advised (of the change) within 15 days of (after) the change. There are designated forms to be used for this purpose and different fees are payable.

The changes that the registrar must be informed of include the following:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Any change in the name of the business</th>
<th>Any change in the trading name or any division of the business</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Any change in the type of business (conversion to a close corporation, partnership, etc.)</td>
<td>Any change in the business contact details (address, telephone, fax and email)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Any change in the contact person (address, telephone, fax and email)</td>
<td>Any change in the financial year-end</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>Any change of compliance officer</td>

</tbody>

b. Condition 2 – Reporting Changes Relating to Key Individuals

This condition requires that there must be a key individual appointed in terms of a license at all times and that the key individual's details and changes in personal circumstances of key individuals that may render such person to be no longer compliant with the fit and proper requirements of key individuals.

In the example of licensing conditions, we see that Condition 2 stipulates that the FSP must inform the Registrar if and when there are changes to the approved key individual position(s). This means that when a key individual leaves the employment of the FSP, the necessary profile change must be done WITHIN 15 DAYS of the change.

In addition, Section 8(4)(b) of the FAIS Act requires that when a key individual leaves the employ, or is replaced, or there are changes in the person's personal circumstances of a key individual which makes him no longer compliant with fit and proper, the key individual must not be allowed to take part in the conduct or requirements management or oversight of the licensee's business in relation to the rendering of financial services.

Pursuant to an evaluation of a new key individual, or a change in the personal circumstances of a key individual, referred to in Subsection 8(4)(b), impose new conditions on the licensee after having given the licensee a reasonable opportunity to be heard and having furnished the licensee with reasons.

c. Condition 3 - Submit Representative Register

A newly authorised FSP must submit the representative register within 15 days of authorisation. Thereafter updates to the register must be sent to the Registrar within 15 days.

d. Condition 4 – Change of Business Name

If there is a change in the name of the business, the requirements of Condition 4 (above) must be met, which are the following:

- Ensure that the name change is not in conflict with any other law and complies with other applicable laws (such as the Companies Act or the Banks Act in relation to banks); and
- Disclose compliance with other applicable laws to the Registrar.

If the Registrar is satisfied that the change of name is lawful and has approved the change of name, the Registrar will issue an amended license.

Only when the amended license is issued, may the FSP continue/start with providing financial service under that name.

e. Condition 5 – Only deal with authorised FSPs

This condition requires that the FSP must have internal controls and procedures in place to ensure that any financial product regarding which the FSP wants to render a financial service, qualifies as a financial product as required by the Act and is lawfully issued by the relevant product supplier.

Only financial products of product suppliers whose products are authorised by an authority or by approval or rights granted under an appropriate law (for instance the Insurance Acts) may be sold by FSPs.

2.10 Internal Controls and Measures

The following section covers internal controls and measures to render financial services within the limitations on categories and subcategories.

Note This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:

- 123 of 2009 – Licensing Conditions

An authorised financial services provider must be satisfied that it’s representatives (and the key individuals of the representative) are at all times when rendering a financial service on behalf of the provider competent to act, and comply with:

- The fit and proper requirements; and
• Any other requirements contemplated in Subsection (1)(b)(ii) of the FAIS Act. All role-players must know and fully understand their roles and responsibilities and they must execute their duties accordingly.

2.11 Levies Payable

2.11.1 Levies Payable to the FSCA (FSB)

Note This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:
• 81 of 2016
• Financial Services Board Act Section 15 A

The FSCA (FSB) raises levies in terms of the legislation that it oversees. The FAIS Act also allows the Registrar FSCA (FSB) to raise levies in respect of authorised FSPs. The levies are based on a formula that takes into account the number of key individuals and representatives of each license. The formulae differ between the various categories.

An example is a large insurance company that has different subsidiaries each with its own FSP license, but part of the group. The group will pay one levy in respect of all the representatives and key individuals operating in the respective licenses where licenses span across one legal entity.

The levies are payable by a certain time each year, normally on or before 31 October of the levy year. Failure to pay the levies is an offence in terms of FAIS and the FSP license may be withdrawn or suspended.

The key individual must ensure that there are adequate systems and procedures in place to account for the number of key individuals and representatives in the FSP to pay both the FSCA (FSB) and the Ombud for Financial Services Providers (FAIS Ombud) levies.

The following tables are provided as examples of how the levies are calculated and it should be remembered that these figures change annually.

Category I or IV

Category I or IV FSPs, excluding any such provider who is also authorised as a Category II, IIA or III provider, must on or before 31 October of the levy year, pay a levy which is subject to a maximum amount of R1 641 281, and is calculated as follows:

(a) a base amount of R3 182; and
(b) A x R508

Where A = the total number of key individuals of the FSP plus the total number of representatives appointed by the FSP, less key individuals that are also appointed as representatives, as at 31 August of the levy year.
Category II, IIA or III

Category II, IIA or III FSPs must on or before 31 October of the levy year pay a levy, which is subject to a maximum of R1 641 281, and is calculated as follows:

(a) a base amount of R6 411; and
(b) A x R508; and
(c) B x 0.0000164289

Where A = the total number of key individuals of the FSP approved by the relevant Registrar plus the total number of representatives appointed by the FSP, less key individuals that are also appointed as representatives, as at 31 August of the levy year; and

Where B = the total value of investments managed on behalf of clients in terms of the authorisation as an FSP on 30 June of the levy year.

The investments under management held in foreign currency must be included at the exchange rate published in the Press at that date.

Category I or Category IV

FSPs licensed only for Long-term Insurance subcategory A or Friendly Society Benefits

A Category I or a Category IV FSP to render financial services in respect of only the financial product subcategories Long-term Insurance subcategory A or Friendly Society Benefits, must on or before 31 October of the levy year pay a levy, which is subject to a maximum of R1 641 281, and is calculated as follows:

(a) a base amount of R3 182; and
(b) A x R250

Where A = the total number of key individuals of the FSP approved by the relevant Registrar plus the total number of representatives appointed by the FSP, less key individuals that are also appointed as representatives, as at 31 August of the levy year.

Levy for funding of Office of Ombud for Financial Services Providers

A person who is authorised as a financial services provider must on or before 31 October of the levy year pay a levy, which is subject to a maximum of R256 479, and is calculated as follows:

(a) a base amount of R947; and
(b) A x R360.

Where A = the total number of key individuals of the financial services provider approved by the relevant Registrar plus the total number of representatives appointed by the financial services provider, less key individuals that are also appointed as representatives, as at 31 August of the levy year.
Important

Levies due by FSPs will be calculated based on the information available to the Registrar on 31 August. It is therefore important for FSPs to ensure that their information is correct and should changes need to be made, notify the FSCA (FSB) or make changes on the FAIS ePortal before 31 August.

Should the levy not be paid, the license of the authorised financial services provider may be withdrawn in terms of Section 9 of the Financial Advisory and Intermediary Services Act.

2.11.2 Levies to the Ombud for Financial Services Providers (FAIS Ombud)

FSCA (FSB) ACT, 1990 LEVIES ON FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS

20. Levy for funding of Office of Ombud for Financial Services Providers

Subject to sub-paragraph (2), a person who is authorised in terms of Section 8 of the Financial Advisory and Intermediary Services Act, as a financial services provider must on or before 31 October of the levy year pay a levy, which is subject to a maximum of R239 700, and is calculated as follows:

(a) a base amount of R885; and

(b) A x R337

where-

A = the total number of key individuals of the financial services provider approved by the relevant Registrar plus the total number of representatives appointed by the financial services provider, less key individuals that are also appointed as representatives, as at 31 August of the levy year.

(2) Multiple authorised financial services providers who form part of the same legal entity are jointly and severally liable for payment of a single levy as referred to in sub-paragraph (1). For purposes of such payment, the key individuals and the representatives of such authorised financial services providers are deemed to be the key individuals and representatives of one authorised financial services provider.

(3) Should the levy mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) not be paid, the license of the authorised financial services provider may be withdrawn in terms of Section 9 of the Financial Advisory and Intermediary Services Act.
2.12 The Conditions under which Suspensions, Withdrawals and Reinstatements of Authorisation may be Imposed

The Registrar may suspend or withdraw a FAIS license, subject to certain conditions. The license may also be reinstated, subject to certain conditions.

2.12.1 Reasons for Suspension or Withdrawal

The Registrar may suspend or withdraw any license if the Registrar is satisfied on the basis of available facts and information that the licensee:

- or any key individual no longer meets the fit and proper requirements of the Act;
- didn't disclose all required information upon applying for a license or submitted false or misleading information;
- failed to comply with any other provisions of the FAIS Act;
- failed to comply with any provision/s of the FAIS Act;
- still owes levies, penalties or administrative sanctions to the FSCA (FSB) and hasn't paid it;
- does not have an approved key individual;
- has failed to comply with any directive issued under the FAIS Act; and
- has failed to comply with any condition or restriction imposed under this Act.

26 Section 9(2) of the FAIS Act
27 Section 9(2) of the Act
2.12.2 Urgent Suspension or Withdrawal

Notwithstanding the fact that the Registrar must follow certain procedures before suspension or withdrawal, the Registrar may do certain things on an urgent basis if there are reasonable grounds that the public or clients may be substantially prejudiced.

If such grounds exist, the Registrar:

• may provisionally suspend or withdraw a license. The Registrar must inform the licensee of the grounds and the period as well as allow the licensee a reasonable opportunity to respond thereto and to provide reasons why the provisional suspension or withdrawal should be lifted or why the period and terms should be changed. 28

• may publish the provisional suspension or withdrawal on the official website and if necessary, by means of any other appropriate public media. 29

The Registrar must consider a response received from the licensee and may decide to:

• lift the provisional suspension or withdrawal; or

• make it final. 30

28 Section 9(3)(a) of the Act
29 Section 9(3)(b) of the Act
30 Section 9(4)(a) of the Act
The licensee must be advised accordingly and notification must happen on the official website and any other appropriate public if necessary. The Registrar must make known the terms of and the reasons for such final suspension or withdrawal, or the lifting thereof. \(^{31}\)

If a license is suspended or withdrawn, the licensee is not authorised to act as an FSP.

2.12.3 Debarment Following Suspension of Withdrawal

If a license has been withdrawn in terms of Section 9 of the Act (which deals with suspension and withdrawal of licenses), the person is debarred for a period specified by the Registrar from applying for a new license and the Registrar may change the period if there are good grounds for the change. \(^2\)

2.12.4 Registrar may Consult a Regulatory Authority

Before suspending or withdrawing a license, the Registrar may consult "any regulatory authority". This implies that the FAIS Registrar may (and should) consult another regulator if the FSP concerned is also authorised or licensed for business under that regulator.

In the diagram above we used the example of the FAIS Registrar consulting the Registrar of Banks in the event of a possible suspension or withdrawal of a bank-related FSP license. It may be critical for the FAIS Registrar to consult another applicable regulator (such as the Insurance Registrar) because suspension or withdrawal of an FSP license may have dire consequences in the financial services industry.

2.12.5 Accreditation under Medical Schemes Act 1998

Section 8(7) of the FAIS Act, has certain implications in respect of the requirements for FSPs that are also accredited under the Medical Schemes Act.

If an accredited Medical Schemes FSP loses its accreditation in terms of the Medical Schemes Act, the FAIS License will also be deemed to be suspended or withdrawn.

Similarly, if the accredited (FAIS) FSPs license is suspended or withdrawn in terms of the FAIS Act, it will also lose its accreditation in terms of the Medical Schemes Act.

The conditions under which a license can be reinstated and reinstatements of authorisation may be imposed.

We mentioned above that the Registrar must inform the licensee of the grounds for suspension of withdrawal of a license.

31 Section 9(3)(b) of the Act
32 Sections 9(5) & (6) of the Act
The licensee must be given a reasonable opportunity to respond thereto and to provide reasons why the provisional suspension or withdrawal should be lifted or why the period and terms should be changed.

The Registrar must, within a reasonable time after receipt of any response received consider the response, and may thereafter decide to:

- lift the provisional suspension or withdrawal; or
- render the suspension or withdrawal final;
- and must inform the licensee accordingly.

The Registrar must make known the terms of and reasons for the final suspension or withdrawal, or the lifting thereof, by notice in the Gazette and, if necessary, in any other appropriate public media.

Once the licensee meets the outstanding requirements (such as payment of levies) the Registrar may reinstate the license. If the Registrar has set specific conditions and the licensee meets the conditions to the satisfaction of the Registrar, the license may be reinstated.

Section 34 of the Constitution makes provision that anyone may approach a court to have a dispute resolved by a court or another independent and impartial tribunal or forum. This implies that an FSP whose license has been withdrawn may also approach the Court for reinstatement.

- The Licensee (FSP) is FINALLY SEQUESTRATED
- The Licensee (FSP) becomes permanently UNABLE to CARRY ON BUSINESS because of PHYSICAL or MENTAL ILLNESS
- The Licensee (FSP) DIES
- The Licensee (FSP) is FINALLY LIQUIDATED or DISSOLVED
- THE business of the Licensee (FSP) has become DORMANT
- In ANY OTHER case where the Licensee (FSP) VOLUNTARILY and FINALLY SURRENDERS THE LICENCE TO THE REGISTRAR
2.13 Lapsed License

The Registrar must be advised in writing by the licensee, any key individual of the licensee, or another person in control of the affairs of the licensee, of the lapsing of a license and the reasons therefore and the Registrar MAY publish the lapsing of a license by notice on the official web site and, if necessary, in any other appropriate public media announcement.

2.15 Voluntary Sequestration, Winding-up or Closure of a Business on its Licensing Status.

Section 38 of the FAIS Act states that:

| NO | Application for voluntary surrender of an estate brought before a court in terms of Section 3 of the Insolvency Act |
| NO | Special resolution relating to the winding-up, as provided for in Section 349 of the Companies Act, and registered in terms of that Act |
| NO | Written resolution relating to the winding-up, as provided for in Section 67 of the Close Corporations Act, and registered in terms of that Section |
NO Voluntary closure of business
By any authorised FSP, or representative of such provider, and no special resolution in terms of the constitution of such a provider or representative, which is not a company, to close its business, have legal force.

UNLESS a copy or notice of the intended process has been lodged with the Registrar;
or

UNLESS the Registrar has declared to the FSP or representative by notice, that the Registrar is satisfied with the arrangements that have been made to meet all liabilities with regard to transactions entered into with clients prior to sequestration, winding-up or closure, as the case may be;
or

The Registrar may declare that the application, resolution or closure is contrary to the FAIS Act and that it has no legal effect.

It is clear from the above that the FSP must get the „approval“ of the Registrar before sequestration, winding-up or closure of the business will become effective and legal. Such approval will only be given if the Registrar is satisfied that there are arrangements in place to meet obligations to clients. Until such time, the business of the FSP will be regarded as “ongoing” and the FSP cannot rely on any protection or remedies available under the relevant legislation.

The FAIS Act was amended with effect 28 February 2014 to provide for specific requirements when a provider applies for business rescue proceedings under the Companies Act. Section 38A stipulates that Chapter 6 of the Companies Act shall apply in relation to the business rescue of an FSP, whether or not it is a company. Chapter 6 deals with business rescue. The Registrar may make an application under Section 131 of the Companies Act in respect of a provider if the Registrar is satisfied that it is in the interests of the clients of the provider or the financial services industry.

The following acts are subject to the approval of the Registrar:
- The resolution of a provider to begin business rescue proceedings;
- The appointment of a business rescue practitioner;
- The adoption of a business rescue plan; and
- The exercise of a power by the business rescue practitioner under the Companies Act.

In the application of Chapter 6 of the Companies Act -
- any reference to the Commission shall be construed as a reference also to the Registrar;
- the reference to creditors shall be construed as a reference also to clients of the provider;
- any reference relating to the ability of a provider to pay all debts, shall be construed as relating also to the provider’s inability to comply with the financial soundness requirement under Section 8(1)(c) of this Act; and
• there shall be considered, in addition to any question relating to the business of a provider, also the question whether any cause of action is in the interests of the clients.

If an application to a Court for an order relating to the business rescue of a provider is made by an affected person other than the Registrar -

• the application shall not be heard unless copies of the notice of motion and of all accompanying affidavits and other documents filed in support of the application are lodged with the Registrar, before the application is set down for hearing;

• the Registrar may, if satisfied that the application is not in the interests of the clients of the provider, join the application as a party and file affidavits and other documents in opposition to the application.

As from the date upon which a business rescue practitioner is appointed, the business rescue practitioner of a provider shall not conduct any new business unless the practitioner has been granted permission to do so by a court.

2.16 Business Rescue or Application by Registrar for Sequestration or Liquidation

The Registrar now also has locus standi to apply to court for the sequestration or winding up of a financial services provider.

Section 38B stipulates that if the Registrar considers it necessary in light of the interests of clients or members of the public, he may, after an on-site visit or an inspection, apply to court for the sequestration or liquidation of the FSP.

In deciding on such an application, the court:

• may take into account whether sequestration or liquidation of the financial services provider concerned is reasonably necessary in order to protect the interests of the clients of the provider; and for the integrity and stability of the financial sector;

• may make an order concerning the manner in which claims may be proved by clients of the financial services provider concerned; and shall appoint as trustee or liquidator a person nominated by the Registrar.

This section does not apply if another Registrar is authorised in terms of FSCA (FSB) legislation as defined in Section 1 of the FSCA (FSB) Act, 1990 (Act No. 97 of 1990), or in terms of banking legislation, to apply to the court for the sequestration or liquidation of that provider.
2.17 Undesirable Business Practices

FAIS Act – Section 34(1)

34. Undesirable practices

(1) Subject to subsections (2) and (3), the registrar may by notice in the Gazette declare a particular business practice to be undesirable for all or a category of authorised financial services providers, or any such provider.

In terms of Section 34 of the FAIS Act, the Registrar may declare a business practice “undesirable”. This may be done for a specific FSP or a category of FSPs.

Before declaring a business practice as undesirable, the Registrar must first consider the following:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>The business practice must have, or is likely to have, a direct or indirect effect resulting in:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• harming the relations between FSPs or any FSP or category of FSPs, and clients or the general public OR</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• unreasonable prejudice to clients OR</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• deceiving any client OR</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• unfairly affecting any client OR</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• AND if allowed to continue, the practice will defeat one or more objects of the FAIS Act.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

If the Registrar is convinced that these “requirements” are met, the following must happen:

- The Registrar must publish an intention to make the declaration in the Gazette and provide reasons and invite written representations to the Registrar. Such representations must reach the Registrar within 21 days after date of publication of the intention.
- The Registrar considers the representations and decides to declare the business practice as “undesirable” or not.
- The declaration must be published and the FSP or representatives concerned may not continue with the business practice on or after the date of publication in the Gazette (this refers to the actual declaration, not the intention to declare). 33
- If the FSP carries on with the business practice after the date of publication, the Registrar may inform the FSP to rectify or reinstate to the satisfaction of the Registrar, any loss or damage which was caused by or arose out of the carrying on of the business practice concerned. 34
- The FSP who must rectify or reinstate must do so within 60 days after the direction was issued. 35

33 Sections 34(3)&(4) of the Act
34 Section 34(5) of the Act
35 Section 34(6) of the Act
• If the FSP does not adhere to the Registrar’s directive, a fine not more than R10 000 000 or imprisonment of not more than ten (10) years, or both, may be imposed in terms of Section 36 of the FAIS Act.

The key individual must ensure that the relevant areas and departments of the business are aware of a declared undesirable business practice.

If it is determined that an FSP is operating with undesirable business practices, the registrar has the right to place a notice in the Gazette stating this. The provider must ensure that there are processes in place to ensure that they are aware of any such notices, and when made aware they must cease any such action immediately.

The registrar is allowed to suspend or withdraw a license and the conditions are listed below:

Extract from FAIS Act – Section 9(1)

9. Suspension and withdrawal of authorisation

(1) The registrar may, subject to Subsection (2) and irrespective of whether the registrar has taken or followed, or is taking or following, any step or procedure referred to in Section 4, at any time suspend or withdraw any license (including the license of a licensee under provisional or final suspension) if satisfied, on the basis of available facts and information, that the licensee-

(a) does not meet or no longer meets the fit and proper requirements applicable to the licensee, or if the licensee is a partnership, trust or corporate or unincorporated body, that the licensee or any key individual of the licensee does not meet or no longer meets the fit and proper requirements applicable to the licensee or the key individual;

(c) has failed to comply with any other provision of this Act;

(d) is liable for payment of a levy under Section 15A of the FSCA (FSB) Act, 1990 (Act No. 91 of 1990), a penalty under Section 41(2) and (3) or an administrative sanction under Section 6D(2) of the Financial Institutions (Protection of Funds) Act, 2001 (Act No. 28 of 2001), and has failed to pay the said levy, penalty or administrative sanction and any interest in respect thereof;

(e) does not have an approved key individual;

(f) has failed to comply with any directive issued under this Act; or

(g) has failed to comply with any condition or restriction imposed under this Act.

2.18 Implications where the Registrar issues a Directive

With effect from 28 February 2014, the Registrar may, in order to ensure compliance with, or to prevent a contravention of this Act, issue a directive to any person or persons to whom the provisions of this Act apply.

A directive issued takes effect on the date determined by the Registrar in the directive. The Registrar MUST, where a directive is issued to ensure the protection of the public in general, publish the directive on the official web site and any other media that the Registrar deems appropriate, in order to ensure that the public may easily and reliably access the directive.
2.19 The Process of On-site Inspections by the Registrar

In support of the function of “enforcement”, the Registrar has the authority to conduct on-site visits to verify the state of compliance.

2.20 FAIS Act Offenses

When a person commits the offences listed below and is convicted by a court, the court may impose a fine of a maximum of R10 000 000 or a prison sentence of a maximum of ten (10) years or both.

The offences, which carry the above penalties, are the following:

2.21 Processes to Avoid Actions that can be Regarded as Offences under FAIS

2.21.1 Civil Remedies

With effect from 28 February 2014, the Registrar can now longer claim in court for damages on behalf of clients of offenders. This remedy has never been used by the Registrar and such cases are referred to the established Enforcement Committee.

2.21.2 Anti-Money-Laundering Controls

There is an obligation on FSPs who are accountable institutions as defined in the Financial Intelligence Centre Act 36 (FIC) to have all the necessary policies, procedures and systems in place to ensure full compliance with the FIC Act and other applicable anti-money-laundering or terrorist financing legislation.

The FAIS Act does not have specific penalties for non-compliance with the FIC Act requirements BUT the FIC Act imposes severe penalties for non-compliance.

Therefore, the FIC Act penalties will apply if an FSP does not comply with the FAIS requirements in respect of the FIC Act. We discuss the FIC Act in more detail later.

36 Act 38 of 2001
2.21.3 Administrative Penalties

2.21.3.1 Late Submission

Where a person does not submit a return, information or document to the Registrar as required by the FAIS Act, that person is liable, in addition to other legal action instituted by the Registrar, to pay a fine of up to R1 000 (or as determined by the Registrar) per day for every day that the return, information or document is late, plus interest.37

Penalties relating to the Ombud for Financial Services Providers (FAIS Ombud)

Any person who commits any act in respect of the Ombud for Financial Services, the Ombud for Financial Services Providers (FAIS Ombud) or in relation to an investigation by the Ombud that could be regarded as contempt of court by a court, the person is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction to a penalty, which could have been imposed by a court.

2.22 Recourse that an FSP has in the Event of a Decision Made by the Registrar

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:

- FAIS Act – Section 9 (2)
- FAIS Act – Section 39

The Registrar must inform the licensee of the intent to suspend or withdraw the license and the grounds therefor. The licensee is entitled to a reasonable opportunity to respond before a final decision is made.

d. All of the above
12. There are prescribed principles that must be taken into account before the Registrar can declare the business practice as undesirable, including:

a. The business practice must have had a direct or indirect effect during the preceding two months resulting in harming the relations between FSPs or any FSP or category of FSPs, and clients or the general public.

b. The business practice must have, or is likely to have, a direct or indirect effect resulting in the Ombud making determinations against brokers.

c. The business practice must have, or is likely to have, a direct or indirect effect resulting in harming the relations between FSPs or any FSP or category of FSPs, and clients or the general public.

d. The business practice must have, or is likely to have, a direct or indirect effect resulting in the share price of the affected FSPs declining.

13. The Fais Act specifically makes reference to what is meant by undesirable practices. Choose the prescribed principles that must be taken into account before the Registrar can declare the practice undesirable.

a. The business practice has the effect of harming the relations between FSPs or any FSP or category of FSPs, and clients or the general public.

b. The business practice has the effect of unreasonably prejudicing clients.

c. The business practice has the effect of deceiving any client.

d. The business practice has the effect of unfairly affecting any client; and if allowed to continue, the practice will defeat one or more objects of the FAIS Act.

e. All of the above.

14. Section 34 of the FAIS Act empowers the FAIS Registrar to declare a particular business practice “undesirable” for all categories of Financial Services Providers. As a Representative, you need to understand the implications for an FSP if the Registrar publishes a notice regarding an “undesirable business practice”. The principles, which the FAIS Registrar must consider before s/he can declare a practice undesirable includes:

a. There are prescribed principles that must be taken into account before the Registrar can declare a practice undesirable and this includes that the business practice must have, or is likely to have, a direct or indirect effect resulting in harming the relations between FSPs or any FSP or category of FSPs, and clients or the general public.

b. That the directors and/or management must have committed fraud or theft.

c. There are prescribed principles that must be taken into account before the Registrar can declare a practice undesirable and this includes that the business practice must have a direct effect resulting in the loss of funds.

d. That the FAIS Registrar must publish an intention to declare a business practice as undesirable only in the national and local media.
15. There are certain implications for an FSP if the Registrar publishes a notice regarding an undesirable business practice. Which of the statements below are FALSE in this regard

a. The FSP may carry on with the business practice concerned, until the registrar provides written directive for the FSP to desist

b. The registrar may direct a non-authorised FSP, who carries on the business practice on/after date of publication of the notice, in contravention of the notice, to rectify, to the satisfaction of the registrar, anything which was caused by or arose out of the business practice

c. An FSP who was directed by the registrar to rectify anything must do so within 60 days after such direction is issued

d. An FSP who was directed by the registrar to rectify anything must do so within 30 days after such direction is issued

i) b and c
ii) a, b and d
iii) c and d

16. There are prescribed principles that must be taken into account before the Registrar can declare a business practice undesirable, including:

a. The business practice must have had a direct or indirect effect during the preceding two months resulting in harming the relations between FSPs or any FSP or category of FSPs, and clients or the general public

b. The business practice must have, or is likely to have, a direct or indirect effect resulting in the Ombud making determinations against brokers

c. The business practice must have, or is likely to have, a direct or indirect effect resulting in harming the relations between FSPs or any FSP or category of FSPs, and clients or the general public

d. The business practice must have, or is likely to have, a direct or indirect effect resulting in the share price of the affected FSPs declining

17. There are reparation measures available to the Registrar should the representative continue to be guilty of such undesirable business practices. Choose the statement that is TRUE:

a. If an FSP continues such business practices after the date of publication, the Registrar may inform the FSP to rectify or reinstate, to the satisfaction of the Registrar, any damage or loss which was caused by or arose out of the carrying on of the business practice concerned

b. The FSP who must rectify or reinstate must do so within 90 days after the direction was issued

c. If the FSP does not adhere to the Registrar's directive, a fine of not more than R10 000 000 or imprisonment of not more than ten (10) years, or both, may be imposed in terms of Section 36 of the FAIS Act

d. Business must be informed to continue doing business with, or using the services of an FSP whose business practice has been declared undesirable

3. Operate as the Key Individual in terms of the FAIS Act

3.1 The Roles and Responsibilities of Key Individuals as defined in the FAIS Act

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:
- 104 of 2008 – Section 1

The FAIS Act defines a key individual as follows:

Definition of key individual:
"Key individual", in relation to an authorised financial services provider, or a representative, carrying on business as:
- a corporate or unincorporated body, a trust or a partnership, means any natural person responsible for managing or overseeing, either alone or together with other so responsible persons, the activities of the body, trust or partnership relating to the rendering of any financial service; or
- a corporate body or trust consisting of only one natural person as member, director, shareholder or trustee, means any such natural person."

A key individual must therefore:
- manage or oversee;
- alone or with another approved key individual;
- the activities of the FSP, which the key individual is appointed for.
Where a single key individual does not meet all the requirements, an FSP may have more than one key individual and among them they will meet the requirements. The activities of the FSP refer to the rendering of an intermediary service and/or advice relating to the financial products the FSP is licensed for (category and subcategories).

3.1.1 The Role of a Key Individual

We also see that it is possible that an FSP can have one natural person in the business (sole proprietor) and that person can be the key individual as well. In other words, the sole proprietor and the key individual is the same person.

The Act refers to the FSP in this instance as "the applicant". Insurance companies will normally have designated key individuals and representatives. Key individuals may also act as representatives, in which case they have to meet the requirements for both roles respectively.

Section 17(3) of the Act states that an FSP must establish and maintain procedures to be followed by the FSP and its representatives in complying with the Act. The KI is usually tasked, on behalf of the FSP, with ensuring that such procedures (for example, procedures in respect of the provision of advice, or retaining records of advice) are implemented and maintained.
Examples that explain the various “hats” that key individuals can wear.

Example:
InsCo is an insurance company with 200 employees and authorised to sell Category I products. It is very likely that InsCo will have at least two (2) key individuals to manage and oversee the activities and functions of the FSP.

3.1.2 Management Responsibilities

The key individual has the responsibility of management and oversight of the FSP that performs the activities relating to the rendering of financial services, which includes the provision of advice and intermediary services in respect of such a license. The key individual must have the required experience in management before the Registrar will approve the appointment.

The experience must include practical experience in the management or oversight of the services similar to or corresponding to the financial services rendered by the FSP.

The key individual is responsible, among other things, for the representatives, as well as the overall business management of the FSP.

In the topics to follow we discuss all the responsibilities that key individuals have in terms of the FAIS Act.
3.2 The Requirements for Approval of a Key Individual by the Registrar

3.2.1 Requirements for Approval

The FSP applies to the Registrar for approval of a key individual. The onus is on the applicant (when it is a partnership, a trust or a corporate or unincorporated body) to “satisfy” the Registrar that a key individual meets the fit and proper requirements in respect of honesty, integrity and good standing, as well as competence and operational abilities. (We discuss these requirements in the next section.)

If the applicant’s qualification is not on the recognised qualification list, and the applicant thinks the qualification is indeed relevant and applicable to the role, application for recognition (to the Registrar in the prescribed manner) of the qualification must be made prior to submitting the application form.

Let’s look at the administrative requirements for the approval of key individuals.

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Operational ability  • The key individual and sole proprietor must have the operational ability to fulfil the responsibilities imposed on the licensee and its key individuals by the Act.

General  • If the applicant is both key individual and a representative, a separate form (FSP 5) must be completed.
• The applicant needs to sign an indemnity, authorising the FSCA (FSB) to verify all information.

The Registrar may require an applicant to furnish additional information as he deems necessary. He may also take into consideration any other information regarding the proposed key individual, from any other source, provided that the key individual is granted an opportunity to respond to the information. Once the Registrar is satisfied that the applicant meets all the requirements for the key individual role in the FSP, the Registrar will grant or refuse the application.

The Registrar may impose restrictions or additional conditions on the FSP license, which may include specific conditions regarding the key individual. Such conditions may include that, where after the date of granting a license, the key individual is replaced by a new key individual, or a new key individual is appointed, or any change occurs in the personal circumstances of a key individual which causes the person to fall short of the fit and proper requirements, such person may not take part in the conduct, management or oversight of the FSP's business unless he has been approved by the Registrar as compliant with the fit and proper requirements for key individuals.

3.3 Controls required to ensure Sufficient Management and Oversight of Financial Services Rendered

The key individual must on behalf of the FSP ensure that the systems, processes and controls are in place to comply with all requirements of the Act, not only the operational provisions. Sections 7 to 42 of the FAIS Act outline many important requirements.

The table below contains a checklist of the most relevant provisions of the Act that the key individual must take into account.

3.4 Individual Acting as a Key Individual

FIT AND PROPER REQUIREMENTS

- Honesty and Integrity
- Competence
- Operational Ability

Part of a key individual's fit and proper requirements is the operational ability to fulfill its functions in terms of the FAIS Act, including the oversight of the financial services (regarding the giving of advice and rendering of intermediary services) provided by the representatives of the FSP.
FSPs must also meet operational ability requirements in order to be authorised as such. In addition, FSPs (including sole proprietors) must also meet the financial soundness requirement.

The financial soundness requirements are no longer limited to FSPs only. These new rules now also apply to Juristic Representatives of FSPs, although they do not apply to Key Individuals or Representatives who are natural persons. FSPs that are registered Banks, Long-term or Short-term insurers are also exempt, providing they meet the financial soundness requirements of the legislation that applies to them.

3.5 Good Standing, Honesty and Integrity Requirements for a Key Individual

Overview of the fit and proper requirements for key individuals.

The FAIS Act is clear on the various requirements and criteria a person must meet in order to be approved as a key individual. Apart from the definition in the Act, most of the requirements are in the subordinate legislation (Board Notices).

Remember, the FSP, being the employer, will identify/appoint the people it wants to act as key individuals, and the FSCA (FSB), being the regulator, will approve the appointment of key individuals for each FSP.

Herewith the fit and proper requirements applicable to the different role-players:

At least one (1) or more of the approved key individuals must:

- have the same experience and qualifications; and
- have completed the same regulatory examinations as would apply to a sole proprietor FSP (above), which must relate to the same categories/subcategories that the FSP is licensed for.

In a juristic representative (where a juristic person, such as another company renders financial service to an FSP), at least one (1) of the key individuals (overseeing and managing) must have the same experience, qualifications and regulatory examination requirements as would apply to the key individual of the FSP of the juristic representative.

Application for authorisation

An application for authorisation must be submitted to the Registrar in the form and manner determined by the Registrar by notice on the official website, and be accompanied by information to satisfy the Registrar that the applicant complies with the fit and proper requirements determined for financial services providers or categories of providers, determined by the Registrar by notice in... the Gazette, in respect of -

- personal character qualities of honesty, integrity and good standing;
- competence; and
- operational ability; and financial soundness.

If the applicant is a partnership, trust or corporate or unincorporated body, the requirements of honesty, integrity and good standing, and competence do not apply to the applicant, but in such a case the application must be accompanied by additional information to satisfy the Registrar that every person who acts as a key individual of the applicant complies with the fit and proper requirements for key individuals in the relevant category, in respect of personal character qualities of:

- honesty, integrity and good standing;
- competence; and
- operational ability.

All key individuals must also meet the Continuous Professional Development requirements once all the experience, qualifications and regulatory examination requirements are met.

3.6 Meeting the Good Standing, Honesty and Integrity Requirements

3.6.1 Good Standing, Honesty, Integrity and Good Standing Requirements for Key Individuals

The key individual is managing or overseeing a large portion of the business of the FSP and these personal attributes are crucial in ensuring that the objectives of the FAIS Act are met and that the FSP renders a professional financial service to its clients.

One way to determine whether a person is honest and has integrity is to provide certain criteria which the key individual must meet. In addition, the FAIS Registrar may refer to any information it has or anything that is brought to the attention of the Registrar in relation to the fitness and propriety of a key individual.

The honesty, integrity and good standing requirement is ongoing. Section 2(4) of BN 194 of 2017 Chapter 2 requires that good standing, honesty and integrity be declared in the application for approval of a key individual.

Key individuals are required to disclose all information and facts available and applicable to them when applying for approval by the Registrar.

The following block summarises factors that may exclude a person from approval as a key individual.
The person was found guilty in any criminal proceedings or liable in any civil proceedings of acting fraudulently, dishonestly, unprofessionally, dishonourably or in breach of a fiduciary duty within five (5) years before application, approval, and appointment.

The person was found guilty by any statutory professional body or voluntary professional body of dishonesty, negligence, incompetence, mismanagement serious enough to call into question the honesty, integrity and good standing of the FSP, key individual, within five (5) years before application, approval, appointment.

The person was denied membership of any statutory professional body or voluntary professional body because of an act of dishonesty, negligence, incompetence or mismanagement, within five (5) years before application, approval, appointment.

The person was found guilty by a regulatory or supervisory body of an act of dishonesty, negligence, incompetence or mismanagement serious enough to call into question the honesty, integrity and good standing of the FSP, KI, within five (5) years before application, approval or appointment.

The FSP had its authorisation to carry on business/any license withdrawn or suspended by any regulatory or supervisory body because of an act of dishonesty, negligence, incompetence or mismanagement, within five (5) years before application, approval or appointment.

The person was disqualified or prohibited by a court from taking part in the management of any company or other statutorily created, recognised or regulated body, current or not, irrespective of whether this has been lifted or not.

3.7 Implications for no longer Meeting Requirements

These are the implications for a key individual should they no longer meet the good standing, honesty, integrity and good standing requirements.

3.7.1 Changes in the Personal Circumstances of Key Individuals

Section 13(2)(a) of the FAIS Act and BN 194 of 2017 Chapter 2 require that the FSP must be AT ALL TIMES satisfied that the key individual meets the requirements of honesty, integrity and good standing and the FSP must ensure that the key individual/s responsible for its business remain/s qualified in terms of these personal attributes, to fulfil the function of key individual.

To achieve this, the key individual must declare to the FSP if there is any change in his/her personal situation that affects his/her honesty, integrity and good standing, particularly in view of the criteria which may be used to determine "exclusions", which we discussed above.

If there is a change in the circumstances of the key individual that affects her honesty, integrity and good standing adversely, the FSP is responsible to advise the regulator and also tell the regulator what action the FSP has taken, including debarment (which we discuss later) of the key individual.

This notification is also referred to as a profile change, which we discuss later.

Section 8(4)(b) of the FAIS Act states that:
• if there is any change in the personal circumstances of a key individual which affects the fit and proper requirements and renders or may render such person to be no longer a fit and proper person,
• no such person may be permitted to take part in the conduct or management or oversight of the licensee’s business in relation to the rendering of financial services,
• unless such person has on application been approved by the Registrar by notice on the official website.

In addition, Section 2(b)(ii) of Board Notice 122 of 2003, states that the FSP is responsible for providing the Regulator with full disclosure on steps that the key individual and the FSP intend to take in order to comply fully with the requirements of honesty, integrity and competence in due course.38

3.8 Competence Requirements for a Key Individual

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:
• 194 of 2017 – Part 3 – minimum qualification
• 194 of 2017 – Part 4 – Regulatory examinations
• 194 of 2017 – Part 5 – Class of Business Training and Product Training
• 194 of 2017 – Chapter 4 - CPD

The competency requirements for a key individual include the following:
• Minimum experience requirements;
• Relevant qualification requirements;
• Completion of relevant regulatory examinations; and
• In addition, ongoing compliance with continuous professional development (CPD) is required.

3.8.1 Experience Requirements for Key Individuals

The key individual’s experience 39 is one of the crucial elements which determines whether he will be approved by the Registrar or not.

When discussing the experience requirements for key individuals, one has to distinguish between general management experience and experience required in a specific product category.

3.8.1.1 General Management and Oversight Experience

Key individuals of a Category 1 FSP must, on date of approval by the Registrar, have at least one year’s practical experience in the management or oversight of the activities of a business. Such experience:

38 Section 2(b)(iii) of Board Notice 122 of 2003 read together with Section 8(1)(i) and (ii) of the Act.
39 BN 194 of 2017 – Chapter 3 Parts 2, 3, 4 & 5
• could have been gained either within or outside South Africa;
• could have been gained during intermittent periods, not more than five years prior to the application of the approval of the key individual; and
• may have been gained in the management or oversight of services similar to or corresponding to the financial services rendered by the FSP.

For key individuals of Category II and II: For FSPs, the requirement is similar, except that the key individual must have actually provided the financial services in relation to the subcategories on date of approval. A key individual of a Category III FSP must have three years’ practical experience gained in the rendering of financial services in that category, in addition to meeting the requirement for one year management/oversight experience. A key individual of a Category IV FSCA (FSB) must have at least one year’s practical experience in the management and/or oversight of services similar to or corresponding to the financial services rendered by the FSP.

Management and oversight experience must already exist when the key individual applies for approval; it can never be obtained under supervision while the key individual is fulfilling the duties of a key individual in terms of the Act.

3.8.2 Experience Required for Product Categories

BN 194 of 2017 – Chapter 3 Parts 2, 3, 4 & 5 requires that an FSP must at all times ensure that at least one or more of the key individuals approved by the Registrar meet the same experience, qualifications and regulatory examination requirements as would apply to an FSP who is a sole proprietor in relation to any one of the categories or sub-categories that the provider is authorised for.

This means that key individuals may also require experience in specific product categories in addition to the general management experience required.

The other instance where a key individual would need to meet the experience requirements of a particular product category is of course where the key individual is also a representative of the FSP.

The specific experience requirements in respect of each category are published in the subordinate legislation and show in a table format, where applicable, the number of months/years required for each subcategory.

Remember, key individuals may gain "product" experience (if they need it) under supervision, but they are not allowed to gain management experience under supervision; they need to have this experience on date of approval by the Registrar.

As the key individual may be required to have experience relating to a specific product category for which the FSP is authorised (either because he is authorised as a representative, or alternatively because the FSP needs to ensure at all times that at least one key individual meets the same experience requirements as a sole proprietor), we need to look at the experience requirements set for sole proprietor FSPs.
3.8.3 Experience Requirements for a Category I

The FSP (who is a sole proprietor) must meet the minimum experience applicable to the subcategories as described in Table A. It must be practical experience gained in the rendering of financial services in respect of Category I and the subcategories concerned, provided that:

- the experience involved the active and ongoing gaining of knowledge, skills and expertise required in terms of the Act.
- the experience was obtained through active involvement and could have been gained while rendering financial services under supervision.
- the experience could have been gained simultaneously in multiple subcategories, provided that proof of such experience can be submitted.
- if the license changes to include other financial services or other subcategories, the experience requirements of the other subcategories must be met, PROVIDED that:
  - if the change includes additional financial service (advice and intermediary service), the FSP (key individual) must obtain 50% of the experience requirements applicable to the additional financial services (as indicated in the applicable table); and
  - if the change relates to an additional subcategory, the FSP (key individual) must obtain 100% of the experience requirements applicable to the additional subcategory (as indicated in the applicable table).

3.8.4 Experience Requirements for a Category II

The FSP (who is a sole proprietor) must meet the minimum experience applicable to the subcategories as described in Table B. It must be practical experience gained in the rendering of financial services in respect of Category II and the subcategories concerned, provided that:

- the experience involved the active and ongoing gaining of knowledge, skills and expertise required in terms of the Act;
- the experience was obtained through active involvement in providing financial services and could have been gained while working under supervision;
- the experience could have been gained simultaneously in multiple subcategories, provided that proof of such experience can be submitted;
- the experience could have been gained in a team environment where the person participated in the process of making investment decisions whilst working under supervision; and
- if the license changes to include the financial services in other subcategories, the experience requirements of the other subcategories must be met.
3.8.5  Experience Requirements for Category IIA

The FSP (who is a sole proprietor) must have three (3) years’ experience which must be practical experience gained in the rendering of financial services in respect of Category IIA, provided that the experience:

- involved the active and ongoing gaining of knowledge, skills and expertise required in terms of the Act; and
- was obtained through active involvement in providing financial services and could have been gained while working under supervision.

3.8.6  Experience Requirements for a Category III

A representative of a Category III FSP must have three (3) years’ practical experience gained in the rendering of financial services as referred to in the definition of “Administrative FSP”.

The key individual of the Category III FSP must also have at least one (1) year’s practical experience in the management and/or oversight of services similar to or corresponding to the financial services rendered by the FSP, provided that the experience:

- involved the active and ongoing gaining of knowledge, skills and expertise required in terms of the Act
- was obtained through active involvement in providing financial services and could have been gained while working under supervision; and could have been gained simultaneously in multiple subcategories, even while working under supervision, provided that proof of such experience can be submitted.

3.8.7  Experience Requirements for Category IV

An FSP who is a sole proprietor must have one year’s experience gained in the rendering of financial services as referred to in the definition of “administration of assistance policies”, provided that the experience:

- involved the active and ongoing gaining of knowledge, skills and expertise required in terms of the Act;
- was obtained through active involvement in providing financial services and could have been gained while working under supervision;
- could have been gained simultaneously in multiple subcategories, even while working under supervision, provided that proof of such experience can be submitted;
- could have been gained within or outside the Republic of South Africa;
- could have been gained during intermittent periods, not more than five years prior to the application.
A representative of a Category IV FSP must have the same relevant practical experience as mentioned for FSPs in Category I, provided that a representative who does not meet such requirement on date of authorisation, may be exempted by the Registrar to acquire the required minimum experience while working under supervision.

The key individual of the Category IV FSP must also have at least one (1) year’s practical experience in the management and/or oversight of services similar to or corresponding to the financial services rendered by the FSP, provided that the experience:

- could have been gained within or outside the Republic of South Africa;
- could have been gained during intermittent periods, not more than five years prior to the application; and
- may have been gained in the management and/or oversight of services similar to or corresponding to the financial services rendered by the provider.

Although not a ‘new’ concept, the Registrar has specifically included a section dealing with when the experience of an FSP, KI and Rep will lapse. If an FSP or Representative has not rendered the particular financial service in respect of a particular financial product relevant to a particular category of FSP for a period of 5 consecutive years, the experience will lapse. This means a person will have to obtain the experience again in order to meet the fit and proper requirement. Similarly, the experience of a KI will lapse if the KI has not managed or overseen a specific financial service relating to a particular category of FSP for a period of 5 consecutive years. It will, therefore, be important for FSPs to be able to show the required ongoing experience gained which is defined as, “continuous practical working experience that entails the active and on-going gaining of knowledge, skills and expertise.

3.9 On-going Training and Development Requirements for Key Individuals

It is important that FSPs maintain a competence register in order to track compliance with the relevant requirements and to provide proof to the Registrar, if requested to do so. Authorised Financial Services Providers (FSPs), Key Individuals (KIs) and Representatives (Reps) must meet certain competence requirements which are set out in the Fit and Proper Requirements. The new Fit and Proper Requirements introduce a formal definition of “competence” which means “having the skills, knowledge and expertise needed for the proper discharge of a person’s responsibilities in the performance of his or her functions.”

The competence requirements prescribed in the new Fit and Proper Requirements have been broadened to ensure that FSPs, KIs and Reps provide a professional financial service.

There are some exemptions for certain FSPs, KIs and Reps and transitional arrangements for FSPs, KIs and Reps who are already authorised when the new Fit and Proper Requirements commence on 1 April 2018. Any FSP or person authorised after this date, and who does not qualify for an exemption, will have to meet the full requirements.
3.9.1 Qualifications Requirements for Key Individuals

One of the competency requirements for fitness and propriety beyond 2010, is that the key individual must have an appropriate qualification. The FAIS Registrar publishes a list of “recognised qualifications” for each category and subcategory.

When a key individual is responsible for more than one category or subcategory, he needs to have a qualification that meets the most onerous requirements. There is no need to have a qualification for each category or subcategory.

3.9.2 Qualifying Criteria

In order to establish which qualifications are recognised as appropriate for key individuals, the qualifications must meet the qualifying criteria, also set by the Registrar and published in the subordinate legislation.

The qualifying criteria serve two purposes. They are used to:

- evaluate the content of the qualifications; and
- set the standards for the regulatory examinations.

The qualifying criteria describe what a person must know (knowledge) and what a person must be able to do (skills) in order to complete a specific task successfully (such as giving advice and/or rendering intermediary services or performing the functions of a key individual).

<td></td>

</tr>
</tbody>
3.9.3 Types of Qualifications

It is not possible for all qualifications to meet all the qualification criteria, and you find that some qualifications’ content meets 80% of specific criteria, and others may meet 100% of the applicable criteria.

To differentiate between these qualifications, the regulator introduced a “rating” system.

- If a qualification, in terms of content, meets the qualifying criteria only partially, it is recognised as a Generic (G) qualification;
- If a qualification, in terms of content, matches the qualifying criteria 80%, it is recognised as a Specific (S) qualification; and
- If a qualification, in terms of content, matches the qualifying criteria 100%, it is recognised as a Specific (SP) qualification.

The Registrar publishes an updated qualifications list, as subordinate legislation, at least quarterly.

It is important that key individuals consult the list, not only to establish their own qualification requirements, but also to match and map the qualification requirements of the representatives for which they are responsible.

Remember, if a particular qualification is not on the list, an application can be made to the FSCA (FSB) for recognition of the particular qualification, if the qualification is appropriate.

| A key individual who only manages and oversees | must have obtained qualification relevant to key individuals prior to being appointed and approved as a key individual. |
| A key individual who manages and oversees, acts as a representative and has adequate product experience | must have obtained the relevant qualification recognised for the financial product(s) the key individual is authorised for as a representative. |

Remember, a relevant qualification is just ONE (1) of the fit and proper competency requirements; the key individual must still have the required management and oversight experience as well as meeting the other requirements.

3.9.4 Regulatory Examinations

To meet the fit and proper requirements in terms of competence, all key individuals and representatives have to complete the regulatory examinations (from 2010 onwards), except where there is provision for exemption, which we discuss below.

The Registrar introduced the first-level regulatory examinations because there is a severe lack of understanding and application of the key principles of the FAIS Act in the financial services industry.

The focus of the first-level regulatory examinations is to test the application of factual knowledge of the representatives and key individuals with regard to the:

- rendering of financial services applicable to specific categories or subcategories to clients; and
- understanding and application of the relevant legal provisions pertaining to providers and clients.

The examination includes the regulatory framework of the FAIS Act, the subordinate legislation, the FIC Act and related content (such as KI roles and responsibilities).

The examination is compulsory and varies across the Categories and roles.

If the key individual is also acting as a representative, he will have to complete the applicable regulatory examination (RE5).
3.9.4.1 Regulatory Examinations for the Key individual

As discussed above, the qualifying criteria prescribe what must be covered in each of these regulatory examinations. There are different examinations for different categories and subcategories and also for the different role-players (key individuals, representatives, compliance officers, sole proprietor FSPs).

There are also different first-level regulatory examinations for key individuals in the different categories; and the nature of the products in the subcategories differs.

- First level regulatory examinations for applicants and/or key individuals in Category I, II, IIA, III and IV.
- First level regulatory examinations for applicants and/or key individuals in Category II and IIA (key individuals operating in Cat II and IIA only, will therefore do this RE).
- First level regulatory examinations for applicants and/or key individuals in Category III (key individuals operating in Cat III only, will therefore do this RE1).
- Key individuals fulfilling the roles of representatives must complete the relevant (category) key individual first-level regulatory examination (RE1), as well as the relevant regulatory examination applicable to representatives (RE5).
- Key individuals who apply for approval from 2011 onwards must have completed the first-level regulatory examinations by the time they apply for approval.
- Key individuals who are already approved prior to 2010 must complete the first-level regulatory examination by 30 June 2012. If the key individual is employed by a Category II, IIA or III FSP, further first level examinations (RE 3 and 4) are required by 30 September 2012.
- Key individuals who were approved during 2010 have until 31 December 2012 to complete their first level regulatory exam and their second level regulatory exam (where relevant) by a date announced by the Registrar.

Please note that Board Notice 120 of 2013 granted a general exemption from the Second Level Regulatory examinations to FSPs, key individuals and representatives until a date to be determined by the Registrar. In the FAIS Information Circular 8/2013 (25 October 2013) it was stated that it was anticipated that this exemption will be in force for at least three years to allow for the development and implementation of a new model.

3.9.5 Continuous Professional Development

CPD is now a reality and this means that FSPs must maintain and update the knowledge and skills that are appropriate for the activities of its Key Individuals and Reps by complying with minimum CPD requirements.
3.9.5.1 What will Count for CPD?
Various requirements must be met in order to meet CPD standards. For example, the CPD activities must:

- be relevant to the function and roles of the key individuals and Reps;
- contribute to the skill and professional standards of the FSP;
- address needs or gaps in the technical and generic knowledge of the KI;
- ensure that KIs and Reps understand the environment in which they are rendering services; and
- take into consideration changing conditions relevant to the products for which they are authorised.

A CPD activity, in terms of the definition, must be accredited by a Professional Body who must also allocate an hourly value to the activity (or part thereof), and it must be verifiable.

It is interesting to note that product specific training (mentioned above) does not count for CPD purposes.

3.9.5.2 Who is affected by CPD?
As a general rule, the CPD requirements apply to all FSPs, KIs and Reps. But, they do not apply to Category I FSPs (including their KIs and Reps) that are authorised only to render financial services in respect of Long-term Insurance subcategory A and/or Friendly Society Benefits.

3.9.5.3 How many CPD hours are required?
The minimum number of CPD hours per 12-month cycle that FSPs, KIs and Reps need to go through depends on how and for what they are authorised. In summary, where FSPs, KIs and/or Reps are authorised to render or oversee the rendering of financial services in:

- more than one class of business (e.g. Investments and Long-Term Insurance) they must complete a minimum of 18 hours of CPD activities;
- more than one subclass of business within a single class of business (e.g. Motor policy and Property policy under ST Insurance: personal lines) – 12 hours of CPD activities; and
- single subclass of business within one class of business must complete 6 hours of CPD activities.

There is a concession for FSPs, KIs and Reps that are authorised, approved or appointed for less than 12 months in a particular CPD cycle. In their case, they need only complete a pro-rated minimum number of CPD hours. Also, similar pro-rating will apply where a Rep is continuously absent from work if that absence is due to maternity leave; long-term illness or disability; or the representative’s caring responsibilities to care for a family member who has a long-term illness or disability.
3.9.5.4 Planning and Recording CPD

Each CPD cycle will run for 12 months, from 1 June every year to 31 May of the following year and FSPs must, within 30 days after each cycle, update their CPD in their competence register. Our advice is rather to do this as and when the training takes place.

In addition to keeping these records, all FSPs must have policies and procedures that set out how they will maintain, update and develop the knowledge and skills that are appropriate for the activities of their KIs and Reps. It should also include training plans for each CPD cycle that address needs and gaps and should demonstrate that the CPD will continually improve the professional standards and practices of the FSP.

The aim of CPD is to ensure that the relevant role-players in FAIS, such as key individuals, representatives and compliance officers are enabled to do the following:

- Develop and maintain professional competence in order to provide financial services of a high quality in the public interest that will support the professionalisation of the financial services industry.
- Understand that the primary responsibility of competence vests in the individual, and that they have an obligation to develop and maintain their professional competence.

Render financial services with due care, competence and diligence with an ongoing duty to maintain knowledge and skill at a level required to ensure that the client receives competent professional service based on up-to-date developments in legislation and the financial services industry.

3.9.6 Class of Business Training

3.9.6.1 What is a Class of Business?

The product categories that an FSP can be licensed for, have been divided into 9 broad classes, each with its own subclasses. For example, Short-term Insurance Personal Lines is a class of business with subclasses such as ‘Personal Lines: Motor policy, Personal Lines: Accident and health policy’, etc. Investments is another class with shares, retirement annuities and derivatives being some of the subclasses.

3.9.6.2 What is Class of Business Training?

Class of business training must include training on the general and special characteristics of the range of financial products within the class, the typical fee structures, charges and other general risks relevant to the products in that class, appropriateness of different products or features for different types of clients, how economic factors may impact these products or the effect of applicable legislation such as tax.

Class of business training can only be provided by an accredited provider (as defined) or an education institution. Training providers will be accredited by Skills Education Training Authorities (SETA) and according to Quality Council for Trades and Occupations (QCTO) criteria.

3.9.6.3 When does the Class of Business Training Requirement Commence?

The provisions which relate to class of business training commence on 1 August 2018. However, there are a number of transitional arrangements which apply – details have been provided below.

3.9.6.4 Who does Class of Business Training apply to?

As a rule, class of business training generally applies to all FSPs, KIs and Reps. But, there are some entities that are exempted (see Figure 4.3).

FSPs and Reps must complete class of business training before rendering a financial service in relation to a product and KIs must, prior to managing or overseeing any financial service, complete class of business training for those classes that they are approved for.

Category I FSPs and KIs and reps authorised, approved or appointed only for Long-term insurance subcategory A and/or Friendly Society Benefits

Category I reps only appointed for execution of sales for Tier 1 financial products (subject to conditions)

Category I reps only appointed for Tier 2 financial products

3.9.6.5 Transitional Arrangements for FSPs, KIs and ‘Full’ Reps

There is some relief, however, for FSPs, KIs and ‘full’ Reps (i.e. not under supervision), authorised prior to 1 April 2018 as their experience is recognised and they are considered to have completed the class of business training. It goes without saying, that any changes made after 1 April 2018, will require compliance with the new requirements. One of the conditions of these transitional arrangements is that Category I KIs will have to inform the Registrar of the different classes of business they currently manage and oversee across all FSPs where the KI is appointed.

3.9.6.6 Transitional arrangements for Reps under Supervision

A Rep who is working under supervision on 1 April 2018 or who is appointed under supervision between 1 April and 31 July 2018, has 1 year (i.e. until 31 July 2019) to meet the class of business training requirements.

3.9.7 Product Specific Training

3.9.7.1 What is Product Specific Training?

Product specific training is training about a particular financial product, including any amendments or changes to that particular financial product. In terms of the definition, this training must include an assessment.

A lot of detail is provided about what must be included in product specific training, such as:

- the specific characteristics, terms and features of the product,
- how the product and any underlying features are structured,
- the fee structure, charges and other costs associated with the product and how these will impact on real return or benefits of the product,
- details of guarantees and risks,
- the impact of tax on benefits or real return,
- how abnormal market conditions may impact how the product performs,
- any lock-in periods,
- identity of the product supplier and providers of any underlying component as well as their good standing and regulatory status, etc.

The Registrar does not prescribe who is able to offer product specific training, but we anticipate that many product suppliers who are the experts on their products, will make this type of training available to FSPs.

The regulations put the onus on the FSP to ensure that KIs and Reps have gone through product specific training, but we would strongly advise FSPs, KIs and Reps to ask the product suppliers with whom they do business whether they will be providing such training.
3.9.7.2 When does the Product Specific Training Requirement Commence?
The commencement date for the product specific training requirements is 1 May 2018. However, there are again certain exemptions and transitional arrangements which FSPs must be cognisant of.

3.9.7.3 Who does Product Specific Training Apply to?
Product specific training applies to all FSPs, KIs and Reps, except:

- Category II, Category IIA or Category III – FSPs and Reps, provided they comply with all other competency requirements;
- KIs of all Categories of FSPs not giving advice; and
- Those FSPs, KIs and Reps illustrated in Figure 4.3 (above).

Similar to class of business training, FSPs and Reps must complete product specific training before giving advice and/or providing an intermediary service relevant to the financial product for which they are approved or appointed.

3.9.7.4 Transitional Arrangements for FSPs and ‘Full’ Reps
FSPs and Reps (excluding Reps under supervision) who are authorised and appointed before the commencement date of the Board Notice (i.e. 1 April 2018) are deemed to have completed the product specific training only for those particular financial products that they were appointed for at that date and they must have given advice or rendered intermediary services in respect of those particular financial products. However, if there are any changes or amendments to these products, then they must complete product specific training on the amendments or changes. While this gives some relief to those who are already active in the industry, FSPs taking on new entrants as Reps will have to carefully plan for their training needs as this will require provision for additional time and costs.

3.9.7.5 Transitional Arrangements for Reps under Supervision
A Rep working under supervision as at 1 April 2018, or a person appointed under supervision during April 2018, has until 31 July 2018 (i.e. three months from 1 May 2018) to comply with the product specific training requirements. Three months is not a long time, and again, we would strongly advise FSPs to contact the product suppliers with whom they do business about such training.

3.9.8 Record Keeping Required
The below record keeping is required for the on-going meeting of fit and proper requirements for Key Individuals.

3.9.8.1 Record of the activities of representatives and key individuals
Adequate record-keeping to keep track of the activities of representatives and key individuals in respect of meeting the fit and proper requirements must be in place.

There are internal operational and training requirements which representatives and, in fact, everybody who has a role to play in a FAIS function need to meet and be aware of.
Remember, the key individual must ensure that the FSP has the operational capability to function, as part of the management and oversight function of the key individual.

There should be documented processes in place to record:

- the training attended by representatives and key individuals – including training relating to FICA requirements;
- the CPD hours and related activities;
- compliance by representatives and key individuals with the applicable fit and proper requirements, such as qualifications, completion of regulatory examinations, etc.;
- the categories and products for which representatives and key individuals are authorised to provide intermediary service or advice;
- all the information relating to services under supervision, such as the details of supervisors and supervisees as well as the duration of the supervision; and
- initial and ongoing checks on the fitness and propriety of representatives and key individuals, such as honesty, integrity and good standing.

3.9.8.2 Record Keeping and Reporting Requirements for Class of Business and Product Specific Training

One of the responsibilities of an FSP is to make sure that it can show that it is monitoring and tracking the competence of its KIs and Reps and that they are receiving appropriate and relevant training. FSPs must also demonstrate that the technical knowledge, skill and expertise they obtain is evaluated and reviewed as the market changes to ensure that they remain competent for the activities they perform. FSPs need to ensure that its KIs and Reps are proficient in respect of the product and understand the class of business and product specific training relevant to the products they are authorised for.

FSPs must be able to report to the Registrar if asked to do so, and therefore they must implement a Competence Register by 1 May 2018 where they must keep a record of all qualifications, regulatory exams, class of business and product specific training (provided both internally and obtained externally) and CPD.

FSPs must update the Competence Register with all class of business and product specific training completed by it, its KIs and Reps within 15 days after the training occurred and retain all information and documentation relating to the training for at least 5 years.

Each CPD cycle will run for 12 months, from 1 June every year to 31 May of the following year and FSPs must, within 30 days after each cycle, update their CPD in their competence register. Our advice is rather to do this as and when the training takes place.

In addition to keeping these records, all FSPs must have policies and procedures that set out how they will maintain, update and develop the knowledge and skills that are appropriate for the activities of their KIs and Reps. It should also include training plans for each CPD cycle that address needs and gaps and should demonstrate that the CPD will continually improve the professional standards and practices of the FSP.

4. Adhere to the General Code of Conduct

4.1 Processes to Manage Conflict of Interest

4.1.1 Conflict of Interest

Conflict of interest means a situation where a provider or a representative has an actual or potential interest that may influence the objective exercising of obligations to the client or prevent the rendering of financial services in an unbiased and fair manner.

It will therefore occur when two (2) or more interests conflict with one another and can render the financial service biased or inadequate.

This typically presents itself where product sales are linked to incentives, monetary or other lavish rewards (such as overseas trips). The danger is that the representative or provider may be influenced by these considerations without due care to the client and his needs, to the detriment of the client.

4.1.2 Transparency

Transparency is a direct result of adequate disclosures. Disclosure will ensure transparency in the relationships between clients and FSPs as well as between FSPs, product suppliers and representatives. Transparency starts even before a financial service has been rendered.

The information about products, financial services, FSPs and product suppliers must be transparent in all its formats. Commission and related disclosures add to the transparency of the services and products and it forms the cornerstone for avoiding or disclosing possible conflict of interest. The requirements for commission disclosures especially, apply to the management of conflict of interests.

The General Code requires the following in respect of conflict of interest management:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>When a provider (including a representative) renders a financial service the provider must disclose to the client:</th>
<th>The existence of any personal interest in the relevant service; Or of any circumstance which gives rise to an actual or potential conflict of interest in relation to the service; And the provider must take all reasonable steps to ensure fair treatment of the client.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Non-cash incentives offered and/or other indirect consideration payable by another provider, a product supplier or any other person to the provider could be viewed as a potential conflict of interest.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The Code of Conduct for FSPs and their representatives involved in forex investment business requires the following in respect of conflict of interest management:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>A forex investment intermediary must:</th>
<th>Avoid any conflict between their own interests and the interests of a client and where a conflict of interest does arise, the forex investment intermediary must: adequately disclose details of such conflict to the client while maintaining the confidentiality of other clients; or decline to act for that client.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

In addition to the above, the General Code was amended in 2010 to include more stringent measures relating to managing conflicts of interest.

Below are a few more definitions in order to understand the impact of Section 3 and 3A.

Associate includes the following:

- In the case of a natural person,
  - the spouse (including partner, civil union partner)
  - child (including stepchild, adopted child, out of wedlock child and spouse of child)
  - parent or stepparent of the natural person (and spouse of parent)
  - the person managing the affairs of the natural person (and spouse of that person)
  - the commercial partner of the natural person

In the case of a juristic person, an associate is:

- in the event of a company, any subsidiary or holding company of the company, subsidiary of

42 Section 3(h)(i) & (ii) of the Forex Code
43 Section 3A of Board Notice 58 of 2010 the holding company and other company of which the holding company is a subsidiary.

- in the event of a close corporation, any member of the CC.
- where the juristic person is neither a company nor a close corporation, an associate includes another juristic person which would have been a subsidiary or holding company of the juristic person if there was a company.
- any person who instructs and/or directs the board or governing body of the juristic person.
- trusts controlled or administered by the person.

Financial interest includes cash, cash equivalent, voucher, gift, service, advantage, benefit, discount, domestic/foreign travel, hospitality, accommodation, sponsorship, other incentive, valuable consideration (some defined benefit, such as money or performance, which is promised as part of an agreement).

Financial interest excludes an ownership interest, training (as long as it is not exclusive) on products, legal matters relating to products, general financial and industry information, third-party systems which you need but excluding travel and accommodation in relation to the training.

Third party includes product suppliers, another provider, associate of a product supplier or provider, distribution channel, anyone who has an agreement with the above to provide financial interest to a provider or its representatives.

Immaterial financial interest is:

- any financial interest which in Rand value does not exceed R1 000 over a calendar year period and
- which is paid by the same third party, during that year and
- which is received by a sole proprietor, a representative for his/her direct benefit, a provider who for its benefit or for the benefit of some/all its representatives, aggregates the immaterial financial interest paid to its representatives.

Financial interest
A provider or its representative may only receive or offer the following financial interest:

- omission or fees authorised under the Long-term Insurance Act, the Short-term Insurance Act or the Medical Schemes Act

Other fees if those fees:
- are agreed by client in writing and
- may be stopped by client.

Fees, remuneration for service to third party if reasonable to service.
An immaterial financial interest subject to other laws.
Another financial interest for which a fair value was given/payment made by that provider or Representative when received.

4.2 Conflict of Interest

What can't be done by the provider?

A provider may not offer any financial interest to a representative of a provider for:

- Giving preference to the quantity of business secured for the provider to the exclusion of quality of service rendered to clients.
- Giving preference to a specific product supplier, where a representative may recommend more than one product.
- Giving preference to a specific product of a product supplier, where a representative may recommend more than one product.

When a provider renders a financial service, the provider must disclose to the client the existence of any personal interest in the relevant service, or of any circumstance which gives rise to an actual or potential conflict of interest in relation to such service and take all reasonable steps to ensure fair treatment of the client.

Non-cash incentives offered and/or other indirect consideration payable by another provider, a product supplier or any other person to the provider could be viewed as a potential conflict of interest.

4.2.1 Conflict of Interest Policy

- Every FSP must have, maintain and implement the policy, and it must:
  - Manage conflicts of interest as well as provide:
    - mechanisms to identify conflict;
    - methods to avoid conflict, or reasons for conflict and how it is mitigated;
    - methods to disclose conflict;
    - processes, etc., to ensure compliance with the policy and consequences for non-compliance;
  - Specify the „type and basis“ on which a representative will qualify for a financial interest offered and that it is not prohibited;
  - Include a list of all associates, names of third parties who have an ownership interest in the FSP (and vice versa) as well as include details regarding the nature and extent of the ownership interest;
  - The policy must be easy to understand;
- The policy must be adopted by the Board;
• Employees, representatives and associates must be aware of policy through training and educational material;

• Providers must monitor compliance with requirements pertaining to conflicts of interest and review the policy annually;

• The policy must be published in appropriate media and be easily accessible.

The compliance report must include a report on the policy, including details pertaining to implementation of the policy, monitoring compliance with the policy and accessibility of the policy.

An FSP or representative may not avoid, limit or circumvent or attempt to avoid, limit or circumvent compliance through an associate or an arrangement involving an associate.

• A financial service must be provided in line with contractual relationship and reasonable requests or instructions of the client. These must be executed as soon as possible with due regard to the interests of the client whose interests must be prioritised over any interests of the provider or a representative.

• Transactions of a client must be accurately accounted for.

4.3 Measure by FSPs to Manage Potential Conflicts of Interest

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:

• 127 of 2010 – Sections 3(2), 4(2) & 4(3)

When a provider renders a financial service, representations made, and information provided to a client by the provider must be provided in plain language to, avoid uncertainty or confusion and not be misleading:

The FSP involved must not deal in any financial product for its own benefit, account or interest where the dealing is based upon advance knowledge of pending transactions for or with clients. In addition, any non-public information, that is disclosure and which could be expected to affect the prices of such products.
4.4 Apply the Requirements of the General Code of Conduct for FSPs and Representatives

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:
- 104 of 2008 – Sections 4(9) & 9(d)
- General Code of conduct – Sections 8 and 21

• of the possible consequences of the misrepresentation or non-disclosure of a material fact or the inclusion of incorrect information; and

• that the client must on request be supplied with a copy or written or printed record of any transaction.

4.5 Disclosures that need to be Made before Rendering a Financial Service

What must be Disclosed?

An FSP/representative, must, at the first reasonable opportunity disclose, in writing, to a client any conflict of interest in respect of that client, including:

• what measures were taken to avoid/mitigate the conflict;

• any ownership interest or financial interest, except an immaterial financial interest, that the provider or representative may get;
• any relationship/arrangement with any third party that may be a conflict, in sufficient detail so that the client can understand the relationship and the conflict.

A provider/representative must, at the first reasonable opportunity, inform a client of the conflict of interest management policy and how it may be accessed.

4.6 Disclosures that must be made when Rendering a Financial Service

Representatives must disclose the following:

• The signed “authority” from the FSP for whom the representative is acting, indicating the fit and proper status of the representative in relation to the financial service being rendered;
• The fact that the representative is acting under supervision, if applicable;
• Any changes to the personal situation of the representative with regard to the honesty, integrity and good standing requirements.

4.6.1 Summary

Services under supervision are an important addition to the FAIS fit and proper requirements because they allow representatives who are not competent (as far as the required qualifications are concerned) to gain their competence levels while working.

There are a number of conditions attached to the rendering of services under supervision:

• The FSP must satisfy the Registrar that it has the required operational ability to facilitate services under supervision;
• Representatives may work under supervision in Categories I, II, IIA, III and IV;
• There are different “entry level” requirements for each of these categories;
• Representatives must get their qualifications within the prescribed time;
• Representatives have certain duties while working under supervision. Refer to the summary of the various duties and responsibilities explained previously;
• Supervisors have certain duties while overseeing representatives. Refer to the summary of the various duties and responsibilities explained previously.
4.7 Requirements for an FSP when Custody of Financial Products and Funds Occur

The General Code of the FAIS Act applies to the provision of financial services and includes the procedures to be followed when an FSP receives financial products, funds or premiums from clients and holds it in custody before paying it over into a bank account. These provisions are subject to any other legislation, which may be more prescriptive with regards to the custody of financial products and funds.

The key individual must ensure that there are adequate systems in place to adhere to the prescribed requirements.

The following must be done:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

5. Comply with Regulated Record Keeping Requirements

5.1 Record Keeping for FICA

5.1.1 Record-keeping

An FSP must have and be able to maintain the operational ability to fulfil the responsibilities imposed by the FAIS Act, including compliance with the FIC Act.

Section 18 of the FAIS Act, specifically states that an authorised financial services provider must maintain records for a minimum period of 5 years regarding:

- Subsection A – known premature cancellation of transactions or financial products by clients of the provider
- Subsection B – complaints received together with an indication of the outcome of these complaints
- Subsection C – continued compliance with the licensing requirements
- Subsection D – cases of noncompliance with the Act and reasons for non-compliance
- Subsection E – continued compliance by representatives with Section 13 of the FAIS Act

Section 22 of FICA requires accountable institutions that establish a business relationship; or conclude a transaction with a client, to keep records of a single transaction or of additional transactions concluded in the course of a business relationship and due diligence investigations and transaction records.

It also prescribes full particulars and details of the information that must be kept as records.

The documents used to identify and verify clients as well as records of all transactions must be retained for a period of at least five (5) years from the date on which the business relationship was terminated.

In terms of Section 24(1):

- The record-keeping obligation may be outsourced to a third party provided the accountable institution is given free and easy access to these records. Note that outsourcing this function to a third party does not discharge the accountable institution from the record-keeping responsibility.
Section 24(2) states that:
• The accountable institution will still be held liable for the third party’s failure to comply with this obligation.

Section 24(3) stipulates that:
• If the accountable institution appoints a third party to keep records on its behalf, then particulars of the third-party keeping records on behalf of the accountable institution must be provided to the FIC.

The full particulars and details of the information which must be furnished to the FIC regarding the third party carrying out the record-keeping obligation are prescribed under Regulation 20.

As in the FAIS Act, records may be kept manually or electronically.

Other record-keeping requirements
In addition to what is discussed above, the following FAIS Act sections refer to record-keeping:
• Section 8: Application for authorisation
• Section 13: Qualifications of reps and duties of FSPs
• Section 19: Accounting and auditing requirements

An FSP must have general administration processing, accounting transactions and risk control measurements in place to ensure accurate, complete and timeous processing of data, information reporting and the assurance of data integrity.

5.1.2 Reporting Duties

Section 28: Cash Transactions Above Prescribed Limit
An accounting institution and a reporting institution must, within the prescribed period, report to the Centre the prescribed particulars concerning a transaction concluded with a client if in terms of the transaction an amount of cash in excess of the prescribed amount –
• is paid by the accountable institution or reporting institution to the client (including persons acting on behalf of the client); or
• is received by the accountable institution from a client.

A report under the section must be made as soon as possible to the FIC, but no later than two (2) days after the fact of a cash transaction or series of cash transactions that has exceeded the prescribed limit was determined.
Section 28a: Property Associated with Terrorist and Related Activities

An accountable institution which has in its possession or under its control property owned or controlled by or on behalf of any entity which has committed or attempted to commit or facilitated the commission of a specified offence as defined in the Protection of Constitutional Democracy against Terrorism and Related Activities Act (POCDATARA) 2004, must within the prescribed period report that fact and the prescribed particulars to the FIC.

A report under the section must be sent to the Centre as soon as possible, but not later than five (5) days after it was established that the accountable institution has property associated with terrorist and related activities in its possession or under its control.

Section 29: Suspicious and Unusual Transactions

Any person who knows or suspects that:

- the business has received or is about to receive the proceeds of unlawful activities;
- a transaction or series of transactions to which the business is a party facilitated or is likely to facilitate the transfer of the proceeds of unlawful activities;
- has no apparent business or lawful purpose;
- is conducted for the purpose of avoiding giving rise to a reporting duty under this Act; or
- may be relevant to the investigation of an evasion or attempted evasion of a duty to pay any tax, duty or levy imposed by legislation administered by the Commissioner for the South African Revenue Service; or
- the business has been used or is about to be used in any way for money laundering purposes, must, within the prescribed period after the knowledge was acquired or the suspicion arose, report to the Centre the grounds for the knowledge or suspicion and the prescribed particulars concerning the transaction or series of transactions.

A person who has reported a suspicious transaction may not disclose that fact to anyone.

The duty to report suspicious and unusual transactions is imposed on all persons who carry on business, are in charge of or manage a business, or are employed by the business.

Failure to file such a report amounts to an offence that carries a penalty.

Intervention by Centre

(1) If the Centre, after consulting an accountable institution, a reporting institution or a person required to make a report in terms of Section 28, 28A or 29, has reasonable grounds to suspect that a transaction or a proposed transaction may involve the proceeds of unlawful activities or property which is connected to an offence relating to the financing of terrorist and related activities or may constitute money laundering or a transaction contemplated in Section 29 (1) (b) it may direct the accountable institution, reporting institution or person in writing not to proceed with the carrying out of that transaction or proposed transaction or any other transaction in respect of the funds affected by that transaction or proposed transaction for a period as may be determined by the Centre, which may not be more than five days, in order to allow the Centre

(a) to make the necessary inquiries concerning the transaction; and

(ii) if the Centre deems it appropriate, to inform and advise an investigating authority or the National Director of Public Prosecutions.

Regulation 22 of the FICA deals with the reporting format. It states that suspicious transaction reporting can be Internet based or by a method developed by the FIC.

Full particulars of the information to be contained in the Suspicious Transaction Reports (STR) are prescribed under Regulation 23.

A report under the Section must be sent to the FIC as soon as possible, but no later than five (5) days after the suspicious transaction was determined.

Prescribed threshold and aggregation of amounts

Regulation 22B of the Regulations sets the prescribed amount for cash threshold reporting. The prescribed limit in terms of Section 28 of the FIC Act is R24 999.99 (twenty-four thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine Rands and ninety-nine cents) or the equivalent foreign denomination value calculated at the time that the transaction is concluded. This means that all cash transactions exceeding R24 999.99 (being R25 000 or more) must be reported to the Centre in terms of Section 28 of the FIC Act.

Accountable and reporting institutions must report aggregates of smaller amounts which when combined add up to the prescribed amount, in cases where it appears to the accountable or reporting institution concerned that the transactions involving those smaller amounts are linked in such a way that they should be considered fractions of one transaction.

Accordingly, the threshold amount can be a single cash transaction to the value of R25 000 or more, or an aggregation of smaller amounts with a combined value of R25 000 or more. While the aggregation period is not specified, the Centre requests that a period of at least 24 hours be applied when considering aggregation.

Accountable and reporting institutions should bear in mind that Section 29(1)(iii) of the FIC Act requires the reporting of a suspicion that a transaction or series of transactions is conducted to avoid giving rise to another reporting duty in terms of the FIC Act. It is therefore possible that an aggregate transaction would simultaneously give rise to an obligation to file a Cash Transaction Report in terms of Section 28 of the FIC Act and report a suspicious or unusual transaction in terms of Section 29 of the FIC Act.

Furthermore, note that the obligation to file a Cash Transaction report in terms of Section 28 of the FIC Act could mean that more than one accountable and/or reporting institution may be obliged to file a report regarding the same transaction, as illustrated in the example below.
Example: Motor vehicle dealers Intervention by Centre

The client of a motor vehicle dealer (MVD), XYZ Motors, elects to pay in cash after purchasing a motor vehicle from XYZ Motors for the amount of R28 500. The MVD has a strict no-cash policy and requests the client to pay the cash into XYZ Motors’ bank account at ABC Bank.

ABC Bank receives the cash amount of R28 500. ABC Bank is an accountable institution as listed in Schedule 1 to the FIC Act and has a reporting obligation in terms of Section 28 of the FIC Act to report this transaction.

XYZ Motors receives and peruses its bank statement or receives a bank deposit slip from the client which reflects the transaction that exceeded the prescribed threshold. XYZ Motors is a reporting institution as listed in Schedule 3 to the FIC Act.

XYZ Motors “acquired knowledge” of the cash that went into its bank account and now has an obligation to report in terms of Section 28 of the FIC Act.

As a result, this transaction will have to be reported to the Centre in terms of Section 28 by both the motor vehicle dealer and the bank.

In an FSCA (FSB) FAIS Newsletter, the FSCA (FSB) suggested the following measures to promote compliance with the FICA requirements.

Formulation and implementation of internal rules

Section 42 of the FICA requires accountable institutions to formulate and implement internal rules concerning:

- client identification and verification;
- record-keeping;
- steps taken to determine and report suspicious transactions; and
- such other matters as may be prescribed from time to time.

Internal rules must be made available to every employee involved in transactions to which FICA apply, and on request, a copy thereof must be made available to the FIC and relevant supervisory bodies.

Sections 25 and 27 of the Money Laundering & Terrorist Financing Control Regulations provide further information on this duty of the accountable institution.

The internal rules of an accountable institution concerning the establishment and verification of identities must:

- provide for the necessary processes and working methods which will ensure the proper identification and verification of identities;
- provide for steps to be taken by the relevant staff members aimed at the verification of the required particulars;

65 Volume 6, June 2008
• provide for the responsibility of management in respect of compliance with the Act and regulations;
• allocate responsibilities and accountability to ensure that staff duties regarding identification and verification of identities are complied with;
• provide for disciplinary steps against the relevant staff members for non-compliance with the Act and regulations; and
• take into account any guidance notes concerning the verification of identities which may apply.

The internal rules concerning the reporting of suspicious and unusual transactions must:
• provide for the necessary processes and working methods, which will cause suspicious and unusual transactions to be reported without undue delay;
• provide for the necessary processes and working methods to enable staff to recognise potentially suspicious and unusual transactions;
• provide for the responsibility of the management of the institution in respect of compliance with the Act, the regulations and internal rules;
• allocate responsibilities and accountability to ensure that staff duties concerning the reporting of suspicious and unusual transactions are complied with;
• provide for disciplinary steps against the relevant staff members for non-compliance with the Act, the regulations and internal rules;
• take into account any guidance notes concerning the reporting of unusual and suspicious transactions which may apply.

Training of Employees
The FICA requires accountable institutions to provide training to its employees to enable them to comply with the provisions of FICA and internal rules applicable to them. 66

Note that FICA does not prescribe the format of training required. Both formal training and FICA awareness campaigns are recognised. These methods are both designed to raise the level of awareness of employees regarding their obligations.

As in the FAIS Act, record of training attended must be kept as proof.

Penalties
In terms of FICA, penalties for offences range from 15 years imprisonment or a fine of R10,000,000.00.

Offences subject to the penalties include, among others, the following:
• Failure to identify persons;
• Failure to keep records;

66 Section 43(1)
• Destroying or tampering with records;
• Failure to give assistance to the FIC;
• Failure to report cash transactions as prescribed;
• Failure to report suspicious or unusual transactions;
• Failure to train staff or to appoint a compliance officer, or to implement internal rules.

These offences affect different parties. Some are committed by an accountable institution (e.g. failure to keep records); others are committed by any other person (e.g. tampering with records).

5.1.3 Other Applicable Anti-Money Laundering Legislation

Other applicable legislation which applies and with which an FSP must comply with in terms of money laundering control measures, includes:

Table 5.1

5.1.3.1 Appointment of a Compliance Officer

Section 43(b) of the FICA requires accountable institutions to appoint a person with a responsibility to ensure compliance by:

- the accountable institution with its obligations under FICA;
- employees of the accountable institution with the provisions of FICA as well as internal rules applicable to them.

5.2 Third Party Outsourcing Agreements

In terms of Section 24 (1), the record-keeping obligation may be outsourced to a third party provided the accountable institution is given free and easy access to these records. Note that outsourcing this function to a third party does not discharge the accountable institution from the record-keeping responsibility.

Section 24(2) states that the accountable institution will still be held liable for the third party’s failure to comply with this obligation.

Section 24(3) stipulates that if the accountable institution appoints a third party to keep records on its behalf, then particulars of the third-party keeping records on behalf of the accountable institution must be provided to the FIC.

The full particulars and details of the information which must be furnished to the FICA regarding the third party carrying out the record-keeping, obligation is prescribed under Regulation 20.

69 Act No 33 of 2004
5.3 The Security Requirements for Record Keeping in terms of Confidentiality and Access to Records

An FSP may not disclose any confidential information acquired or obtained from a client; UNLESS:

- the client consented in writing beforehand; or
- disclosure of the information is required in public interest; or
- disclosure is required in terms of any law.

The compliance officer must determine and report whether procedures have been implemented to ensure that confidential information is not improperly disclosed.

The FSP must have procedures and internal controls in place that ensure that client information is securely filed and that such information is not available to any unauthorised person.

The Registrar has certain powers in terms of the Act to disclose information relating to representatives, key individuals and FSPs (such as debarment, license withdrawals, etc.) and such disclosure is not a contravention of the requirements of the General Code.

The financial services provider may also keep the records in appropriate electronic or recorded format if it is accessible and readily reducible to written or printed format
c. The financial service provider may not outsource record-keeping and he should, therefore, convert the record into appropriate electronic format, so that it will be available on his premises at all times

6. Interpret the following statement and complete the sentence: The FSP, and by implication it will be part of the management duties of a Key Individual, must ensure that records are kept for:

a. A minimum of five years except if the Registrar allowed specific exemptions in this regard
b. A minimum of fifteen years except if the Registrar allowed specific exemptions in this regard
c. A minimum of two years except if the Registrar allowed specific exemptions in this regard

a. The FSP must store all records on its premises

b. The FSP must store records off-site only with special permission

c. The FSP must store records in an appropriate facility which is safe from destruction

d. The FSP must store records in electronic format only with special permission in a facility that cannot be destroyed

9. Once a suspicious transaction has been reported and the authorities have investigated, The FIC must obtain information on the unlawful activities. How would they go about obtaining such information? Choose the INCORRECT statement.

a. They can apply for a warrant to access records

b. They can apply for a warrant to access records provided that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the records will assist in identifying the proceeds of unlawful activities

c. They can only apply for a warrant to access record of a bank

d. b and c

10. The Financial Intelligence Centre Act of 2001, (Act 38 of 2001) requires an accountable institution to maintain records of the identity of clients for a period of five years after the date of the institution or termination of the business relationship or last transaction, whichever occurs last in time. Listed below are the records that need to be maintained, choose the CORRECT one.

a. The identity of the client

Manage and Oversee the Requirements of the FIC Act and Money Laundering and Terrorist Financial Control Regulations as it Applies to the FSP

6. Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Control Regulations, as it Applies to the FSP

6.1 The Requirements Specific to an FSP Prescribed by the FIC Act.

6.1.1 Definition

Definition of money laundering: ‘Money laundering’ or ‘money laundering activity’ means an activity which has or is likely to have the effect of concealing or disguising the nature, source, location, disposition or movement of the proceeds of unlawful activities or any interest which anyone has in such proceeds, and includes any activity which constitutes an offence in terms of Section 64 of this Act or Section 4, 5 or 6 of the Prevention Act;

6.1.2 The Impact of the FICA on FSPs

Please note that we only discuss the most pertinent aspects of the FIC Act and not the full ambit of the Act. You need to ensure that you are familiar with the general concepts addressed by the FIC Act.

The FICA creates four (4) money laundering control obligations for all accountable institutions as follows:

- Duty to identify and verify clients;
- Duty to keep records of business relationships and transactions;
- Reporting duties and obligations to give and allow access to information;
- Adoption of measures designed to promote compliance by accountable institutions.

In terms of these requirements, an FSP who is an accountable institution as defined in the FICA, must have in place all the necessary policies, procedures and systems to ensure full compliance with that Act and other applicable anti-money laundering or terrorist financing legislation.
Accountable Institutions

The FIC Act requires “accountable institutions” to verify client details and report suspicious transactions. For our purposes, the following institutions are included in Schedule 1 of the Act:

FINANCIAL INTELLIGENCE CENTRE ACT, 2001 SCHEDULE 1: LIST OF ACCOUNTABLE INSTITUTIONS

- A practitioner who practices as defined in Section 1 of the Attorneys Act, 1979 (Act 53 of 1979);
- A board of executors or a trust company or any other person that invests, keeps in safe custody, controls or administers trust property within the meaning of the Trust Property Control Act, 1988 (Act 57 of 1988);
- An estate agent as defined in the Estate Agency Affairs Act, 1976 (Act 112 of 1976);
- An authorised user of an exchange as defined in the Securities Services Act, 2004 (Act 36 of 2004);
- A manager registered in terms of the Collective Investment Schemes Control Act, 2002 (Act 45 of 2002), but excludes managers who only conduct business in Part VI of the Collective Investment Schemes Control Act (Act 45 of 2002);
- A person who carries on the „business of a bank” as defined in the Banks Act, 1990 (Act 94 of 1990);
- A mutual bank as defined in the Mutual Banks Act, 1993 (Act 124 of 1993);
- A person who carries on a “long-term insurance business” as defined in the Long-Term Insurance Act, 1998 (Act 52 of 1998);

- A person who issues, sells or redeems travellers’ cheques, money orders or similar instruments;
- A person who carries on the business of a money remitter.

Reporting Institutions

The FIC Act also requires “reporting institutions” to verify client details and report suspicious transactions.

According to Schedule 3 of the Act, the following are seen as reporting institutions:

- A person who carries on the business of dealing in motor vehicles;
- A person who carries on the business of dealing in Kruger Rands.
It is therefore imperative that FSPs have adequate staff training in place and have proper systems and procedures which assist them in complying with the FAIS Act requirement to comply with the FICA. Banks and insurance companies, for instance, are regarded as accountable institutions in terms of the FICA.

The key individual must also ensure that there are adequate systems in place to provide for the FICA exemptions.

The compliance report requires information relating to an FSP’s adherence to the FAIS General Code with regard to “the necessary policies, procedures and systems to ensure full compliance with FICA and other applicable anti-money laundering or terrorist financing legislation”. This includes client identification, identification and reporting of suspicious transactions and risk-rating of clients.

The four (4) money laundering control obligations in more detail:

Table 10.1

IDENTIFICATION OF NEW CLIENTS

Section 21(1) of the FICA requires accountable institutions:

- to identify new clients; and
- verify their particulars before any transaction may be concluded or any business relationship is established with them unless they qualify for Exemption 2.

(Exemption 2 stipulates that an accountable institution may accept a mandate from a prospective client and proceed to establish a business relationship or conclude a single transaction with that client.)

Amendments to Sections 20 and 21 of the FIC Act - 2 October 2017:

Section 20A has been inserted which provides that accountable institutions may not enter into a transaction with an anonymous client or a client with a false or fictitious name;

Section 21 is amended such that when an accountable institution “engages with a prospective client” to undertake a transaction or establish a business relationship it must establish and verify the identity of the client, or such other person acting on behalf of such client;

21A provides that, in addition to the information required to be obtained in terms of Section 21 and the RMCP, the Institution must obtain information to enable the accountable institution to determine whether future transactions that will be performed in the course of the business relationship concerned are consistent with the institution’s knowledge of that prospective client, including information describing:

(a) the nature of the business relationship concerned;
(b) the intended purpose of the business relationship concerned; and
(c) the source of the funds which that prospective client expects to use in concluding transactions in the course of the business relationship concerned.
Section 21B sets out additional due diligence measures to be performed by Institutions when dealing with legal persons, trusts and partnerships including determining the nature of the client’s business and the ownership and control structures of the client.

In terms of Section 21C Institutions must conduct ongoing due diligence investigations in respect of its business relationship with its clients in monitoring the transactions, source of funds, background and purpose of large and complex transactions and keeping information obtained for these purposes.

Section 21D - if an Institution doubts the adequacy of information previously obtained it must repeat the steps set out in Sections 21, 21A and 21B.

Section 21E - if the Institution is unable to establish or verify a client’s identity or conduct an ongoing due diligence the Institution may not establish or continue a relationship with such client.

Section 21F and 21G deal with the manner of dealing with foreign prominent officials and domestic prominent officials (21H similarly sets out these processes apply to family members and close associates of such persons), as defined in the Amendment Act and which processes are to be included in the RMCP.

VERIFICATION OF NEW CLIENTS

The Money Laundering Control Regulations prescribe the identification and verification requirements for clients of accountable institutions, ranging from SA citizens and residents, foreign nationals, corporations, South African companies, close foreign companies, partnerships and trusts.

The information obtained from legal persons such as companies, close corporations, and trusts must be verified by comparing it against the registration documents of these legal entities.

The identification procedures in respect of the legal persons referred to above must also be extended to directors, shareholders, members and trustees. Documents serving to confirm their authority to act on behalf of these legal entities must also be obtained.

IDENTIFICATION AND VERIFICATION OF EXISTING CLIENTS

Section 21(2) of the FICA requires a similar process for existing clients as for new clients.

It also states that if an accountable institution had established a business relationship with a client before the FICA took effect, it may not conclude further transactions in the course of that business relationship, unless prescribed steps are taken to ensure the identities of the clients are established and verified. A period of time was granted for compliance with this requirement.
ADDITIONAL MEASURES WHEN A PERSON REPRESENTS OR ACTS ON AUTHORITY OF ANOTHER

Regulation 17 states that if a person wants to establish a business relationship or to conclude a single transaction with an accountable institution on behalf of another person, the accountable institution must, in addition to the normal identification and verification requirements, obtain from that person information which provides proof of that person’s authority to act on behalf of the client.

Information that can be obtained includes mandate, power of attorney, etc.

VERIFICATION IN THE ABSENCE OF CONTACT PERSON
(NON-FACE-TO-FACE CLIENTS)

Regulation 18 stipulates that if the accountable institution obtained identification and verification information from a natural or legal person without contact in person with such a natural person or representative of that legal person, the accountable institution must take reasonable steps to establish the existence and verify the identity of that natural person or legal person.

Authorised FSPs are encouraged to establish procedures for dealing with non-face-to-face clients and must incorporate them into their main client acceptance procedure manual.

6.2 Internal rules as Required by the FIC Act are in Place

Amendment to Section 32 of FIC Act 38 of 2001 (Date of commencement of 3 February 2003)

(1) A report in terms of Section 28, 29 or 31 to the Centre and a report in terms of Section 30 (1) to a person authorised by the Minister must be made in the prescribed manner.

(2) The Centre, or an investigating authority acting with the permission of the Centre or under the authority of an authorised officer, may request an accountable institution, a reporting institution or any other person that has made a report in terms of Section 28, 29 or 31 to furnish the Centre or that investigating authority with such additional information concerning the report and the grounds for the report as the Centre or the investigating authority may reasonably require for the performance by it of its functions.

(3) When an institution or a person referred to in Subsection (2) receives a request under that Subsection, that institution or person must furnish the Centre without delay with such additional information concerning the report and the grounds for the report as that institution or person may have available.
6.3 Employees Receive Training in Respect of their Obligation to Report Suspicious Transactions

6.3.1 Training and Monitoring of Compliance

An accountable institution must 71 -

a. provide training to its employees to enable them to comply with the provisions of this Act and the internal rules applicable to them;

b. appoint a person with the responsibility to ensure compliance by -

c. the employees of the accountable institution with the provisions of this Act and the internal rules applicable to them; and

Deal with the Complaints that have been Submitted to the Ombud for FSPs
This topic covers the following critical learning outcomes:

7.1 Explain the role and authority of the Ombud for FSPs.
7. Deal with Complaints that have been Submitted to the Ombud for FSPs

7.1 The Role and Authority of the Ombud for FSPs

The FAIS Act makes provision for the appointment of an Ombud for financial services.

The function of the Ombud for Financial Services Providers (FAIS Ombud) is:

- to resolve disputes relating to the rendering of financial services by providers where they have either:
  - failed to comply with the FAIS Act; or
  - where as a result of either willful or negligent conduct by the provider, the client has suffered or will potentially suffer prejudice or damage.

The objective of the Ombud office is to provide a fair, unbiased, reasonable, economical and expeditious relief to the ordinary person in the street at no charge.

The Ombud for Financial Services Providers is a body created through law. There are other voluntary ombudsmen created by the financial services industry who also deal with financial disputes, such as the Ombudsman for Banking Services.

Since 1 April 2005, the Ombud for Financial Services Providers was granted the authority to act as Statutory Ombud in terms of the Financial Ombuds Schemes Act 2004 (Act No. 37 of 2004) (“FSOS Act”).

This means that the Ombud for Financial Services Providers can deal with complaints where there is uncertainty over jurisdiction and where the other voluntary ombudsmen do not have jurisdiction.

The following fundamental principles apply to the role of the Ombud for Financial Services Providers:

- The Ombud for Financial Services Providers acts independently and objectively and takes no instructions from any person regarding the exercise of authority.

72 Sections 20 to 32 of the FAIS Act
73 Section 20(3) of the Act
• The services rendered by the Ombud are not to be construed as being similar to those of a professional legal adviser and are confined to the investigation and determination of complaints in terms of the Act and the Rules.

7.1.1 Definition

In terms of the FAIS Act:

Definition of complaint:

“complaint” means, subject to Section 26(1)(a)(iii), a specific complaint relating to a financial service rendered by a financial services provider or representative to the complainant on or after the date of commencement of this Act, and in which complaint it is alleged that the provider or representative –

(a) has contravened or failed to comply with a provision of this Act and that as a result thereof the complainant has suffered or is likely to suffer financial prejudice or damage;

(b) has wilfully or negligently rendered a financial service to the complainant which has caused prejudice or damage to the complainant or which is likely to result in such prejudice or damage; or

(b) has treated the complainant unfairly.

7.1.2 The Power of the Ombud for Financial Services Providers

The Ombud for Financial Services Providers is mandated to investigate and adjudicate complaints by clients against FSPs and representatives.

These complaints could relate to a number of areas of non-compliance with the various codes of conduct promulgated under the FAIS Act and where a financial service has been rendered negligently and where someone has wilfully committed misconduct whilst rendering a financial service.

The FAIS Act requires that when adjudicating a complaint, the Ombud for Financial Services Providers must consider the contractual or other legal relationship between the parties and ultimately do what is equitable in the circumstances.

Compensation could vary from:

• ordering the complainant to be placed in the position in which he would have been had it not been for the misconduct of the representative; or

• it could be to simply correct a misunderstanding.

It all depends on the circumstances of the particular case.
7.1.2.1 Jurisdiction

The following jurisdictional provisions apply to the Ombud in respect of the investigation of complaints: 74

- The Ombud must decline to investigate any complaint which relates to an act or omission which occurred on or after 30 September 2004 but more than three years before the date of receipt of the complaint by the Ombud’s office. This three-year period only starts when the complainant became aware or ought reasonably to have become aware of the problem.
- The Ombud must decline to investigate any complaint if proceedings have already been instituted in any Court in respect of the act or omission.
- The Ombud may, on reasonable grounds, determine that it is more appropriate that the complaint be dealt with by a Court or through any other available dispute resolution process and decline to entertain the complaint.

The complaint must not constitute a monetary claim in excess of R800 000, for a particular kind of financial prejudice or damage, unless the respondent (the FSP) has agreed in writing to this limitation being exceeded, or the complainant has abandoned the amount in excess of R800 000. 75

If a case cannot be settled through mediation or conciliation, the Ombud for Financial Services Providers or the Deputy Ombud for Financial Services Providers may issue a determination. A determination has the same legal effect as a judgment of a court.

Official receipt of a complaint by the Ombud suspends the running of prescription in terms of the Prescription Act, for a period after the receipt of the complaint until the compliant has either been withdrawn, or determined by the Ombud.

7.1.2.2 Report of Ombud

Every year the Ombud must submit a report to the FSCA (FSB) on the affairs and functions of the Ombud during the financial year in question, including the annual financial statements. The Ombud must at the same time submit a copy of the report to the Minister.

This report must be submitted within six months after the end of the financial year.

The management and oversight duties include the management of processes to ensure that the business cooperates in the case of an investigation by the Ombud or the FSCA (FSB).

FSPs must try to resolve complaints and disputes with clients first and if there is no agreement or settlement, the client can approach the Ombud. The FSP must provide adequate contact details of the Ombud to clients.

The Ombud will typically consider a complaint in the following circumstances.

If the complainant alleges that a financial services provider or its representative has:

- contravened or failed to comply with the provisions of the FAIS Act and as a result thereof the complainant has suffered or is likely to suffer financial prejudice or damage;
- wilfully or negligently rendered a financial service to the complainant which has caused prejudice or damage to the complainant or which is likely to result in such damage;
- treated the complainant unfairly.

In terms of the FSOS Act, the Ombud can entertain a complaint relating to any agreement with, or a financial service or product of a financial institution where it is alleged that a client has suffered or potentially will suffer financial prejudice or harm.
Procedures when investigating a complaint

I. The complainant completes a complaint form and submits it to the office of the Ombud for Financial Services Providers. The Ombud may insist that the complaint be referred to and dealt with by the FSP first.
   1. The Ombud must inform every other interested party to the complaint that they have received it. 76
   2. All parties must be provided particulars to enable them to respond to the complaint. 77
   3. All parties must be afforded opportunity to submit a response to the complaint. 78
   4. The Ombud may implement any procedure, including mediation that he deems appropriate and may allow any party the right of legal representation in considering the complaint. 79
   5. The Ombud may require the respondent (FSP/representative) to discuss the complaint and provide any relevant information that the Ombud may require.
   6. The Ombud will, in the first instance, explore any reasonable prospects of resolving a complaint, by a conciliated settlement acceptable to all parties. 80
   7. He may make a recommendation to speedily resolve a complaint and require the parties to confirm in writing whether or not they accept the recommendation. 81
   8. Where the parties accept the recommendation, the recommendation will have the effect of a final determination by the Ombud as contemplated in Section 28(1) of the FAIS Act. 82
   9. The Ombud may dismiss the complaint if he is of the view that the offer made by the FSP is fair and which is still open for acceptance by the complainant. 83
   10. If the complainant is unhappy with the Ombud’s determination he may appeal to the Appeal Board, provided, the Ombud grants leave to appeal.
   11. Note: If the Ombud refuses leave to appeal, the applicant must be advised in writing of such refusal. The applicant may within one month of such refusal apply to the chairperson of the board of appeal for leave to appeal against the

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:

- 81 of 2003 – Section 6

The key individual must ensure that there are adequate processes in place and that staff are informed and trained with regard to the handling of complaints submitted to the Ombud and any investigations by the Ombud’s office.

If a person does something in relation to the FAIS Ombud or in relation to an investigation by the Ombud, which could be regarded as contempt of court by a court, the person is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction to a penalty which could have been imposed by a court.

A person who anticipates a determination of the Ombud and does something to influence the determination or who wilfully interrupts any proceedings of the Ombud, is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction to a fine or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year.

7.3.1 Case Fees, Costs and Interest

In terms of the FAIS Act, read with Rule 9(a) of the Rules of Proceedings of the Office of the Ombud for Financial Services Providers, the FAIS Ombud may charge a case fee of up to R1 000 once a matter has been accepted for investigation. This fee was discontinued when the Office of the Ombud announced that the case fee will no longer be charged with effect from 10 September 2012.

When making a final determination in terms of Section 28 of the Act, the Ombud may grant costs against the respondent or, in the circumstances contemplated by Section 28(2)(b)(iii), against the complainant, in either case in favour of the other party to the complaint or in favour of the Office. Any costs awarded by the Ombud must be quantified by the Ombud with due regard to the nature of the complaint, the time spent on the complaint, the expense and inconvenience caused to a party, the conduct of a party in resolving the complaint and any other factor deemed by the Ombud to be appropriate.

The Ombud for Financial Services Providers (FAIS Ombud) and the Statutory Ombud are one and the same entity.

The main objective of the Ombud for Financial Services Providers (FAIS Ombud) is to resolve disputes relating to the rendering of financial services by providers where they have either failed to comply with the FAIS Act, acted negligently, causing the client to suffer, or the client will potentially suffer some form of prejudice or damage.

The FAIS Act requires that when adjudicating a complaint, the Ombud for Financial Services Providers (FAIS Ombud) must consider the contractual or other legal relationship between the parties and ultimately do what is equitable in the circumstances.
There are certain procedures for a client to lodge a complaint with the Ombud for Financial Services Providers (FAIS Ombud) and the FSP must assist the client with the required information.

FAIS Act – Sections 27(5), 27(6) and 31

27. Receipt of complaints, prescription, jurisdiction and investigation

(5) The Ombud -

(a) may, in investigating or determining an officially received complaint, follow and implement any procedure (including mediation) which the Ombud deems appropriate, and may allow any party the right of legal representation;

(b) must, in the first instance, explore any reasonable prospect of resolving a complaint by a conciliated settlement acceptable to all parties;

(c) may, in order to resolve a complaint speedily by conciliation, make a recommendation to the parties, requiring them to confirm whether or not they accept the recommendation and, where the recommendation is not accepted by a party, requiring that party to give reasons for not accepting it:

Provided that where the parties accept the recommendation, such recommendation has the effect of a final determination by the Ombud, contemplated in Section 28(1);

(d) may, in a manner that the Ombud deems appropriate, delineate the functions of investigation and determination between various functionaries of the Office;

(e) may, on terms specified by the Ombud, mandate any person or tribunal to perform any of the functions referred to in paragraph (d).

(6) For the purposes of any investigation or determination by the Ombud, the provisions of the Commissions Act, 1947 (Act No. 8 of 1947), regarding the summoning and examination of persons and the administering of oaths or affirmations to them, the calling for the production of books, documents and objects, and offences by witnesses, apply with the necessary changes.

4. Analyse the following statement and choose the most correct answer. When dealing with complaints the Ombud must be independent and impartial. The objective of the Ombud is to consider and dispose of complaints. What is the manner in which the Ombud must deal with a complaint?

| a. In a fair manner |
| b. In an informal manner |
| c. In an economical and expeditious manner |
| d. All of the above |

5. Apply your knowledge of the different departments at the Registrar’s office and complete the missing word in the following sentence: Compliance Department: Responsible for dealing with complaints against FSPs that cannot be referred to the FAIS Ombud, investigations into the affairs of FSPs and __________ (suspension and withdrawal of licenses) and updating debarments on the central representative register as well as reinstatement of representatives on the central register.

| a. Regulatory Action |
| b. Supervisory Action |
| c. Enforcement Action |
| d. Complaints Action |

6. Ryan has instituted civil action against FSP Renown Deals and is claiming for R900 000 damages due to poor advice given to him. He has just heard about the FAIS Ombud, and that he can institute action at no cost (rather than fat lawyer’s bills) and wants to open a complaint at the Ombud as well. He reckons he should cover his bets and that one way or the other, he has a better chance of winning his case. He wants to claim the full R900 000.

| a. Ryan cannot institute proceedings in the office of the Ombud and civilly at the same time, and the Ombud only has jurisdiction up to R800 000, so he will have to choose to go civil for the R900 000 or Ombud for R800 000 |
| b. Ryan may do this, but will have to pay his lawyer to represent him with the FAIS Ombud as well |

7. Within the FSCA (FSB) there are three departments that a Key Individual need to be aware of. These three departments are the Registration Department, the Supervision Department and the Enforcement Department. Key Individuals will liaise with each FAIS division in the execution of their duties. Which of the following is incorrect? The departments are responsible for the following:

a. The Registration Department is responsible for new licence applications, profile changes, updating the central Representative register, approval of mandates and application forms for discretionary FSPs and administrative FSPs, lapsing of licences, queries on licence status and collection of levies together with the FSCA (FSB) Finance Department

b. The Supervision Department is responsible for new licence applications, profile changes, updating the central Representative register, approval of mandates and application forms for discretionary FSPs and administrative FSPs, lapsing of licences, queries on licence status and collection of levies together with the FSCA (FSB) Finance Department

c. The Supervision Department is responsible for the implementation of a risk-based approach to supervision of Financial Service Providers, analysis of financial statements and compliance reports, conducting onsite visits to FSPs and Compliance Officers and liaising with the industry relating to changes in legislation

d. The Enforcement Department is responsible for dealing with complaints against FSPs that cannot be referred to the FAIS Ombud, and conducting onsite visits to FSPs and Compliance Officers

8. Select the correct answer:

a. The Ombud must act on all complaints received after the implementation of the act in 2002

b. The Ombud must decline to act on a complaint the occurrence of which is older than one year.

c. The Ombud must decline to act on a complaint the occurrence of which is older than three years. Note - the three years starts from when the complainant first became aware or should have become aware of the problem

9. Select the incorrect answer:

a. Official receipt of a complaint by the Ombud suspends the running of prescription in terms of the Prescription Act, 1969 (Act No. 68 of 1969), for the period after such receipt of the complaint until the complaint has either been withdrawn, or determined by the Ombud or the board of appeal

b. Official receipt of a complaint by the Ombud does not suspend the running of prescription in terms of the Prescription Act, 1969 (Act no. 68 of 1969,) for the period after such receipt of the complaint until the complaint has been withdrawn, or determined by the Ombud or the Board of Appeal
10. The FAIS Ombud investigates and adjudicates complaints by clients against FSPs and representatives. When investigating a complaint, which one of the procedures may he rule on? Choose the CORRECT one.

a. The Ombud may not dismiss the complaint, even if he is of the view that the offer made by the FSP is fair

b. If the complainant is unhappy with the Ombud’s determination he may appeal to the FSCA (FSB) provided the Ombud gives permission

c. The Ombud may implement any procedure including mediation which he deems appropriate and may allow any party the right of legal representation in considering the complaint

8. Operate as a representative in terms of the FAIS Act

8.1 Describe the Roles and Responsibilities of Representatives as Defined in the FAIS Act

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:

- 104 of 2008 – Sections 3(b)(i), 4(9)

8.1.1 Definition of a Representative

The FAIS Act defines a “representative” as follows:

"Representative" means any person, including a person employed or mandated by such first-mentioned person, who renders a financial service to a client for or on behalf of a financial services provider, in terms of conditions of employment or any other mandate, but excludes a person rendering clerical, technical, administrative, legal, accounting or other service in a subsidiary or subordinate capacity, which service –

- does not require judgment on the part of the latter person; or
- does not lead a client to any specific transaction in respect of a financial product in response to general enquiries;"

The representative IS:

- a person who renders a financial service (advice or intermediary service) to a client
- on behalf of a provider (licensed FSP)
- by virtue of an employment contract with the provider or
- by virtue of a mandate from the provider.
The representative is NOT:

- a person who provides clerical, technical, administrative, legal, accounting or related service IF
  - that service requires no judgment; OR
  - does not specifically influence (lead) a client towards a financial product transaction when the client merely enquires about the product or service.

From this definition it is clear that whenever a person gives advice as defined in the Act, he will fall within the definition of “representative”. Should a person, however, only render intermediary services as defined in the Act, his status as “representative” will depend on whether he uses judgement in providing clerical, administrative, legal, accounting or related services.

8.1.2 Roles and Responsibilities of Representatives

As discussed above, once a person makes a recommendation, proposal or gives guidance in respect of a financial product to a client, that person is a representative.

As the representative of an FSP, the representative either renders an intermediary service and/or gives advice to clients.

As such, the representative does not act for himself, but for the FSP. Even in the case of a sole proprietor FSP, the whole business may consist of only one person, but the person fulfils various roles and in different legal and regulatory 'persona'.

8.1.2.1 The Responsibilities of Representatives

A representative gives advice and/or provides an intermediary service to the clients of the FSP.

A representative must confirm to clients (and certified by the FSP) that he:

- has an employment or mandate agreement with the FSP, to represent the FSP; and
- that the FSP accepts responsibility for the activities of the representative performed in terms of the agreement.

A representative must be fit and proper as required by the FAIS Act. (We discuss this in more detail below.)

Representatives appointed after 1 January 2010 may have to work under supervision while getting the required qualifications, experience and/or completing the regulatory examinations.

A representative must comply with the FAIS Act and other relevant laws which apply to the conduct of business. (The compliance with the General Code is discussed in more detail below.)

If a representative also acts as a key individual (discussed above), it follows that the representative will also have those responsibilities (KI responsibilities), in addition to the representative responsibilities.

If a representative was debarred, he can only operate as a representative again if the procedures for reappointment of debarred representatives have been followed.
8.2 Explain when an Individual is Obliged to be Registered in terms of FAIS

8.2.1 Appointment of Representatives

The FAIS Registrar does not issue licenses to representatives, nor does the Registrar “approve” representatives.

The FSP appoints representatives and carries all the responsibilities in relation to ensuring that the representatives are fit and proper and comply with legislation and the FAIS subordinate legislation in particular (like the General Code).

The FAIS Registrar (FSCA (FSB)) authorises an FSP to provide financial services and issues a license. Representatives are not “licensed” by the FSCA (FSB). If they meet all the requirements they are authorised by the FSP to render financial services on its behalf and they are then included on the representative register in a specific capacity.

Representatives are appointed by the FSP, either through contract of employment or through another mandate agreement. Section 7 of the FAIS Act stipulates that person may not act as a representative of an authorised financial service provider unless the person has been appointed as such.

Representatives act on behalf of the FSP and the FSP is responsible for the actions of the representative insolar as the representative provides a financial service in respect of FAIS products.

As such, the FSP must maintain a register of all the representatives and key individuals employed or mandated by the FSP. Section 13 of the FAIS Act stipulates that only lawfully appointed, and fit and proper representatives are able to render financial services on behalf of an FSP.

Part of the management and oversight duties of a key individual, within the FSP is to oversee and manage all aspects relating to representatives.
8.3 Representatives Register

- 104 of 2008 – Section 2(a)
- BN 194 Of 2017 Ch 2,3,4,6

8.3.1 Overview of the Register of Representatives

The FAIS Act 88 requires that every FSP must have and maintain a register with information about the appointed representatives and where the representatives have key individuals, the information of those key individuals must also appear on the register. (Juristic representatives will have key individuals).

The purpose of the register is to:

- provide a record of all the representatives of an FSP (and where applicable, key individuals of juristic representatives) which shows:
  - personal information, capacity of the representative (employee/mandatory), compliance with fit and proper requirements and the applicable categories and subcategories the representative is appointed for or key individual is approved for
- enable the Registrar to maintain a central register with all the information gathered from the FSP registers; and
- calculate the levies (fees) payable by the FSP in respect of each representative and key individual.

88 Section 13 of the FAIS Act 37 of 2002
8.3.2 Information Required for the Register of Representatives

8.3.3 Updating the Register of Representatives

The FSP must ensure that the register is constantly updated, adding and removing representatives and key individuals. The register must be sent (uploaded) to the Registrar within 15 days of changes either in hard copy format or electronically.

The key individual is responsible, as part of the management and oversight functions, to ensure that the representative register is updated and sent to the Registrar as required. Changes in the circumstances of representatives or key individuals must be recorded in the register.

Table 8.2 : Changes may include:

Key individuals must ensure that there are adequate procedures in place to record the information as well as to identify changes in the information and record same.
8.4 Processes that enable FSPs to check that a representative meets the fit and proper requirements and can be appointed

This section covers the processes that enable FSPs to check that a representative meets the fit and proper requirements and can be appointed.

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:

- 104 of 2008 – Section 3(b)
- 194 of 2017 – Chapters 2, 3, 4 & 6

8.4.1 Overview of the Fit and Proper Requirements for Representatives

The fit and proper requirements for honesty, integrity and good standing are the same for both representatives and key individuals. The main difference between the fit and proper requirements for these two role-players comes in with the required competence and CPD.

Remember, the FSP, appoints or mandates a representative to act for and on behalf of the FSP. This also means that the FSP is responsible, in terms of the FAIS Act, to ensure that the appointed/mandated representatives meet all the FAIS Act requirements, including fit and proper.

It is important to understand what is meant by „date of first appointment“, as it indicates the type of qualification and experience needed in the various categories.

The date of first appointment means the date on which a person was first deployed in a FAIS role; it does not mean the date on which they started to work in the current organisation.

For example, a person may have started an insurance or banking career on 1 June 2006. The person was not appointed as a representative at that stage. On 1 September 2008, the person started in a new function, with the same organisation (or another one), as a FAIS representative. This date, 1 September 2008, is the „date of first appointment“ for purposes of the FAIS Act.

8.4.2 What are the Fit and Proper Requirements for Representatives?

The fit and proper requirements for all representatives include the following:

- Honesty, integrity and good standing
- Competence (including experience, qualifications, and knowledge tested through examinations determined by the Registrar)
- Continuous professional development
8.4.2.1 Honesty, Integrity and Good Standing

The requirements in terms of honesty, integrity and good standing are the same for key individuals and representatives.

The FSP, in appointing or mandating a representative, may refer to any information it has or anything that is brought to its attention, relating to the approval of the representative. 89

The FAIS Registrar has similar powers, even though the FSCA (FSB) does not approve or appoint a representative, the Registrar may still use information it has, to question the approval of a representative or even to debar a representative.

As with key individuals, the honesty, integrity and good standing requirement is ongoing and the FSP must ensure that the representatives appointed and mandated to provide financial service remain qualified in terms of these personal attributes.

To achieve this, the representative must declare to the FSP on a regular basis if there is any change in his personal situation that affects his status negatively. 90

If the FSP becomes aware of a change in the circumstances of the representative that affects his honesty, integrity and good standing adversely, the FSP is obliged to debar the representative. This means that the FSP must prevent the representative from rendering any financial service by withdrawing any authority to act on its behalf.

In addition, the FSP must remove the name of the representative from the representative register and must advise the Regulator and also inform the Regulator what action the FSP has taken.

The following table summarises factors that may exclude a person from being a representative. The factors mentioned below are merely some of the indications of the fitness and propriety of a representative and should not be regarded as a “closed list”.

A person may not be appointed as a representative if:

The person was found guilty in any criminal proceedings or liable in any civil proceedings of acting fraudulently, dishonestly, unprofessionally, dishonourably or in breach of a fiduciary duty within five (5) years before application, approval and appointment.

The person was found guilty by any statutory professional body or voluntary professional body of dishonesty, negligence, incompetence or mismanagement serious enough to call into question the honesty, integrity and good standing of the representative, within five (5) years before appointment.

The person was denied membership of any statutory professional body or voluntary professional body because of an act of dishonesty, negligence, incompetence or mismanagement, within five (5) years before application, approval and appointment.

The person was found guilty by a regulatory or supervisory body of an act of dishonesty, negligence, incompetence or mismanagement serious enough to call into question the honesty, integrity and good standing of the representative, within five (5) years before appointment.

89 This is implied in Section 13(2) and 8(2)(b) of the Act
90 This is implied in Section 13(2)(b) of the Act integrity and good standing of the representative, within five (5) years before appointment.

The FSP had its authorisation to carry on business/any license withdrawn or suspended by any regulatory or supervisory body because of an act of dishonesty, negligence, incompetence or mismanagement of the representative, within five (5) years before application, approval and appointment.

The person was disqualified or prohibited by a court from taking part in the management of any company or other statutorily created, recognised or regulated body, current or not, irrespective of whether such disqualification has since been lifted or not.

An important additional incident listed in the regulations is where the FSPs, KIs and/or Reps have “… demonstrated a lack of readiness and willingness to comply with legal, regulatory or professional requirements and standards.”

8.4.2.2 Competency and Continuous Professional Development Requirements for Representatives

The Act requires that representatives must have certain minimum experience, qualifications and that they should complete prescribed exams, all of these within stipulated deadline dates. To understand which competency requirements/deadline dates apply to each representative, it is necessary to correctly establish the first-ever date of appointment into a FAIS role.

The “date of first appointment” into a FAIS role refers to the date when the individual was appointed, at any financial services provider in the industry, to render financial services in terms of the FAIS Act.

The competency requirements for representatives are made up of the following:

- Minimum experience requirements;
- Relevant qualifications requirements;
- Successful completion of relevant regulatory examinations.
The following general competency requirements are discussed in more detail in the material to follow.

Table 8.3

GENERAL COMPETENCY REQUIREMENTS FOR REPRESENTATIVES

A representative, must at date of appointment by an FSP:

- have the minimum experience requirements;
- have all the required qualifications (unless the representative works under supervision and the minimum qualifications for supervision are met);
- must have completed all regulatory examinations.

PROVIDED THAT

The Registrar may exempt representatives from any of the above while they are working (providing financial service) under supervision.

A health service representative must be accredited as a broker or apprentice broker if services are performed under supervision in terms of the Medical Schemes Act.

Once all the qualifications, experience and regulatory examination requirements are met, the representative must complete CPD as required.

Once all the qualifications, experience and regulatory examination requirements are met, the representative must complete CPD as required.

8.4.2.3 Experience Requirements for Representatives

The experience required for a representative must be practical – „hands-on“ experience. This means that the representative must have provided advice/rendered intermediary services in respect of the products and services in the subcategories for which he seeks appointment.

Difference between general and specific experience

There are general experience requirements and specific experience requirements for representatives. The main differentiating factor between the general experience requirements applicable to all representatives and the specific requirements lies in the nature of the products in the different categories and the length of experience gained in the preceding five-year (5-year) period.

Representatives may obtain the experience while providing financial services under supervision and may therefore be exempted from compliance with the requirements when appointed (subject to the criteria and requirements for services under supervision).

The specific experience requirements in respect of each subcategory are published in the subordinate legislation and show the number of months/years, in a table format, required for each subcategory, where applicable. (Categories IIA and III do not have tables because of the nature of the business.)
GENERAL EXPERIENCE requirements that apply to ALL representatives in ALL the categories.

- The representative must, on the date of appointment (by the FSP), meet the minimum experience required in the different subcategories (as described in the relevant table).

- It must be practical experience gained in the rendering of financial services in the different categories and the subcategories concerned provided that the experience:
  - involved the active and ongoing gaining of knowledge, skills and expertise required in terms of the Act;
  - was obtained through active involvement in providing financial services and could have been gained while working under supervision for the minimum experience period;
  - could have been gained within or outside the borders of South Africa;
  - could have been gained in intermittent periods, not more than five (5) years prior to the application, and includes experience gained prior to the implementation of the FAIS Act. The dates relating to the experience must be clearly stated;
  - could have been gained simultaneously in multiple subcategories, provided that proof of such experience can be submitted.

SPECIFIC EXPERIENCE REQUIREMENTS for representatives for each category.

Experience requirements for Category I Representatives

- All the general experience requirements must be met in relation to Category I and the subcategories concerned, and in addition:
  - if the license changes to include other financial services or other subcategories, the experience requirements of the other subcategories must be met provided that:
    - if the change includes additional financial service (advice and intermediary service), the representative must obtain 50% of the experience requirements applicable to the additional financial services (as indicated in the applicable table); and
    - if the change relates to an additional subcategory, the representative must obtain 100% of the experience requirements applicable to the additional subcategory (as indicated in the applicable table).

Experience requirements for Category II Representatives

- All the general experience requirements must be met in respect of Category II and the subcategories concerned and, in addition:
  - the experience could have been gained in a team environment where
  - the person participated in the process of making investment decisions while working under supervision; and
  - if the license changes to include the financial services in other subcategories, the experience requirements of the other subcategories must be met.
Experience requirements for Category IIA Representatives

- All the general experience requirements must be met in respect of Category IIA and, in addition:
  - the representative must have three (3) years’ practical experience in the rendering of financial services in Category IIA.

Experience requirements for Category III Representatives

- All the general experience requirements must be met in respect of Category III, and in addition:
  - the representative must have three (3) years’ practical experience in the rendering of financial services in Category III;
  - it must be practical experience gained in the rendering of financial services as referred to in the definition of “Administrative FSP”.

Experience Requirements for Category IV Representatives

- All the general experience requirements must be met in respect of Category IV, and in addition:
  - the representative must have one year practical experience in the rendering of financial services as referred to in the definition of “administration of assistance policies”.

8.4.2.4 Qualification requirements for representatives

Representatives, like key individuals, must also meet qualification criteria in order to be fit and proper and must, therefore, have appropriate qualifications.

The FAIS Registrar publishes a list of "recognised qualifications" for each category and subcategory. When a representative is responsible for more than one category or subcategory he needs to have a qualification that meets the most onerous requirements. There is no need to have a qualification for each category or subcategory.

Qualifying Criteria

In order to establish which qualifications are recognised as appropriate for representatives, the qualifications must meet the qualifying criteria, also set by the Registrar and published in the subordinate legislation.

The qualifying criteria serve two purposes. It is used to:

- evaluate the content of the qualifications; and
- set the standards for the regulatory examinations.

The qualifying criteria describe what a person must know (knowledge) and what a person must be able to do (skill) in order to complete a specific task (such as giving advice and/or rendering intermediary services) successfully.
Table 8.1 - Example of qualifying criteria for a representative

<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Types of Qualifications

As with key individuals, one of the competency requirements for fitness and propriety beyond 2010 is that the representative must have an appropriate qualification.

The FAIS Registrar publishes a list of „recognised qualifications“ for each category and subcategory.

It is not possible for all qualifications to meet all the qualification criteria, and you find that some qualifications content meets 80% of specific criteria, and others may meet 100% of the applicable criteria.

The main reason for the differentiation and classification of qualifications is to indicate if a person has to complete a regulatory examination, in addition to the qualification. To differentiate between the qualifications, the Regulator introduced a “rating” system.

</tr>
<tr>

<td>Will be exempted from the product-specific regulatory examination.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Qualifications list

The Registrar will publish an updated qualifications list, as subordinate legislation, at least four (4) times a year. If a particular qualification is not on the list, application can be made to the FSCA (FSB) (download the form from the FSCA (FSB) website) for recognition.
Appointment dates

There are different qualification requirements for different appointment dates. Representatives appointed between 2004 and 2009 are subject to the transitional arrangements published in the subordinate legislation. These rules determine the type of qualification that is required as well as arrangements regarding the requirements in terms of experience, regulatory examinations and CPD.

Representatives appointed from 2010 onwards must get a full qualification from the qualification list and comply with the other fit and proper requirements relating to competence.

Any changes or additions to a license of an FSP, KI or appointment of a Rep, after the commencement date of 1 April 2018, the new requirements will have to be met.

When reviewing acceptable qualifications, the Registrar will determine if the qualification provides the relevant knowledge and skills necessary for the KI and Rep to fulfil the responsibilities under the Act.

There are two instances where these qualification requirements do not apply:

- Where FSPs, KIs and Representatives render financial services only in respect of Long-term Insurance subcategory A and/or Friendly Society Benefits, and/or
- Where Reps are appointed to perform “execution of sales” only. In this case, Reps must meet a minimum qualification of Grade 12 National Certificate or equivalent.

8.4.3 Regulatory Examinations for Representatives

To meet the fit and proper requirements in terms of competence, representatives have to complete the relevant first level regulatory examinations (within the prescribed dates).

Regulatory examinations for Representatives

All representatives will be required to complete the first level regulatory examination applicable to representatives.

All representatives performing financial services in relation to Category I, II, IIA, III and/or IV are required to complete the first level regulatory examination based on the qualifying criteria.

There is provision in the legislation that representatives may be appointed without having completed the relevant regulatory examination as long as the representatives work under supervision in the particular category or subcategory. The regulatory examination must then be completed in terms of the requirements which apply to services under supervision.

The Registrar appointed examination bodies that are responsible for compiling the examination questions and for administering the examinations.

Representatives who were first appointed into a FAIS role between 30 September 2004 and 31 December 2009 must complete the first level regulatory examination by 31 December 2011 (except for product subcategories Long-term Insurance Category A and Friendly Society Benefits, which have different completion dates and requirements).
8.4.4 Continuous Professional Development for Representatives

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:

- 194 of 2017 – Chapter 4

Representatives will also have to complete CPD programmes.

The FSCA (FSB) must approve CPD activities and/or programmes and BN 194 of 2017 contains the conditions for approval.

Examples of verifiable CPD programmes and/or activities include the following:

- Courses, conferences and seminars
- Studies leading to informal assessments (e.g. additional qualification, which may be done through private study, distance learning or attendance at formal courses)
- Workshops
- Structured self-study programmes, including web-based, computer-based or paper-based delivery that assess knowledge

The amount of time spent by the role-players (such as key individuals, representatives and Compliance Officers) on updating skills and knowledge through participation in CPD programmes, reflects the CPD notional hours which are prescribed for each function in the subordinate legislation. CPD will require that between 12 to 36 notional hours be achieved during a three-year cycle.

CPD notional hours must be completed every three years. The three-year cycle will start on successful completion of the highest level regulatory examination. However, CPD cannot start later than six years from date of first-ever appointment into a FAIS role or date of approval as a KI.
8.5 Representatives under Supervision

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:
- 104 of 2008 – Section 3(b), 4(3), 4(4), 6(2)
- 194 of 2017 – Section 7(7), 7(12)

Definition of service under supervision:

Board Notice 104 of 2008 defines “service under supervision” to mean financial services rendered by a representative who does not meet the prescribed experience, qualification and/or regulatory examination requirements and which services are rendered under the guidance, instruction and supervision of a supervisor in terms of the provisions of an exemption by the Registrar under Section 44 of the Act.

It is not always possible to appoint representatives who meet the experience and qualification requirements at date of appointment. Therefore, the FAIS Regulator provided an exemption (published in Board Notice 104 of 2008) from the requirement in Section 13(2) of the Act, which requires representatives to meet all the fit and proper requirements when rendering financial services.

In terms of the exemption 91, representatives will not have to comply in respect of experience, qualifications and regulatory examinations with the standards set for the representatives at the date of appointment.

The exemption allows representatives to gain experience, get qualifications and complete the regulatory examinations whilst working under supervision in Categories I, II, IIA, III and IV.

The exemption is subject to certain conditions.

Representatives can only be offered the opportunity to work under supervision if the authorised FSP can satisfy the Registrar that it has the required operational ability to facilitate services under supervision. 92

93 Board Notice 60 of 2010.
The new requirements introduce:

6 new product categories for Tier 1, separated from or are associated with existing subcategories.

‘New’ Product Categories

Details of the 6 new product categories have been set out in Table 8.4. Five of these product categories are only new in the sense that they have been stripped out from existing product categories and have been assumed their own grouping or name. This means that FSPs who are already licensed for the associated or ‘old’ subcategory and make use of financial products which now fall into the new product category will have to take the necessary steps to update their licence.

Failure to do so means that an FSP will no longer be able to do business in those financial products which now fall under a new product category.

Representatives can, on appointment, only be exempted from the fit and proper requirements relating to full qualifications if the following criteria are met:

Exemption from competence requirements for Category I and IV Representatives

To qualify for the exemption:

- representatives working in these categories must have the following entry level qualifications when appointed by the FSP:
  - Matric;
  - Grade 12; or
  - An appropriate certificate at NQF Level 4. 94
- representatives working in Subcategories 1.1 Long-term Insurance Category A and/or 1.19 Friendly Society Benefits must have the following entry level qualifications when appointed by the FSP:
  - ABET Level 1; or
  - the proven ability to read, write and calculate to the satisfaction of the FSP. 95
- The representative must complete an „appropriate” full qualification within the prescribed date.

The key individual is responsible for the management and oversight of the representatives who are rendering financial services under the FSP license for which the key individual is appointed. As such, services under supervision must also be managed by the key individual, who needs to ensure that suitable supervisors are appointed.

Supervisees are expected to obtain experience across the subcategories in respect of which they are appointed as a representative, but should this prove to be problematic during the minimum period under supervision due to business reasons, the FSP (through its key individual) should make arrangements to either place the supervisee in a position where he can gain experience in the specific subcategory, or extend the period under supervision to ensure that the supervisee receives sufficient exposure. The maximum period under supervision may however not exceed six (6) years.

The FSP must indicate on the representative register whether the representative is acting under supervision or not. The register has to distinguish between representatives who are acting under supervision and those who meet all the requirements and are not acting under supervision.

The following parties may act as supervisors:

94 Section 3(b)(i) of BN 104
95 Ibid
• An authorised FSP being a natural person; or
• A representative of the provider who meets, to the satisfaction of the provider, the relevant requirements of the exemption; or
• A key individual of the FSP who meets to the satisfaction of the provider, the relevant requirements of the exemption.

A supervisor must have completed and meet the relevant requirements regarding experience and qualification and at least the first level regulatory examination before he is allowed to act as a supervisor for a specific category.

Exemption from competence requirements for Category II, IIA and III representatives to qualify for the exemption.

Representatives working in these categories must have a degree or similar professional qualification that meets the qualification requirements when appointed by the FSP.

Board Notice 104 provides the following important definitions:

Definition of direct supervision:
“direct supervision” means the supervision of the financial services rendered by a representative under the guidance, instructions and supervision of a supervisor, and which occurs on a regular (ranging between daily and weekly) basis.

Definition of ongoing level of supervision:
“ongoing level” of supervision means the way in which supervision is exercised after the initial period of services under direct supervision has been completed, but the supervisee still requires supervision, and such supervision occurs on at least a bi-weekly to monthly basis.

Definition of investment team meetings:
“investment team meetings” means morning meetings and/or similarly structured meetings that refer to the practice of discretionary financial service providers where the investment team discusses and decides on the investment policy, strategy or the implementation of a specific investment decision.
8.6 Qualified Individuals in the Role of Supervisor

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:
- 104 of 2008 – Exemption for Services under Supervision
- 104 of 2008 – Sections 4(3), 4(9)(f), 6(2)

Services under supervision are an important addition to the FAIS fit and proper requirements because they allow representatives who are not competent (as far as the required qualifications are concerned) to gain their competence levels while working.

There are a number of conditions attached to the rendering of services under supervision:

- The FSP must satisfy the Registrar that it has the required operational ability to facilitate services under supervision;
- Representatives may work under supervision in Categories I, II, IIA, III and IV;
- There are different “entry level” requirements for each of these categories;
- Representatives must get their qualifications within the prescribed time;
- Representatives have certain duties while working under supervision. Refer to the summary of the various duties and responsibilities explained previously;
- Supervisors have certain duties while overseeing representatives. Refer to the summary of the various duties and responsibilities explained previously.

- Disclose to clients that he is acting under supervision.
- Complete the required qualifications within the prescribed time limits.
- Undertake the relevant product training.
- Request guidance from the supervisor if in doubt.
- The supervision period must be linked to the category or subcategory the representative is appointed for.
- Maximum period any representative can act under supervision in any category or subcategory is six (6) years from date of appointment.
- Representatives working in multiple categories or subcategories can get experience in all the categories at the same time. They remain under supervision until they meet requirements for the most onerous category.
- Must complete RE1 (for the applicable category or subcategory) within two (2) years of appointment as representative.
The financial services provider (through its key individual) must ensure that the normal working relationship between the supervisee and supervisor allows the supervisor oversight of the activities performed by the supervisee as per agreement, and that there is regular contact that enables the transfer of skills, which may include face-to-face and/or contact via electronic means, between the supervisee and supervisor in the execution of their duties.

8.8 Supervisor's Role

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:
• 104 of 2008 – Sections 4(9), 7, 4, 9, 9(c)

Summary of specific supervisory requirements for Categories II, IIA and III (in addition to the above)

The supervisor must also ensure the following: (remember key individuals are responsible for managing and overseeing, to ensure that supervisors comply with the requirements)

• In Category II and IIA, when a supervisor signs-off on transactions regarding intermediary services, the supervisor must check that the representative carries out instructions accurately and in line with the relevant mandate and/or consensus decision.
• Review and approve discretionary financial services provided by representatives (Categories II and IIA), in writing before a transaction is concluded or executed.
• Approve a transaction before it is finalised if the representative renders a discretionary financial service in respect of all representatives acting under supervision of Category III OR if it cannot be approved before conclusion, it must be approved within a reasonable time thereafter.
• Ensure that all actions by the representatives in Categories II and IIA, adhere to the mandate and/or morning meeting decisions.
• Conduct sample checks on a weekly basis to ensure that the supervisee did not deviate from the relevant mandate and/or investment team meetings.
• Ensure that the supervision requirements are not lessened in intensity during the duration of the period under supervision.

For Category II & IIA FSPs, the following will also be recognised for supervision purposes:

• Minutes of the “investment team” meetings will be accepted as sign-off.
• Sign-off regarding intermediary services will require that the supervisor checks that the Representative carries out instructions accurately and in line with the relevant mandate and/or consensus decisions.
8.9 Supervisory Functions

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:
- 104 of 2008 – Section 2, 4(4), 4(3), 4(9)

Definition of Supervisor:
Referring to Board Notice 104 of 2008, “supervisor” means –

- An authorised financial services provider being a natural person; or
- A representative of the provider who meets, to the satisfaction of the provider, the relevant requirements of this Exemption; or
- A key individual of the financial services provider who meets, to the satisfaction of the provider, the relevant requirements of this Exemption.

The FSP must have procedures in place to monitor the compliance of supervisors. These processes must be documented.

Types of Supervision Activities
Supervision may include one or more of the following activities:

- Sign-off by a supervisor on the advice given to client
- Pre-transaction sign-off by a supervisor where intermediary services are rendered
- Attending meetings with supervisees and clients, where the purpose of the meeting is the rendering of financial services
- Appropriate post-transaction sampling
- Follow-up calls to clients after the rendering of financial services by the supervisee to confirm certain aspects of the interaction with the client
- Any other activity that enables the supervisor to scrutinise the activities of the supervisee in respect of rendering financial services.
8.10 Disclosure

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notices:
- Part II – General Provisions
- Part III – Information on Product Suppliers
- Part IV – Information on Providers
- Part VI – Information about Financial Service

Representatives must disclose the following:
- The signed “authority” from the FSP for whom the representative is acting, indicating the fit and proper status of the representative in relation to the financial service being rendered;
- The fact that the representative is acting under supervision, if applicable;
- Any changes to the personal situation of the representative with regard to the honesty and integrity requirements.

8.11 Define the Purpose of Debarment

The purpose of debarment is to prevent a representative in certain circumstances from rendering financial services to clients, by removing him from the representative register. Debarment has certain ramifications, such as the fact that a person who is debarred may not render financial services in the industry. On the other hand, removing a person from the representative register because he left the employment of a specific FSP is not debarment.

Debarment is a requirement of the FAIS Act, and Section 14 of the FAIS Act requires an FSP to:
- ensure that a representative who is no longer fit and proper;
- is prohibited by the FSP to provide any new financial services.

The FSP must do this by:
- withdrawing the authority of the representative to act for and on behalf of the FSP; and
- removing the name of the representative from the representative register.

The FSP must also:
- take immediate steps to ensure that the debarment does not prejudice the interests of the clients of the representative; and
- take steps to notify all affected clients.
Debarment:
The responsible authority for a financial sector law may make a debarment order in respect of a natural person if the person has:
- Contravened a financial sector law in a material way.

8.12 Debarment of Representatives

8.12.1 Reasons for Debarment and Debarment Procedure

Note: This section must be studied in conjunction with the following Board Notice:
- 194 of 2017 – Chapters 2, 3, 4 & 6
- BN 82 of 2003
- FAIS Act Section 14

Representatives must be debarred when they:
- do not meet the FAIS fit and proper requirements

The fit and proper requirements applicable to representatives are as follows:
- Honesty and integrity;
- Competency:
  - Experience
  - Qualifications
  - Regulatory examinations; and
  - CPD.

There are defined timelines for successful completion of the experience, qualifications, regulatory examinations and CPD requirements. The CPD requirements will only become effective at a later stage. The timelines are as follows: 96

Date of first appointment: 2004 to 2007

For FSPs (sole proprietors), key individuals and representatives who were approved or appointed in terms of the FAIS Act between 2004 (when the Act went into effect) and 31 December 2007, the requirements are that they must have met the relevant qualification requirements (either a full qualification or an appropriate skills programme) by 31 December 2009.

These requirements can be found in Part 10 of the Determination of Fit and Proper Requirements for Financial Services Providers.

96 FAIS Circular 01/2010
Date of first appointment: 2008 to 2009

The competence requirements for representatives, who were appointed for the first time in respect of a specific product category in 2008 or 2009, are also provided for in Part 10 of the Determination of Fit and Proper Requirements for Financial Services Providers.

Representatives with a date of first appointment from 1/1/2008 to 31/12/2009, have a choice of either completing an appropriate skills programme by 31/12/2011 or a full qualification as published by the Registrar, by 31/12/2013.

Failure by a representative to meet the competency requirements by the relevant date means that the FSP is required to take appropriate action, as explained in this circular.

The FSCA (FSB) issued a Circular in March 2010 that deals specifically with the issues around not meeting the fit and proper requirements and required action by the FSP. The Circular reads as follows:

"Implications if a representative does not meet the qualification requirements"

Failure by the representative to meet the necessary qualification requirements means that the representative is no longer fit and proper in terms of Section 8(1) of the FAIS Act.

Therefore, in terms of Section 14 of the FAIS Act, an authorised financial services provider must ensure that any representative of the provider who no longer complies with the requirements referred to in Section 13(2)(a) is removed from the register referred to in Section 13(3) of the Act.

This also applies to any representative who has contravened or failed to comply with any provision of this Act in a material manner. This means that any such representative is prohibited by the provider from rendering any new financial service by withdrawing any authority to act on behalf of the provider, and that the representative’s name, and the names of the key individuals of the representative, are removed from the register referred to in Section 13(3). Any such provider must immediately take steps to ensure that the debarment does not prejudice the interest of clients of the representative, and that any unconcluded business of the representative is properly concluded.

Debarment in terms of the Act means that the provider stops the representative concerned from rendering further financial services and removes his or her name from the register mentioned above.

Implementation of the debarment provisions in terms of Section 14 is obligatory whenever the representative no longer complies with the requirements referred to in Section 13 (2) (a) of the Act.

Section 3 of the FAIS Act states that, subject to the provisions of this Act, any notice given, approval or exemption granted, determination made, requirement or condition determined or imposed, or any other decision taken by the Registrar under an enabling provision of this Act, is valid only if it is reduced to a durable written or printed form or, where communicated electronically, has been correctly transmitted in a legible form.

Appropriate Action by the FSP

The Registrar of Financial Services Providers has deemed it proper that if the representative does not meet the required qualifications or appropriate skills programme as specified in Table E, Part 10 of the Determination of Fit and Proper Requirements for Financial Services Providers, the FSPs may do as follows:

- Debar the representative and request the Registrar to list the latter on the list of debarred persons
- Request a profile change to remove the product/s for which the representative is not qualified for
- Remove the said representative from the register of the particular FSP and subsequently request the Registrar to remove that representative from the central register.

In terms of Condition 1 of the licensing conditions imposed on FSPs, an FSP is required to inform the Registrar within 15 days of any change to its licensing conditions. This means that the FSP is required to inform the Registrar of the failure to meet the qualification requirements by an FSP (sole proprietor) or key individual within 15 days after the due date for meeting the relevant qualification requirements.

It is critical that the FSP ensures that representatives are enabled and supported to achieve the (outstanding) requirements by the relevant dates.

It is therefore imperative that there are adequate processes in place to monitor and manage the representatives’ progress and achievement of the fit and proper requirements.

Checks should be done at regular intervals and the key individual must ensure that there are systems to record progress and achievement of the requirements.

It should be a condition of the employment contracts of representatives that they are compelled to achieve all the fit and proper requirements in a manner and timeframe determined by the FSP and agreed to by the representatives.
FAIS Act – Section 14

14. Debarment of Representatives

(1) An authorised financial services provider must ensure that any representative of the provider who no longer complies with the requirements referred to in Section 13(2)(a) or has contravened or failed to comply with any provision of this Act in a material manner, is prohibited by such provider from rendering any new financial service by withdrawing any authority to act on behalf of the provider, and that the representative's name, and the names of the key individuals of the representative, are removed from the register referred to in Section 13(3):

Provided that any such provider must immediately take steps to ensure that the debarment does not prejudice the interest of clients of the representative, and that any uncompleted business of the representative is properly concluded. For the purposes of the imposition of a prohibition contemplated in Subsection (1), the authorised financial services provider must have regard to information regarding the conduct of the representative as provided by the registrar, the Ombud or any other interested person.

(2) (a) The authorised financial services provider must within a period of 15 days after the removal of the names of a representative and key individuals from the register as contemplated in Subsection (1), inform the registrar in writing thereof and provide the registrar with the reasons for the debarment in such format as the registrar may require.

(b) The registrar may make known any such debarment and the reasons therefor by notice on the official web site or by means of any other appropriate public media.

14A. Debarment by Registrar

(1) The registrar may, subject to Subsection (2), at any time debar a person, including a representative, for a specified period from rendering financial services if satisfied on the basis of available facts and information that the person -

(c) does not meet, or no longer meets, the requirements contemplated in Section 8(1)(a); or

(d) has contravened or failed to comply with any provision of this Act.

(2) The provisions of Section 9(2), regarding a decision to suspend a license, apply with the necessary changes to the debarment of a person contemplated in Subsection (1).

(3) An authorised financial services provider must within a period of five days after being informed by the registrar of the debarment of a representative or key individual, remove the names of that representative and key individuals from the register as contemplated in Section 13(3).

(4) The registrar may make known any such debarment and the reasons thereof, or the lifting thereof, by notice on the official web site or by means of any other appropriate public media.

In certain instances it will be necessary to follow internal disciplinary procedures, for instance where lack of honesty and integrity of the representative is cause for debarment i.e. representative has contravened the Act in a material manner. In such instances, the key individual must ensure that the correct procedures are followed in terms of labour law requirements before debarment is affected.
The FSP may use information regarding the conduct of a representative received from the Ombud for Financial Services Providers (FAIS Ombud), the Registrar and any other source.

It is also important to ensure that the relevant role-players in the business are informed about:

- the reasons why debarment would be considered;
- the process that would be followed in such instances; and
- any recourse a representative may have.

It is the responsibility of the key individual to ensure that there are adequate systems and procedures in place to identify grounds for debarment, follow internal disciplinary procedures if required, and to effect debarment in respect of the representative register.

It may be a condition of service that representatives and key individuals of representatives will be debarred in certain circumstances and representatives should be made aware of the conditions.

Once a representative and the key individual of the representative have been removed from the register, the Registrar must be advised in writing of the removal, within 15 days.

The debarred representatives are then listed on a central register that is maintained by the Registrar. The Registrar may publish the debarment and the reason therefor on the official web site or by means of any other appropriate public media.

8.13 Debarment Process

The debarment process followed within the Registrar’s office can be summarised as follows:

- An acknowledgement of receipt of a case is sent within 14 days of receipt to the compliance officer or to the person that reported the matter. This will include a case number as well as contact details of the person dealing with the case.
- The information is analysed and further information may be required.
- A notice of intention to debar is issued to the person in question. This notice will state the grounds for the intended debarment, the reasons therefore, the intended period of debarment as well as the terms attached to the debarment, including prohibition from furnishing any advice or rendering intermediary services to clients.
- The person to be debarred is issued with the notice in order to afford him a reasonable opportunity (14 days) to respond thereto.

8.14 Timeframes and Processes to notify the Registrar of a Debarment

8.14.1 Debarment by the FAIS Registrar

The FAIS Registrar can also debar a person, including a representative, in terms of Section 14A of the Act.

The Registrar can debar a person (including a representative) from providing financial services for a specific period of time if:

• that person does not meet the fit and proper requirement of honesty and integrity; or

• that person contravened or did not comply with any provision of the Act.

An authorised financial services provider must within a period of five days after being informed by the Registrar of the debarment of a representative or key individual, remove the names of that representative and key individuals from the register. 98

The Registrar may publish the debarment and the reason therefor or the lifting thereof, on the official web site or by means of any other appropriate public media.

Before the Registrar can debar a person, the following must happen:

• The Registrar must inform the person of the grounds for the intention of debarment and must give the person a reasonable opportunity to respond.

• The Registrar must also inform the person of any terms or conditions it wants to attach to the debarment. This may include terms such as a prohibition on the Representative to conclude any new business from the date that the debarment becomes effective. Where the representative has unconcluded business (in the pipeline), the Registrar may take whatever measures it deems appropriate in order to protect the interests of clients as well as the FSP for which the Representative operates. The Registrar may also stipulate terms under which it will lift the debarment.

98 Section 14A (3)

Purpose

Money laundering is one of the biggest challenges facing governments throughout the world today as a result of terrorism and organised crime. Both are real threats to civilisation as we know it. Money laundering has been used by terrorist organisations to fund their activities. The original purely criminal focus of anti-money laundering measures has been broadened in recent years to cover terrorism and organised crime as well.

In South Africa, this led to the implementation of the Prevention of Organised Crime Act (POCA), the Financial Intelligence Centre Act (FICA) and the Protection of Constitutional Democracy Against Terrorism and Related Activities Act, known by its clumsy acronym as POCDATARA.

The purpose of this chapter is to provide you with insight and a good knowledge of the implications of these Acts on your work in the financial services industry. Most importantly, you need to know the requirements that these Acts impose on FSPs and representatives so that you can comply with it on a daily basis. Non-compliance may lead to harsh penalties.

8.1 INTRODUCTION

In this chapter you are going to learn how to comply with the requirements of FICA and other relevant anti-money laundering legislation, as it applies to the FSP and yourself. There are two very important underlying concepts with regard to FICA that you have to understand before you can continue with this chapter. These concepts are money-laundering and unlawful activities. Let’s discover the meaning of these terms.

8.1.1 The concepts of money laundering and unlawful activities

What is a money-laundering activity?

Definition:
A money laundering activity is any activity that has, or is likely to have, the effect of concealing or disguising the nature, source, location, disposition or movement of the proceeds of unlawful activities. By definition, any interest which anyone has in such proceeds as listed above is also guilty of money laundering and includes any activity which constitutes an offence in terms of Section 64 of the Financial Intelligence Centre Act, 38 Of 2001 (FICA) or Section 4, 5 or 6 of the Prevention of Organised Crime Act 1989 (known as POCA).

Money laundering is a three-stage process. The process can be illustrated as follows:

1. The first stage is placement, where the origin of illegal money is usually mixed with the origin of legitimate money. The proceeds of unlawful business are in the form of cash, making it relatively simple to get the illegal money back into the financial system by mixing it with the proceeds of a cash business.

   This “dirty” money is therefore disguised and the illegal funds avoid detection. A further aim is to convert the nature of the profits, usually cash, into some other asset, such as property, or certain financial instruments, such as life assurance investments or travellers’ cheques.

   Example – Mr Naidoo

   Mr. Naidoo has illegitimate funds offshore. He transfers this money to South Africa where he purchases a property. (Disguising the illegal money)

2. In the second stage, money launderers try to achieve four main objectives:
   - Disguise the ownership;
   - Disguise the origin;
   - Disguise the audit trail; and
   - Disguise the profit and source of crime.

   This is achieved by conducting layers of complicated financial transactions, usually using electronic transactions. Transactions include dealing with shares, commodity and futures brokers.
Example – Mr Naidoo

A couple of months later he registers a bond over the property and withdraws the maximum capital amount from the bond. He is now able to show a legitimate source of funds, namely the bond registered on his property.

3. The third stage consists of a series of complex transactions involving a number of legal entities in many jurisdictions, designed to conceal the true source of the funds. By this stage, the money already appears "legal".

More examples of money-laundering:

1. Mr Johnson has received the proceeds of an illegal activity. In order to legitimise the money, he invests in a single-premium endowment policy with life insurer A. Four months later he surrenders the policy and receives the full surrender value. He is now able to show a legitimate source of the funds.
2. Mrs Botha has received the cash proceeds of an illegal activity. She pays cash for a brand-new Mercedes Benz. Two months later she sells the car and receives the proceeds of the sale in her bank account. She is now able to show a legitimate source to the bank, namely the sale of her car.

Money laundering has a negative effect on legitimate business and economic development and is often strongest in the weakest economies.

What are unlawful activities?

Any conduct that constitutes a crime or which contravenes any law, whether the conduct occurred before or after the commencement of the South African legislation, or in SA or elsewhere constitutes unlawful activity.

Examples:

Tax evasion, drug trafficking, theft, robbery, fraud, abduction, extortion.

Proceeds of unlawful activities are defined as any property or service, advantage, benefit or reward which was derived, received or retained, directly or indirectly, in South Africa or elsewhere, at any time, before or after the commencement of the Act from unlawful activities.

8.2 BACKGROUND TO ANTI-MONEY LAUNDERING LEGISLATION

Money laundering is often not included in official economic statistics, making it difficult to judge its precise extent. The fact that it is considered to be the third biggest industry in the world gives one an understanding of the extent of the problem.

Governments of the world have therefore united in the fight against these scourges with an international agreement setting up the Financial Action Task Force ("FATF").

FATF was founded in 1989 by the countries with the world’s largest economies, known as the G7 countries (there were originally seven) to combat money laundering. Its activities now cover combating money laundering for criminal and terrorist purposes. Today FATF members represent most countries around the world and generally these members have money-laundering legislation in place in their countries, or are in the process of introducing it or refining it.

FATF has issued 40 recommendations for action against money laundering that form the basis for legislation in many countries. These recommendations are constantly being reviewed and updated, as is legislation worldwide to keep it on track.

International pressure on countries to adopt measures that met with FATF requirements led to the Financial Intelligence Centre Act 2001 (FICA). FICA added to POCA and repealed certain parts of POCA, meaning the two Acts have to be read in conjunction with each other. POCDATARA was added in 2004.

8.3 THE MONEY-LAUNDERING LEGISLATION

The first thing to understand about money laundering legislation is that it does not act upon the crime itself that has brought about illegal money, for example drug dealing. It deals with the proceeds of that crime.
The three main laws dealing with money laundering in South Africa, in chronological order, are the Prevention of Organised Crime Act 1989, 121 of 1998, (POCA), the Financial Intelligence Centre Act, 38 of 2001 (FICA), and the Protection of Constitutional Democracy Against Terrorism and Related Activities Act, 2004 (POCDATARA).

Let’s investigate what each of these Acts govern and require.

8.3.1 The Prevention of Organised Crime Act (POCA)

The purpose of POCA is to introduce measures to combat organised crime, money laundering and criminal gang activities.

The 1998 Prevention of Organised Crime Act (POCA) defines offences relating to proceeds of unlawful activities that are punishable. This includes money laundering, assisting another to benefit from the proceeds of unlawful activities and the acquisition, possession or use of proceeds of unlawful activities. Provision is also made for the confiscation and forfeiture of assets.

Section 4 of the Prevention of Organised Crime Act (POCA) makes it an offence for a person to knowingly launder the proceeds of unlawful activities.

Section 5 makes it an offence for a person knowingly to assist another person to benefit from the proceeds of unlawful activities.

Section 6 makes it an offence to acquire, use or possess property that one knows are the proceeds of unlawful activities.

Penalties can be as stiff as a maximum fine of R100 million or imprisonment for 30 years.

8.3.2 The Financial Intelligence Centre Act (FICA)

FICA’s purpose is to combat money laundering activities and the financing of terrorist and related activities.

The 2001 FICA Act creates the requirements to ensure that money laundering is controlled. It is aimed at identifying suspicious transactions so that the people who engage in money laundering activities can be charged under POCA.

Suspicious transactions must be reported under FICA, which now provides the infrastructure to curb money-laundering activities.
The Act also requires “accountable institutions” that could serve as a conduit for “dirty money” to comply with certain legal duties relating to combating money laundering.

Accountable Institutions

The main purpose of FICA is requiring a long list of accountable institutions (defined in the Act) to follow certain procedures and report suspicious activities or unusual transactions relating to combating money laundering.

The essential characteristic of an accountable institution is its possible use for money laundering. Accountable institutions themselves are not necessarily statutory bodies, but include people and institutions that can be used for money-laundering purposes.

The list of accountable institutions defined in FICA includes, amongst others, banks, estate agents, attorneys, trust companies, collective investment schemes and long-term insurance companies (including an insurance broker and a representative of an insurer).

FICA provides for a Financial Intelligence Centre (FIC) (lending its name to the Act) and a Money laundering Advisory Council to help combat money laundering.

Financial Intelligence Centre

The principal objective of the FIC is to assist in the identification of the proceeds of unlawful activities and the combating of money laundering activities. All accountable institutions are required by the Act to report all information regarding money-laundering activities to the FIC, where it is handed over to the appropriate authorities for further recourse.

Other objectives of the Centre include:

- To make information collected by it available to investigating authorities, the intelligence services and the South African Revenue Services to facilitate the administration and enforcement of the laws of the Republic.
- To exchange information with similar bodies in other countries regarding money-laundering activities and similar offences.
Money Laundering Advisory Council

Section 17 of FICA establishes the Money-laundering Advisory Council, an advisory body on combating money laundering. It advises the Minister of Finance on policies and best practices to combat money laundering and to identify the proceeds of unlawful activities. It also acts as a forum in which associations representing categories of accountable institutions, organs of State and supervisory bodies that report to the Financial Intelligence Centre can consult one another. The Council should also advise the Financial Intelligence Centre on the performance of its functions.

In simple terms, FICA requires the creation of a paper trail, with detailed records of the origins of money placed with an accountable institution and the people involved. Internationally, this paper trail makes it more difficult to launder money.

8.3.3 The Protection of Constitutional Democracy Against Terrorism and Related Activities Act (PODATARA)

Money laundering has also been used by terrorist organisations to fund their activities. The original purely criminal focus of anti-money laundering measures has been broadened in recent years to cover this as well. In South Africa, this led to the 2004 Protection of Constitutional Democracy Against Terrorism and Related Activities, known by its clumsy acronym as PODATARA.

It introduced a new Section 28A of FICA which requires the reporting of any property associated with terrorist and related activity to the Financial Intelligence Centre.

The aim of PODATARA is therefore to introduce an obligation to report certain offences linked to terrorist activities, including terrorist financing.

8.3.4 What is the relationship between POCA and FICA?

FICA added to POCA and repealed certain parts of POCA. This means that the two Acts have to be read in conjunction with each other. The relationship between FICA and POCA can best be described by looking at an example:
Example:

Mr du Toit is involved in perlemoen smuggling. He has an amount of cash that he needs to legitimise. He contacts his financial adviser, Mr Samuels, to investigate the possibilities of investing in a single premium endowment policy. While talking to Mr Samuels, he inquires about the possible surrender of such a policy after a number of months.

Mr Samuels is suspicious, partly because he knows that Mr du Toit often visits Gansbaai and the greater Hermanus area over weekends for “business” – which could be illegal perlemoen smuggling. However, he decides that he values Mr du Toit’s business and that he will therefore not report the transaction.

If caught, Mr du Toit will be guilty under POCA, Section 4, as he knowingly laundered the proceeds of unlawful activities. Mr Samuels, on the other hand, will be guilty under FICA, Section 29, as he did not report a suspicious transaction.

Example:

Mr Coetzee is a licensed financial services provider and he is also a silent partner in a local night club. His partner in this business, Mr Daniels, has been earning extra money in drug trafficking in the club. He always uses the proceeds of these activities to purchase insurance policies with Mr Coetzee, who then earns commission on the large cash transactions. Mr Coetzee is well aware of the origins of the money invested, but since he is earning a good living off this scheme, he has no intention of ever reporting any of these deals.

If caught, both Mr Coetzee and Mr Daniels will be charged under POCA. Mr Daniels has knowingly laundered the proceeds of unlawful activities. Mr Coetzee has contravened the same section of POCA in that he proceeded with selling a client an insurance policy with the knowledge that the money for such policy has been derived from the proceeds of a crime. Mr Daniels has also contravened the provisions of FICA, since he did not report his suspicions.
8.4 THE IMPACT OF FICA ON FSPs

The impact of FICA on financial services providers and representatives (in their role as accountable institutions) is determined by the additional duties that it imposes on them. The main duties of accountable institutions, including those that are FSPs and representatives, as described in FICA, include:

- Identifying and verifying clients
- Reporting suspicious transactions
- Keeping records
- Training staff
- Reporting cash transactions
- Formulating and implementing internal rules

Let's look at each of these duties in depth so that you can understand what FSPs and representatives have to do to be compliant with this legislation.

8.4.1 The duties of an FSP relating to its employees in terms of FICA

The two duties that FICA imposes on an FSP (as an accountable institution) relating to its employees are the training of staff and the formulation and implementation of internal rules. Let's investigate how these duties impact on the FSP.

1. Training staff
   FSPs have to ensure that staff are suitably trained. In addition, they have to put in place a reporting of suspicious transactions procedure. Harsh penalties are set out, either for the individual who does not comply or for the organisation that does not comply, namely maximum imprisonment for a period not exceeding 15 years or a fine not exceeding R10 000 000.

2. Formulating and implementing internal rules
   The Act requires that the FSP formulate and implement internal rules relating to:
   - The identification and verification of a person’s identity
   - The record-keeping requirements prescribed in the Act
   - Steps to be taken to decide whether a transaction is reportable or not.
These internal rules must be made available to all employees and the FIC.

In addition to the above, an FSP (as an accountable institution) also needs to be aware of the obligations created in the following:

- The common law
- Industry-specific and sector-specific legislation
- The 40 FATF recommendations as changed from time to time
- International best practices within the industry.

8.4.2 The duty of the identification and verification of clients

Some of the duties listed that FICA imposes on FSPs also become your duties when you work for the FSP as a representative.

Getting to know the client is an essential element in combating money laundering. This is expressed simply and effectively as “know your client” (KYC).

The term “client” can be regarded as anyone who uses the services of an accountable institution. Client categories include natural persons, companies, close corporations, trusts, partnerships and the like.

An FSP or its representatives may not establish a business relationship or conclude a single transaction with a client unless the necessary steps have been taken to identify and verify the identity of the client.

The accountable institution has to obtain the client’s full names, date of birth, ID number, income tax number (where applicable) and address. If the client is represented by another person, the identity of the other person as well as the authority of that person to act on behalf of the client need to be established.

It is important to note that the Act requires an accountable institution to identify and verify clients not only when a single transaction is about to be concluded, but also when the accountable institution and the client intend to establish an ongoing business relationship.

Business relationship means an arrangement between a client and an accountable institution for the purpose of concluding transactions on a regular basis. If the accountable institution established a business relationship before the commencement of FICA, it has to take steps to verify and identify clients before a new transaction is entered into in terms of the relationship.
There are, therefore, guidance notes as to what constitutes knowledge of your client – for example: copy of the ID book, copy of a utility bill to prove residential address, a copy of tax form showing tax registration number, copy of payslip, which gives you an idea of how onerous the legislation is and how serious South Africa is about money laundering.

Documentation used for identification and verification of clients differs slightly for natural persons and legal entities. A further distinction is also made between South African citizens, residents and legal entities (such as companies, trusts and close corporations) on the one hand, and foreign nationals and legal entities on the other.

Documents required for identification and verification:

- For a natural person (RSA citizen), a copy of the ID document will serve as verification of his identity. Residential address verification can be obtained from a utility bill, a bank statement from another bank reflecting the name and address, a municipal rates and taxes invoice, a telephone or cellphone account reflecting the name and residential address of the person, etc.

- A foreign national may be identified from an identity document or passport, in addition to a letter of confirmation from a person in authority (for example from the relevant embassy) which confirms authenticity of that person’s identity document.

- For a private company the following may be used: Registered name and registration number, address, registered trade name and address, documentation to verify tax and VAT number (any SARS document), personal details of manager/CEO or both, details of shareholders holding 25% or more voting rights, mandate authorising person acting on behalf of company in entering into business relationships, most recent version of certificate of incorporation (CM1), notice of registration of office and postal address (CM22).

- For a company listed on the JSE, only a registration number and the name of the company are required.

- For a close corporation the following may be required: Registered name and registration number, address, registered trade name and address, documentation to verify tax and VAT number, most recent version of the founding statement (CK1), notice of registration of office and postal address (CM22), the member’s agreement, a resolution authorising the person to act, personal details of each member of the CC.
For a trust the following are required: The identifying name and number of the trust, the address of the Master where it is registered, the trust deed or other founding document, letter of authority from the Master of the High Court in SA, the income tax registration number, trustees’ resolution authorising person to act, personal details of each trustee, each beneficiary referred to by name in the trust deed, the founder and the person authorised to act.

Exemptions

FICA provides for certain exemptions in terms of circumstances where accountable institutions do not have to identify and verify clients.

There are general exemptions that apply to certain accountable institutions, where a business relationship/single transaction is established or concluded with a second accountable institution after the primary institution has identified and verified the client.

There are also specific exemptions:

- Any long-term insurance policy which provides benefits only upon the death, disability, sickness or injury of the life insured

  Example:

  Financial adviser K does not have to verify and identify his client when he sells a pure life-cover policy to the client.

- Any long-term insurance policy, unit trust or linked product in respect of which recurring premiums/contributions are paid, which will amount to an annual total not exceeding R25 000, subject to the condition that the client will have to be identified and verified if:
  - The recurring premium is increased so that the R25 000 p.a. is exceeded
  - The policy/investment is surrendered/liquidated within three years
  - A loan is granted against the policy within three years.
Example:

Client X is about to invest R300 per month in a recurring premium endowment policy. His financial adviser does not have to follow the rules of identification and verification.

- Any long-term insurance policy, unit trust or linked product in respect of which a single premium/contribution not exceeding R50 000 is payable, subject to the condition that the client will have to be identified and verified if:
  - The policy/investment is surrendered/liquidated within 3 years after its commencement
  - A loan is granted against the security of such a policy within 3 years after its commencement.

Example:

Client Y invests R50 000 in a single-premium sinking fund with Company X. The financial adviser will have to identify and verify the client in this scenario, as the single premium is more than R50 000.

- Any other long-term policy where the surrender value of the policy does not exceed 20% of the value of the premiums paid in respect of the policy within the first 3 years of the policy.

8.4.3 The recording function

FICA requires the following records to be kept:

- The identity of the client
- The identity and authority of a person acting on behalf of a client
- The identity and authority of a client acting on behalf of another person
- The manner in which the identity was established
- The nature of the business relationship or transaction
- The name of the person who obtained the information on behalf of the accountable institution
- Documents used to identify and verify the client or the other person.

The records mentioned above may be kept in electronic form. Records which relate to the establishment of a business relationship should be kept for five years from the date on which the business relationship is terminated. Records which relate to transactions should be kept for at least five years from conclusion of the transaction.

FICA also allows for third parties to keep records on behalf of the accountable institution, provided that the accountable institution has free and easy access to the records. Should the third party fail to keep proper records, the accountable institution is liable for that failure. If an accountable institution decides to make use of a third party to keep records, the particulars of such third party needs to be provided to the Financial Intelligence Centre.

Accessibility of Information

An authorised representative of the Financial Intelligence Centre has access to records kept by an accountable institution during ordinary working hours and may examine, make extracts or make copies of such records. Where such records are not available to the general public, a warrant issued by a judge or magistrate of the region in which the accountable institution conducts business is required by the representative of the FIC. Such a warrant will only be issued if there are reasonable grounds to believe that the records will assist in identifying the proceeds of unlawful activities. An accountable institution which fails to provide this assistance, is guilty of an offence, punishable with imprisonment for a period not exceeding 15 years, or a fine not exceeding R10 million.

Example:

Let’s assume that the authorities have been investigating client X in terms of unlawful activities. The Financial Intelligence Centre can obtain a warrant to access records kept by an accountable institution such as a long-term insurer, provided that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the records will assist in identifying the proceeds of unlawful activities. The insurer will be obliged to provide all necessary assistance to FIC in this process.

8.4.4 The duty to report cash and suspicious transactions

A person liaising with a client on behalf of the business is required to report any suspicion on his part of receiving proceeds of unlawful activities from a client. A person who has reported a suspicious transaction may not inform the client that such a report has been made (so-called “tipping off”). In practice, years from the date on which the business relationship is terminated. Records which relate to transactions should be kept for at least five years from conclusion of the transaction.

FICA also allows for third parties to keep records on behalf of the accountable institution, provided that the accountable institution has free and easy access to the records. Should the third party fail to keep proper records, the accountable institution is liable for that failure. If an accountable institution decides to make use of a third party to keep records, the particulars of such third party needs to be provided to the Financial Intelligence Centre.

Accessibility of information

An authorised representative of the Financial Intelligence Centre has access to records kept by an accountable institution during ordinary working hours and may examine, make extracts or make copies of such records. Where such records are not available to the general public, a warrant issued by a judge or magistrate of the region in which the accountable institution conducts business is required by the representative of the FIC. Such a warrant will only be issued if there are reasonable grounds to believe that the records will assist in identifying the proceeds of unlawful activities. An accountable institution which fails to provide this assistance, is guilty of an offence, punishable with imprisonment for a period not exceeding 15 years, or a fine not exceeding R10 million.

Example:

Let’s assume that the authorities have been investigating client X in terms of unlawful activities. The Financial Intelligence Centre can obtain a warrant to access records kept by an accountable institution such as a long-term insurer, provided that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the records will assist in identifying the proceeds of unlawful activities. The insurer will be obliged to provide all necessary assistance to FIC in this process.

8.4.4 The duty to report cash and suspicious transactions

A person liaising with a client on behalf of the business is required to report any suspicion on his part of receiving proceeds of unlawful activities from a client. A person who has reported a suspicious transaction may not inform the client that such a report has been made (so-called “tipping off”). In practice, this process is mostly handled by the money-laundering reporting officer of an institution.

The role of the money laundering officer

The employees of the institution will report suspicious or unusual transactions to the Money Laundering Reporting Officer in that institution. The procedure for making the report must be laid down in the internal rules that the institution has put in place to ensure compliance with FICA.

The Reporting Officer will investigate the transaction to determine whether in fact it was suspicious and/or unusual. If so, the Money Laundering Reporting Officer must report the transaction to the Financial Intelligence Centre within 15 working days of learning of it or from when the suspicion arose. The FIC may ask for additional information on the matter.

Reporting cash and suspicious transactions

The Act requires accountable institutions to report cash transactions above a prescribed limit. This section is, however, not operational yet and the limits have not been prescribed (for more info see www.fic.gov.za). This reporting duty is applicable where the accountable institution receives the cash amount from a client, as well as where the accountable institution pays a cash amount above the prescribed limit to the client.

Example:

Client Y wants to deposit R100 000 cash at Bank A. In terms of FICA, Bank A, as an accountable institution, is obliged to report the transaction to the Financial Intelligence Centre. The cashier will report it to Bank A’s reporting officer/department, who in turn will report it to the Financial Intelligence Centre.

Possible indicators of a suspicious transaction

The following are examples of possible suspicious or unusual transactions – they may be perfectly legitimate, but they are often used to cover money laundering:
• Payments to be made to third parties
• Transfer of funds to other product providers
• Constant movement of money among different business entities
• Transactions that have no apparent business purpose
• Transactions involving large cash amounts
• Surrendering of policies and second-hand (traded) policies shortly after they have been purchased
• Loans against new-generation products (loans can then be repaid with “dirty” money in order to “clean” the money)

Suspicious transaction may not always be easy to spot. The Financial Intelligence Centre (www.fic.gov.za) has published guidelines to assist banks with the verification and identification process. In this document, the following are some of the high risk factors listed in terms of suspicious clients:

• A client appears to have bank accounts with several banks in the area
• A client makes cash deposits to a general account of a foreign correspondent bank
• A client wishes to have credit and debit cards sent to destinations other than his address
• A client has numerous accounts and makes or receives cash deposits in each of them amounting to a large aggregated amount
• A client frequently exchanges currencies
• A client wishes to have unusual access to safe-deposit facilities
• A client’s account shows virtually no normal business-related activities, but is used to receive or disburse large sums
• A client has accounts that have a large volume of deposits in bank cheques, postal orders or electronic funds transfers
• A client is reluctant to provide complete information regarding these activities
• A client’s financial statements differ noticeably from those of similar businesses
• A client makes a large volume of cash deposits from a business that is not normally cash-intensive

The following case studies were taken from the Financial Action Task Force reports on money laundering typologies (www.fatf-gafi.org).
Case Study 1

A company director from Company W, Mr H, set up a money laundering scheme involving two companies, each one established under two different legal systems. Both of the entities were to provide financial services and providing financial guarantees for which he would act as director.

These companies wired the sum of $1.1 million to the accounts of Mr H in country S. It is likely that the funds originated in some sort of criminal activity and had already been introduced in some way into the financial system. Mr H. also received transfers from country C.

Funds were transferred from one account to another (several types of accounts were involved, including both current and savings accounts). Through one of these transfers, the funds were transferred to country U from a current account in order to make payments on life insurance policies. The investment in these policies was the main mechanism in the scheme of laundering the funds. The premiums paid for the life insurance policies in country U amounted to some $1.2 million and represented the last step in the laundering operation.

Case Study 2

A person (later arrested for drug trafficking) made a financial investment (life insurance) of R250 000 through an insurance broker. He acted as follows: he contacted the broker and delivered an amount of R250 000 in three cash instalments. The insurance broker did not report the delivery of that amount and deposited the three instalments in the bank. These actions raised no suspicion at the bank, since the broker was known to them as being connected to the insurance branch. The broker delivered, afterwards, to the insurance company responsible for making the investment, three cheques from a bank account under his name, totalling R250 000, thus avoiding raising suspicion with the insurance company.

In this case, it is clear that the insurance broker should have reported the transaction as suspicious, due to the fact that the amount was delivered in cash. Furthermore, once the section on reporting cash transactions became effective (see below), the bank employee would also have to report the transaction if it was in excess of the prescribed cash limit.
8.5 THE CONSEQUENCES OF NON-COMPLIANCE

In terms of FICA, the following (amongst others) are declared to be an offence, punishable by a maximum of 15 years' imprisonment, or a maximum fine of R10 million:

- Failure to identify persons
- Failure to keep records
- Destroying or tampering with records
- Failure to give assistance to the FIC
- Failure to report cash transactions as prescribed (when operational)
- Failure to report suspicious or unusual transactions
- Failure to train staff or to appoint a compliance officer, or to implement internal rules

These offences affect different parties. Some are committed by an accountable institution (e.g. failure to keep records); others are committed by any other person (e.g. tampering with records).
Summary

The activity of money laundering is defined as an activity which has, or is likely to have, the effect of concealing or disguising the nature, source, location, disposition or movement of the proceeds of unlawful activities. This includes any interest accrued to these amounts which anyone has in such proceeds and includes any activity which constitutes an offence in terms of Section 64 of this Act or Section 4, 5 or 6 of the Prevention of Organised Crime Act.

The Financial Intelligence Centre Act, 38 of 2001 is aimed at establishing a Financial Intelligence Centre and a Money Laundering Advisory Council in order to combat money-laundering activities. Further, the Act is used to impose certain duties on accountable institutions and other persons who might be used for money laundering purposes.

FICA determines that accountable institutions need to:

- Identify and verify their clients
- Report suspicious transactions
- Keep records
- Train staff and put reporting procedures in place
- Report cash transactions over a prescribed limit

The original purely criminal focus of anti-money laundering measures has been broadened in recent years to cover money laundering used by terrorist organisations to fund their activities. In South Africa, this led to the 2004 Protection of Constitutional Democracy Against Terrorism and Related Activities Act (POCDATARA). This Act requires the reporting to the Financial Intelligence Centre of any property associated with terrorist and related activity.

The introduction of these Acts has gone a long way in aligning South African with the rest of the international community in the fight against money-laundering.
